The Best American Short Plays 1991-1992 Howard Stein,Glenn Young,1992 A collection of one act plays from American playwrights which cover such themes as love fantasy politics grief marriage crime and deceit Taiwan Tattoo Brian M. Day,2015-12-01 Jack is the kind of guy who drifts through life never bothering to make an effort until the day his brother in law fires him from a job he never wanted in the first place When his local pizza deliveryman suggests that he should get a job teaching English in Taiwan Jack drifts into that occupation with the same languor that has characterized every other action in his life But Taiwan has other plans for this Canadian slacker who discovers that if he wants to survive in his new environment effort will definitely need to be part of the package Slowly his flat lackluster existence begins to take on new dimensions as Jack learns to function in a puzzling and challenging new world A comic satire laced with black humor Taiwan Tattoo is a scathing look at young Westerners who come to teach in Asia Mixing an inarticulate form of existential angst with the uncaring ignorance of Generation X in this coming of age novel Brian Day has created an anti hero who against his will slowly becomes aware of the rest of the world as he flounders far away from any of his customary safety nets

With deceptive simplicity and a protagonist who can barely find his way into a classroom let alone teach in one Taiwan Tatoo skillfully lampoons the overseas TOEFL industry in a way that is as hilarious as it is devastating Telephone Calls K.K. Luke, Theodossia-Soula Pavlidou, 2002-12-20 Telephone conversation is one of the most common forms of communication in contemporary society For the first time in human history some people are spending as much time if not more talking on the telephone as they are on face to face conversations The aims of this book are to bring together in one volume research on telephone conversations in different languages to compare and contrast people s methods of handling telephone conversational tasks in different communities and to explore the relationship between telephone conversational practice and cultural settings The papers are based on first hand naturally occurring data obtained from a variety of languages including Chinese Dutch English French German Greek Japanese Korean and Persian Theoretical and methodological issues pertaining to research on telephone conversations are discussed
