The Destruction of Cultural Heritage in Iraq Peter G. Stone,Joanne Farchakh Bajjaly,2008 Discussion of the issues surrounding the destruction of cultural property in times of conflict has become a key issue for debate around the world This book provides an historical statement as of 1st March 2006 concerning the destruction of the cultural heritage in

Iraq In a series of chapters it outlines the personal stories of a number of individuals who were and in most cases continue to be involved These individuals are involved at all levels and come from various points along the political spectrum giving a rounded and balanced perspective so easily lost in single authored reports It also provides the first views written by Iraqis on the situation of archaeology in Iraq under Saddam and an overview and contextualisation of the issues surrounding the looting theft and destruction of the archaeological sites the Iraqi National museum and the libraries in Baghdad since the war was launched in 2003 Beyond this it examines our attitudes towards the preservation of cultural and heritage resources and in particular the growing political awareness of their importance Although related to a single conflict taking place at a specific time in history the relevance of this work goes far beyond these self imposed boundaries PETER STONE is Professor of Heritage Studies and Head of School of Arts and Cultures at Newcastle University JOANNE FARCHAKH BAJJALY is a Lebanese archaeologist and Middle East correspondent for the French magazine Arch ologia Management Planning for Cultural Heritage Ken Taylor, Giulio Verdini, 2021-12-30 Management Planning for Cultural Heritage challenges traditional perceptions of and about the heritage planning process while also presenting a comprehensive analysis of the ever widening field of Cultural Heritage Conservation Drawing on the authors experience in teaching and involvement in international practice the book examines the changes that are taking place in modes of thinking about heritage as part of increasingly complex urban transformations and considers how these must engage with and inform professional practice The book also acknowledges that international best practice has developed a great deal over the last 40 years and needs to be adapted applied and refined through the recognition and application of regional values tangible and intangible based on cultural attitudes and practices Emphasising the critical role of heritage planning and management in guiding change Taylor and Verdini argue that this is especially critical if we are to safeguard values identity and significance In this sense heritage is understood not only as a technical process but also as a social construct The book therefore promotes a people centred approach to cultural heritage management Management Planning for Cultural Heritage will be of interest to students scholars and practitioners working in heritage studies and conservation While the text has professional application it also sets out to present a sound theoretical foundation relevant to the body of knowledge associated with management of cultural heritage places
