Reconciling Science and Religion Peter J. Bowler, 2014-04 Although much has been written about the vigorous debates over science and religion in the Victorian era little attention has been paid to their continuing importance in early twentieth century Britain. Reconciling Science and Religion provides a comprehensive survey of the interplay between British science and religion from the late nineteenth century to World War II. Peter J. Bowler argues that unlike the United States where a strong fundamentalist opposition to evolutionism developed in the 1920s most famously expressed in the Scopes monkey trial of 1925 in Britain there was a concerted effort to reconcile science and religion. Intellectually conservative scientists championed the reconciliation and were supported by liberal theologians in the Free Churches and the Church of England especially the Anglican Modernists. Popular writers such as Julian Huxley and George Bernard Shaw sought to create a non-Christian religion similar in some respects to the Modernist position. Younger scientists and secularists including Rationalists such as H. G. Wells and the Marxists tended to oppose these efforts as did conservative Christians who saw the liberal position as a betrayal of the true spirit of their religion. With the increased social tensions of the 1930s as the churches moved toward a neo-orthodoxy unfriendly to natural theology and biologists adopted the Modern Synthesis of genetics and evolutionary theory the proposed reconciliation fell apart. Because the tensions between science and religion and efforts at reconciling the two are still very much with us today Bowler's book will be important for everyone interested in these issues.

Bishops, Wives and Children Douglas J. Davies, Mathew Guest, 2016-04-15 Christianity as a cultural force whether rising or falling has seldom been analysed through the actual processes by which tradition is transmitted modified embraced or rejected. This book achieves that end through a study of bishops of the Church of England their wives and their children to show how values fostered in the vicarage and palace shape family work and civic life in a supposedly secular age. Davies and Guest integrate for the first time sociological concepts of spiritual capital with anthropological ideas of gift theory and alongside theological themes use these to illuminate how the religious professional functions in mediating tradition and fostering change Motifs of distant prelates managerially minded fathers in God and rebellious clergy children are reconsidered in a critical light as new empirical evidence offers unique insights into how the clergy family functions as an axis of social power in an age incredulous to ecclesiastical hierarchy Bishops Wives and Children marks an important advance in the analysis of the spirituality of Catholic Evangelical and Liberal leaders and their social significance within a distinctive Christian tradition and all it represents in wider British society

Evangelicalism and the Church of England in the Twentieth Century Andrew Atherstone, John G. Maiden, 2014 An important contribution to the understanding of twentieth century Anglicanism and evangelicalism This volume makes a considerable contribution to the understanding of twentieth century Anglicanism and evangelicalism It includes an expansive introduction which both engages with recent scholarship and challenges existing narratives The book locates the diverse Anglican evangelical movement in the broader fields of the history of English Christianity and evangelical globalisation Contributors argue that evangelicals often engaged constructively with the wider Church of England long before the 1967 Keele Congress and displayed a greater internal party unity than has previously been supposed Other significant themes include the rise of various neo evangelicalisms charismaticism lay leadership changing conceptions of national identity and the importance of generational shifts The volume also provides an analysis of major organisations conferences and networks including the Keswick Convention Islington Conference and Nationwide Festival of Light ANDREW ATHERSTONE is tutor in history and doctrine and Latimer research fellow at Wycliffe Hall Oxford JOHN MAIDEN is lecturer in the Department of Religious Studies at the Open University He is author of National Religion and the Prayer Book Controversy 1927-1928 The Boydell Press 2009

Theology and Society in Three Cities Mark D Chapman, 2014-10-30 Oxford Berlin and Chicago were extraordinarily dynamic centres of theology during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries However significant differences in the political climate and culture of each location bred strikingly divergent theological approaches in the universities of each city Mark Chapman offers a highly original exploration of the subjection of their theologies to the changes and developments of educational policy and national and international politics shedding light upon the constraints that such external factors have imposed upon the evolution of the discipline Chapman highlights the efforts of theologians and churchmen to relate the true core of Christianity a lived religion free of shibboleths to their rapidly changing world The opinions of conservative and liberal theologians are skilfully balanced to reveal the problems of critical history of political authority of increasing global awareness and of the need for social amelioration which profoundly shaped the ways in which theology was conceived during the period New ground has been broken in this inter disciplinary study of the social political and ecclesiastical contexts of Western theology This book will be invaluable to any reader interested in the use of theology as part of the wider quest for social integration and meaning in an increasingly fragmented society

Victorians and the Case for Charity Marilyn D. Button, Jessica A. Sheetz-Nguyen, 2013-11-18 This collection of all new essays seeks to answer a series of questions surrounding the Victorian response to poverty in Britain In short what did various layers of society say the poor deserved and what did they do to help them The work is organized against the backdrop of the 1834 New Poor Laws recognizing that poverty garnered considerable attention in England because of its pervasive and painful presence Each essay examines a different initiative to help the poor Taking an historical tack the essayists begin with the royal perspective and move into the responses of Church of England members Evangelicals and Roman Catholics the social engagement of the literati is discussed as well This collection reflects the real monetary spiritual and emotional investments of individuals public institutions private charities and religious groups who struggled to address the needs of the poor

George Bell, Bishop of Chichester Andrew Chandler,2016 The story of a significant British church leader who fought for justice and freedom during World War II It was to George Bell an English bishop that Dietrich Bonhoeffer sent his last words before he was executed at the Flossenbrg concentration camp in April 1945 Why he did so becomes clear from Andrew Chandler s new biography of George Kennedy Allen Bell 1883 1958 As he traces the arc of Bell s life Chandler reshapes our perspective on Bonhoeffer s life and times In addition to serving as bishop of Chichester Bell was an internationalist and ecumenical leader one of the great Christian humanists of the twentieth century a tenacious critic of the obliteration bombing of enemy cities during World War II and a key ally of those who struggled for years to resist Hitler in Germany itself This inspiring biography raises important questions that still haunt the moral imagination today When should the word of protest be spoken When should nations go to war and how should they fight What are our obligations to the victims of dictators and international conflict
