Heritage Of Evidence:

Heritage of Evidence Peter Masters, 2004 An unofficial tour of the ancient Near Eastern exhibits at the British Museum which relate to the Bible Includes floor plans of the Museum which would allow the reader to follow the tour and find the items discussed in the text Historical Perspectives on Preventive Conservation Sarah Staniforth, Getty Conservation Institute, 2013 The present volume provides a selection from more than sixty five texts tracing the development of this important area of conservation The texts range chronologically from antiquity to the present day They cover a wide range of subjects including philosophies of preventive conservation early traditions of housekeeping the museum environment relative humidity and temperature pollution biodeterioration and light There is also a generous selection of readings discussing future trends P 4 of cover Culture | 2030 indicators UNESCO, 2019-11-18 The Heritage of the Commonwealth, and Other Papers Rob Roy McGregor Converse, 1916 Science and Heritage Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Science and Technology Committee, 2006-11-16 The conservation of cultural artefacts such as buildings works of art and books presents a fascinating rich and diverse range of scientific challenges and the UK has a high reputation in the field based in large part on past achievements However the Committee's report finds that our national standing is now under threat as the sector is fragmented and under valued and the DCMS has completely failed to grasp the threat to heritage science and thus to conservation The Department's emphasis on widening public access to our cultural heritage is a laudable objective but this policy needs to be balanced by effective conservation based on sound science if we are to leave a sustainable cultural heritage for the benefit of future generations The Committee also calls on the heritage sector to come together in developing a broad based national strategy for heritage science to be championed at departmental level by the newly appointed DCMS Chief Scientific Adviser and co-ordinated administratively by English Heritage drawing on input from all bodies active in the sector including those in Scotland Wales and Northern Ireland 50 Years World Heritage Convention: Shared Responsibility - Conflict & Reconciliation Marie-Theres Albert, Roland Bernecker, Claire Cave, Anca Claudia Prodan, Matthias Ripp, 2022-10-10 This open access book identifies various forms of heritage destruction and analyses their causes It proposes strategies for avoiding and solving conflicts based on integrating heritage into the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development It reflects on the identity building role of heritage on multidimensional conflicts and the destruction of heritage and considers conflict solving strategies and future perspectives Furthermore it engages theoretically and practically with the concepts of responsibility reconciliation and sustainability relating mainly to four Sustainable Development Goals i.e. SDGs 4 education 11 e.g. World Heritage 13 climate action and 17 partnerships for the goals More than 160 countries have inscribed properties on the UNESCO World Heritage list since the World Heritage Convention came into force Improvements in the implementation of the Convention such as the Global Strategy for a Representative Balanced and Credible World Heritage List have occurred but other conflicts have not been solved The book advocates for a balanced distribution of properties and more effective strategies to represent the global diversity of cultural and natural heritage Furthermore it highlights the importance of heritage in identity building The Politics and Practices of Cultural Heritage in the Middle East Irene Maffi, 2014-04-21 During the nineteenth century cultural heritage became a dominant feature of the political ideology of the European states and of their colonies It became a new form of legitimization for the rising nation state cementing its inextricable link with that nation s politics and practices The set of concepts and practices defining cultural heritage were exported to and imposed over the colonized populations in North Africa and the Near East The legacy of the colonial period has proven very significant in the domain of cultural heritage which has become a crucial cultural arena in many Arab states As in the majorities of post colonial states in the Arab world the inherited paradigm of cultural heritage has been subject to various forms of adaption and re elaboration that have made it a lively and complex space of negotiations between various actors Thus in The Politics of Cultural Heritage in the Middle East Irene Maffi and Rami Daher draw together expert scholars to unravel these complex processes that are involved in the definition production and consumption of heritage and its material culture in the Middle East and the dynamics of the key actors involved The variety of the cases analysed that cover the region from Morocco to Lebanon as well as the multiplicity of the actors concerned such as the state post colonial or colonial international organizations municipal councils local communities families and even exceptional personalities highlights and explores the complex processes where very local and specific dynamics intertwine with transnational economic political and cultural fluxes In its examination of the workings of cultural heritage in the Middle East this book is an important resource for students and scholars of Middle East Studies Cultural History History of Art and Architecture and for stakeholders involved in the field of cultural heritage knowledge generation The professions organizations and scientific associations involved are unusually challenged by the complexity of the data situation Cartography has always been the central field of application for georeferencing digital cultural heritage DCH objects It is particularly important in enabling spatial relation analysis between any number of DCH objects or of their granular details In addition to the pure geometric aspects the cognitive relations that lead to knowledge representation and derivation of innovative use processes are also of increasing importance Further there is a societal demand for spatial reference and analytics e g the extensive use of cognitive concepts of map and atlas for a variety of social topics in the media There is a huge geometrical logical cognitive potential for complex multimedia digital cultural heritage databases and stakeholders expect handling transmission and processing operations with guaranteed long term availability for all other stakeholders In the future whole areas of digital multimedia databases will need to be processed to further our understanding of historical and cultural contexts This is an important concern for the information society and presents significant challenges for cartography in all these domains This book collects innovative technical and scientific work on the entire process of object digitization including detail extraction archiving and interoperability of multimedia DCH data

Cultural Heritage Adriana Campelo, Laura Reynolds, Adam Lindgreen, Michael Beverland, 2018-11-15 Cultural Heritage is a systematic interdisciplinary examination of cultural heritage which provides an up to date view of the field by drawing on various disciplines The book offers a thorough structured review of extant literature on heritage in tourism and pertinent challenges for cultural heritage This book offers new ways of looking at cultural heritage assets against a backdrop of increasing economic and environmental pressures It comprises a number of sections that each examine cultural heritage from the perspective of ethics and values community relations and development cultural entrepreneurship economic viability and conservation methodologies impacts of tourism research consumption and urban and immaterial heritage Encompassing global research perspectives from public management visual culture environmental management and cultural entrepreneurship Cultural Heritage is a crucial text for those working or interested in the heritage field

International Heritage Law for Communities Lucas Lixinski, 2019-05-30 This book critically engages the shortcomings of the field of international heritage law seen through the lenses of the five major UNESCO treaties for the safeguarding of different types of heritage It argues that these five treaties have effectively prevented local communities who bear the brunt of the costs associated with international heritage protection from having a say in how their heritage is managed The exclusion of local communities often alienates them not only from international decision making processes but also from their cultural heritage itself ultimately meaning that systems put in place for the protection of cultural heritage contribute to its disappearance in the long term International Heritage Law for Communities adds to existing literature by looking at these UNESCO treaties not as isolated regimes but rather as belonging to a discursive continuum on cultural heritage In doing so the book focuses on themes that cut across the relevant UNESCO regimes like the use of expert rule in international heritage law economics

the relationship between heritage and the environment among others rather than the regimes themselves It uses this mechanism to highlight the blind spots and unintended consequences of UNESCO treaties and how choices made in their drafting have continuing and potentially negative impacts on how we think about and safeguard heritage Conservation of Architectural Heritage Antonella Versaci,Hocine Bougdah,Natsuko Akagawa,Nicola Cavalagli,2022-03-01 This book focuses on the management and conservation of architectural heritage with the aim of increasing awareness about the value of such conservation and of saving what is left of history which in turn rewards societies by supporting the tourism industry generating economic return and preserving communities identities Since it has become an essential need to manage and conserve the architectural heritage in order to protect the identity and heritage of a city there appeared a gap between the theory and its application Therefore a considerable amount of attention has been directed by experts in this field toward emphasizing the contribution of heritage conservation in order to inspire the development of imaginative useful high quality design
