Finding Time For Fathering:

Finding Time for Fathering Mitch Golant, Susan K. Golant, 1992 Today fatherhood represents a struggle between the traditional role of provider career oriented individual and that of a more fully involved parent Drawing on the most current research and Mitch Golant's own successful workshops this supportive guide teaches men to integrate every aspect of their lives into a single satisfying whole Fathering Alistair Thomson, 2025-08-13 The 21st century father is expected to be actively engaged in the everyday care of his children as epitomised by the celebrated dad of children's cartoon Bluey the Blue Heeler Bandit Fathering An Australian History explores why men often struggle to meet social and cultural expectations The authors groundbreaking research reveals the forces that have shaped Australian family life and fathering since the early twentieth century and how Australian fathers have managed the evolving role and its responsibilities Focusing on lived experience and drawing upon a century of personal accounts Fathering shows how fathers have participated in raising their children as the world changed their family roles and the relationships they form with their children It reveals how the experience of being a father is as much shaped by social class and material wellbeing as it is by race and ethnicity geography and sexuality and by family legacy and personal character The first comprehensive history of Australian fathering Fathering transforms our understanding of men's experience of parenthood showing how fathers from diverse backgrounds including migrant and Indigenous dads have negotiated their role in changing circumstances Looking Forward Through the Lifespan: Developmental Psychology Candida C Peterson, 2013-12-17 When a local context really makes the difference The new edition of this original Australian text continues to offer the most balanced coverage of theory and research for Australian students and educators and appeals to students from many backgrounds It covers the domains of development including neurological cognitive social physical and personality The text is organised chronologically by chapter Within each chapter content is organised topically This structure allows for a degree of flexibility and lecturers can choose the way they wish to approach the content whether it is topically or chronologically Involved Fathering and Men's Adult Development Rob Palkovitz, 2014-04-08 Involved Fathering and Men's Adult Development is an interdisciplinary book that synthesizes theoretical empirical and anecdotal writings from different fields and provides an analysis of extensive interviews with 40 fathers Along with the exploration of the distinct contribution that fathers make to their children's development the author pursues the parallel theme of the effect this involvement has on the fathers own development in adulthood This book will provide its readers with a realistic and useful beginning point to bring a synthesis of developmental theories family studies perspectives and men's insights about fathering that will enhance our academic understanding of fathering and adult development This book can also spark reflective and practical application for fathers and families whether readers are academicians practitioners policymakers or fathers in the trenches Masculinities in Contemporary American Culture Thomas Keith, 2017-01-12 Masculinities in Contemporary American Culture offers readers a multidisciplinary intersectional overview of masculinity studies that includes both theoretical and applied lenses Keith combines current research with historical perspectives to demonstrate the contexts in which masculine identities have come evolved With an emphasis on popular culture particularly film TV video games and music this text invites students to examine their gendered sensibilities and discuss the ways in which different forms of media appeal to toxic masculinity

Situated Fathering William Marsiglio, Kevin Roy, Greer Litton Fox, 2005-07-28 When men act as parents they do so in diverse physical and social spaces imbued with symbolic meaning They father in the military overseas on the farm in dilapidated inner cities immersed in ethnic neighborhoods navigating idealized places of leisure where families go as stepfathers in spaces where physical dimensions and family meanings intersect as nonresident fathers managing less than ideal conditions rolling across the interstate as long haul truckers playing catch alongside the house managing precious family time in prison work release programs as participants in community fatherhood initiatives etc Until now family scholars had not explicitly theorized and focused on how physical space shapes fathers lives A distinct volume of theoretical and empirical research Situated Fathering addresses this oversight by proposing a new framework for studying how various contingencies of physical space in conjunction with social symbolic issues affect men s identities as fathers and their involvement with children Consistent with public interest in men s efforts to be there as providers and caregivers this book explores issues associated with the barriers and supports to involvement that are part of the physical and social environment Written largely for family scholars and students it emphasizes a future oriented perspective by outlining directions for theoretically guided research in specific often gendered fathering sites

Making Fathers Pay David L. Chambers, 1979-09 A couple with children divorce A court orders the father to pay child support but the father fails to pay This pattern repeats itself thousands of times every year in nearly every American state Making Fathers Pay is David L Chambers's study of the child support collection process in Michigan the state most successful in inducing fathers to pay He begins by reporting the perilous financial problems of divorced mothers with children problems faced even by mothers who work full time and receive child support The study then examines the characteristics of fathers who do and do not pay support and the characteristics of collections systems that work Chambers's findings are based largely on records of fathers support payments in twenty eight Michigan counties some of which jail hundreds of men for nonpayment every year Chambers finds that in places well organized to collect support jailing nonpayers seems to produce higher payments from men jailed and from men not jailed but only at a high social cost He also raises grave doubts about the fairness of the judicial process that leads to jail While Chambers's total sample includes 12 000 men he interweaves through his text moving interviews with members of one family caught in the painful predicaments that men women and children face upon separation To increase support for children at lower social costs Chambers advocates a
