Medieval Insular Romance Judith Elizabeth Weiss, Jennifer Fellows, Morgan Dickson, 2000 Major themes explored are narratives of the disguised prince and the reinvention of stories for different tastes and periods These studies cover a wide chronological range and familiar and unfamiliar texts and topics The disguised prince is a theme linking several articles from early Anglo Norman romances through later English ones like King Edward and the Shepherd to a late 16th century recasting of the Havelok story as a Tudor celebration of Gloriana Translation in its widest sense the way romance can reinvent stories for different tastes and periods is another running theme the opening introductory article considers the topic of translation theoretically concerned to stimulate further research on how insular romances were transferred between vernaculars and literary systems while other essays consider Lovelich's Merlin a poem translating its Arthurian material to the poet's contemporary London milieu Chaucer and Breton lays in England
