Building and the Town Eduard Franz Sekler, 1994      Tropical Architecture Alexander Tzonis, Bruno Stagno, Liane Lefaivre, 2001 The tropical region covers a significant proportion of the globe and yet its architecture receives relatively little outside comment or exposure Dispersed widely throughout the world the region incorporates areas as far flung as the Caribbean islands India South East Asia and large parts of Australia Africa and South and Central America Despite their great cultural diversity these areas share both climatic and ecological factors as well as a post colonial condition and the pressures of modernization in the world of globalization Architects reactions to the tropical context are as varied as the region is diverse Tropical Architecture brings together architects and critics from throughout the tropical region examining the implications of the opposing forces of tradition and innovation and the struggle between global and local order Among the issues covered are sustainability bio and cultural diversity micro climatic control and technology and multi disciplinary design The argument centres on Critical Regionalism a concept introduced into the architectural debate in the early 1980s by two of the book s co authors Tzonis and Lefaivre This is not a style but rather an approach to architecture that asks for design to be conceived in response to the needs and opportunities of a specific region although it is not inherently opposed to global potentials The theoretical debate is backed up by case studies of a range of projects from small scale designs using minimal technology to super sophisticated high tech solutions and from schemes that look to environmental comfort to ones concerned with issues of symbolism and memory It is out of this multiplicity of approaches that the general global lesson of Critical Regionalism as applied to tropical architecture is to be found THE PRINCE CLAUS FUND stimulates and supports activities in the field of culture and development by granting awards funding and producing publications and by financing and promoting networks and innovative cultural activities Support is given both to persons and to organizations in African Asian Latin American and Caribbean countries      The publishers weekly ,1992      AI Magazine ,1992      Use and Adaptation of Precedents in Architectural Design Karina Moraes Zarzar, 2003 This is a Ph D thesis For centuries architects have used design precedents in the conception of new design solutions Whether explicitly as in the case of Le Corbusier James Stirling and Jo Coenen or implicitly as with J J P Oud Aldo van Eyk      Hermes and the Golden Thinking Machine Alexander Tzonis, 1992-09 Hermes and the Golden Thinking Machine is a witty fast paced mystery that combines suspense with crucial concepts from the emerging field of artificial intelligence Harvard professor Hermes Steganos finds himself implicated in the theft of the Golden Thinking Machine a priceless ancient Greek computational device Trapped in a pattern of events whose logic he cannot decipher he must activate his new AI expert system to solve the mystery before it is too late Alexander Tzonis taught at Harvard from 1967 to 1981 and is the author of several books on architecture and design      Aula ,2002      The Typewriter Century Martyn Lyons, 2021-02-01 This book captures the intensity of the relationship between writers and their typewriters from the 1880s when the machine was first commercialized to the 1980s when word processing superseded it Drawing on examples from the United States Britain Europe and Australia The Typewriter Century focuses on celebrity writers including Henry James Jack Kerouac Agatha Christie Georges Simenon and Erle Stanley Gardner who wrote prolifically and mechanically developing routines in which typing handwriting and dictation were each allotted important functions The typewriter de personalized the text the office typewriter bureaucratized it At the same time some authors found a new and disturbing distance between themselves and their compositions while others believed the typewriter facilitated spontaneous and automatic typing The Typewriter Century provides a cultural history of the typewriter outlining the ways in which it can be considered an agent of change as well as demonstrating how it influenced all writers canonical and otherwise
