A Companion to the American Short Story Alfred Bendixen, James

Nagel, 2020-08-24 A COMPANION TO THE AMERICAN SHORT STORY A Companion to the American Short Story traces the development of this versatile literary genre over the past two centuries Written by leading critics in the field and edited by two major scholars it explores a wide range of writers from Edgar Allen Poe and Edith Wharton at the end of the nineteenth century to important modern writers such as Ernest Hemingway William Faulkner F Scott Fitzgerald and Richard Wright Contributions with a broader focus address groups of multiethnic Asian and Jewish writers Each chapter places the short story into context focusing on the interaction of cultural forces and aesthetic principles The Companion takes account of cutting edge approaches to literary studies and contributes to the ongoing redefinition of the American canon embracing genres such as ghost and detective fiction cycles of interrelated short fiction and comic social and political stories The volume also reflects the diverse communities that have adopted this literary form and made it their own featuring entries on a variety of feminist and multicultural traditions This volume presents an important new consideration of the role of the short story in the literary history of American literature Get Real! Fighting the Mythic Woman Finding Your Authentic Self

Ananya S. Rajan, 2010-08-13 Get Real is a book for all women from all walks of life Its basic premise is that women are more than just the roles they play However the myths and messages passed on to us by our families the institutions we are involved in and society often restrict us from thinking for ourselves finding out who we are and in turn living a more fulfilling life By maintaining certain standards for women society continues to promote the perfect woman otherwise known as the Mythic Woman and unknowingly we follow the Mythic Woman pattern because we know nothing else This book offers a new way to look at the lives we live and the messages we follow It also provides insightful exercises to help women start their journey toward discovering their authentic self Female Voices from an Ewe Dance-drumming Community in Ghana

James Burns, 2017-07-05 Ewe dance drumming has been extensively studied throughout the history of ethnomusicology but up to now there has not been a single study that addresses Ewe female musicians James Burns redresses this deficiency through a detailed ethnography of a group of female musicians from the Dzignbordi community dance drumming club from the rural town of Dzodze located in South Eastern Ghana Dzignbordi was specifically chosen because of the author's long association with the group members and because it is part of a genre known as adekede or female songs of redress where women musicians critique gender relations in society Burns uses audio and video interviews recordings of rehearsals and performances and detailed collaborative analyses of song texts dance routines and performance practice to address important methodological shifts in ethnomusicology that outline a more humanistic perspective of music cultures This perspective encompasses the inter linkages between history social processes and individual creative artists The voices of Dzignbordi women provide us not only with a more complete picture of Ewe music making they further allow us to better understand the relationship between culture social life and individual creativity The book will therefore appeal to those
