Here I Stand:

Here I Stand Angela Joan Smith, 2017-10-03 John Beecher 1904-1980 never had the public prominence of his famous ancestors but as a poet professor sociologist New Deal administrator journalist and civil rights activist he spent his life fighting for the voiceless and oppressed with a distinct moral sensibility that reflected his self-identification as the twentieth-century torchbearer for his famous family While John Beecher had many vocations in his lifetime he always considered himself a poet and a teacher Some critics have compared the populist elements of Beecher's poetry to the work of Walt Whitman and Carl Sandburg but his writing never gained a broad audience or critical acclaim during his lifetime This book examines Beecher's writing and activism and places them in the broader context of American culture at pivotal points in the twentieth century

Here I Stand Norris Kelly Smith, 1994 Few aspects of American military history have been as vigorously debated as Harry Truman's decision to use atomic bombs against Japan In this carefully crafted volume Michael Kort describes the wartime circumstances and thinking that form the context for the decision to use these weapons surveys the major debates related to that decision and provides a comprehensive collection of key primary source documents that illuminate the behavior of the United States and Japan during the closing days of World War II Kort opens with a summary of the debate over Hiroshima as it has evolved since 1945 He then provides a historical overview of the events in question beginning with the decision and program to build the atomic bomb Detailing the sequence of events leading to Japan's surrender he revisits the decisive battles of the Pacific War and the motivations of American and Japanese leaders Finally Kort examines ten key issues in the discussion of Hiroshima and guides readers to relevant primary source documents scholarly books and articles
