Einstein's Mirror Anthony J. G. Hey, Patrick Walters, 1997-07-31 Lavishly illustrated fascinating and accessible introduction to Einstein s relativity for general readers school students and undergraduates Three Roads to the Welfare State Bryan Fanning, 2021-09-03 The development of social policy in Europe is explored in this accessible intellectual history and analysis of the welfare state From the Industrial Revolution onwards the book identifies three important concepts behind efforts to address social concerns in Europe social democracy Christian democracy and liberalism With guides to the political and ideological protagonists and the beliefs and values that lie behind reforms it traces the progress and legacies of each of the three traditions For academics and students across social policy and the political economy this is an illuminating new perspective on the welfare state through the last two centuries English Literature, Theology and the Curriculum Liam Francis Gearon, 1999-01-10 The Theology in Dialogue Series explores the relationship between theology and different secular academic disciplines which appear within the degree programs of colleges and universities Each volume begins with a chapter and a reply providing a thoughtful justification for the interaction of theology and the particular subject This is followed by a theoretical analysis of this interaction and a range of case studies illustrating the situation in the classroom English Literature Theology and the Curriculum explores the nature and authority of religious writings and their influence on secular literature What makes it distinctive is the manner in which it investigates the textual dynamic between the two disciplines by combining both theory and case study in a single collection of writings It discusses interdisciplinary dialogue offers case studies on literature and theology from Anglo Saxon verse to the twentieth century novel and looks at curriculum considerations The eminence and breadth of the contributors is outstanding Praise for English Literature Theology and the Curriculum A superbly rich collection as valuable to those involved in literary studies as to theologians It breathes life and real engagement Times Educational Supplement Fascinating and scholarly collection This is an excellent book Though some of the chapters are better than others none is a dud Its contributors and editor are to be congratulated Journal of Beliefs and Values These substantial essays deserve more extensive comment than a brief review permits Liam Gearon s chapter prompted this reviewer to embark on a reading of Brian Moore s work a rewarding undertaking for which his chapter proved an invaluable guide International Journal of Children s Spirituality Perhaps what is most noteworthy about Liam Gearon s edited volume is that it combines theory with practical applications and concludes with reflections on the implications for teaching ample food for thought for instructors designing courses in literature theology or interdisciplinary subjects Teaching Theology The Walker Matthew Beaumont,2020-11-10 From Charles Dickens London to today s megacities a fascinating exploration of what urban walking tells us about modern life for fans of Rebecca Solnit Olivia Laing s The Lonely City and literary history A labyrinthine journey into the literature of walking and thinking as seen in the lives and works of Edgar Allan Poe Virginia Woolf Ray Bradbury and other literary greats Guardian There is no such thing as a false step Every time we walk we are going somewhere Especially if we are going nowhere Moving around the modern city is not a way of getting from A to B but of understanding who and where we are In a series of riveting intellectual rambles Matthew Beaumont retraces episodes in the history of the walker since the mid 19th century From Dickens s insomniac night rambles to restless excursions through the faceless monuments of today s neoliberal city the act of walking is one of self discovery and self escape of disappearances and secret subversions Pacing stride for stride alongside literary amblers and thinkers such as Edgar Allan Poe Andr Breton H G Wells Virginia Woolf Jean Rhys and Ray Bradbury Beaumont explores the relationship between the metropolis and its pedestrian life Through these writings Beaumont asks Can you get lost in a crowd What are the consequences of using your smartphone in the street What differentiates the nocturnal metropolis from the city of daylight What connects walking philosophy and the big toe And can we save the city or ourselves by taking to the pavement Bounding Power Daniel H. Deudney,2010-12-16 Realism the dominant theory of international relations particularly regarding security seems compelling in part because of its claim to embody so much of Western political thought from the ancient Greeks to the present Its main challenger liberalism looks to Kant and nineteenth century economists Despite their many insights neither realism nor liberalism gives us adequate tools to grapple with security globalization the liberal ascent and the American role in their development In reality both realism and liberalism and their main insights were largely invented by republicans writing about republics The main ideas of realism and liberalism are but fragments of republican security theory whose primary claim is that security entails the simultaneous avoidance of the extremes of anarchy and hierarchy and that the size of the space within which this is necessary has expanded due to technological change In Daniel Deudney s reading there is one main security tradition and its fragmentary descendants This theory began in classical antiquity and its pivotal early modern and Enlightenment culmination was the founding of the United States Moving into the industrial and nuclear eras this line of thinking becomes the basis for the claim that mutually restraining world government is now necessary for security and that political liberty cannot survive without new types of global unions Unique in scope depth and timeliness Bounding Power offers an international political theory for our fractious and perilous global village Investigating Powell's A Dance to the Music of Time Isabelle Joyau,1994-03-02 Ecology and the Literature of the British Left Dr John Rignall,Professor H Gustav Klaus,Professor Valentine Cunningham,2012-10-28 Premised on the belief that a social and an ecological agenda are compatible this collection offers readings in the ecology of left and radical writing from the Romantic period to the present While early ecocriticism tended to elide the bitter divisions within and between societies recent practitioners of ecofeminism environmental justice and social ecology have argued that the social the economic and the environmental have to be seen as part of the same process Taking up this challenge the contributors trace the origins of an environmental sensibility and of the modern left to their roots in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries charting the ways in which the literary imagination responds to the political industrial and agrarian revolutions Topics include Samuel Taylor Coleridge's credentials as a green writer the interaction between John Ruskin's religious and political ideas and his changing view of nature William Morris and the Garden City movement H G Wells and the Fabians the devastated landscapes in the poetry and fiction of the First World War and the leftist pastoral poetry of the 1930s In historicizing and connecting environmentally sensitive literature with socialist thought these essays explore the interactive vision of nature and society in the work of writers ranging from William Wordsworth and John Clare to John Berger and John Burnside

Dictionary of Real People and Places in Fiction M.C. Rintoul, 2014-03-05 Fascinating and comprehensive in scope the Dictionary of Real People and Places in Fiction is a valuable source for both students and teachers of literature and for those interested in locating the facts behind the fiction they read In a single scholarly volume it provides intriguing insight into the real identity of people and places in the novels of over 300 American and British authors published in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries

Beastly Journeys Tim Youngs, 2013 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library Bats beetles wolves butterflies bulls panthers apes leopards and spiders are among the countless creatures that crowd the pages of literature of the late nineteenth century Whether in Gothic novels science fiction fantasy fairy tales journalism political discourse realism or naturalism the line between the human and the animal becomes blurred Beastly Journeys examines these bestial transformations across a range of well known and less familiar texts and shows how they are provoked not only by the mutations of Darwinism but by social and economic shifts that have been lost in retellings and readings of them The physical alterations described by George Gissing George MacDonald Arthur Machen Arthur Morrison W T Stead Bram Stoker H G Wells Oscar Wilde and many of their contemporaries are responses to changes in the social body as Britain underwent a series of social and economic crises Metaphors of travel social spatial temporal mythical and psychological keep these stories on the move confusing literary genres along with the indeterminacy of physical shape that they relate Beastly Journeys will appeal to anyone interested in the relationship between nineteenth century literature and its contexts and especially to those interested in the fin de siècle and in metaphors of travel animals and shape changing

Utopian Moments J. C. Davis, Miguel Ángel Ramiro Avilés, 2012-04-12 Within literature history politics philosophy and theology the interpretation of utopian ideals has evolved constantly Juxtaposing historical views on utopian diagnoses prescriptions and on the character and value of utopian thought with more modern interpretations this volume explores how our ideal utopia has transformed over time Challenging long held interpretations the contributors turn a fresh eye to canonical texts and open them up to a twenty first century audience From Moore s Utopia to Le Guin s The Dispossessed Utopian Moments puts forward a lively and accessible debate on the nature and significance of utopian thought and tradition Each essay focuses on a key passage from the selected work using it to encourage both the specialist and the reader new to the field to read afresh Written by an international team of leading scholars the essays range from the sixteenth century to the present day and are designed to be both stimulating and accessible Culture, Class and Gender in the Victorian Novel A. Young,1999-07-05 This book examines class and its representation in Victorian literature focusing on the emergence of the lower middle class and middle class responses to it Arlene Young analyses portraits of white collar workers both men and women who laboured under disparaging misperceptions of their values abilities and cultural significance and shows how these misperceptions were both formulated and resisted The analysis includes canonical texts like Dickens s Little Dorrit and Gissing s The Odd Women as well as less well known works by Dinah Mulock Craik Margaret Oliphant Amy Levy Grant Allen H G Wells Arnold Bennett and May Sinclair Degeneration, Culture and the Novel William M.

Greenslade,1994-04-28 An exploration of the impact of degeneration theories on British culture and fiction English

Fiction and the Evolution of Language, 1850-1914 Will Abberley,2015-05-27 Victorian science changed language from a tool into a natural phenomenon evolving independently of its speakers Will Abberley explores how science and fiction interacted in imagining different stories of language evolution Popular narratives of language progress clashed with others of decay and degeneration Furthermore the blurring of language evolution with biological evolution encouraged Victorians to re imagine language as a mixture of social convention and primordial instinct Abberley argues that fiction by authors such as Charles Kingsley Thomas Hardy and H G Wells not only reflected these intellectual currents but also helped to shape them Genres from utopia to historical romance supplied narrative models for generating thought experiments in the possible pasts and futures of language Equally fiction that explored the instinctive roots of language intervened in debates about language standardisation and scientific objectivity These textual readings offer new perspectives on twenty first century discussions about language evolution and the language of science Brief Encounters Susannah Fullerton,2009-06-01 Throughout the 19th and early 20th centuries countless distinguished writers made the long and arduous voyage across the seas to Australia They came to give lecture tours and make money to sort out difficult children sent here to be out of the way for health for science to escape demanding spouses back home or simply to satisfy a sense of adventure In 1890 for example Robert Louis Stevenson and his wife Fanny arrived at Circular Quay after a dramatic sea voyage only to be refused entry at the Victoria one of Sydney s most elegant hotels Stevenson threw a tantrum but was forced to go to a cheaper less fussy establishment Next day the Victoria s manager recognising the famous author from a picture in the paper rushed to find Stevenson and beg him to return He did not In Brief Encounters renowned author and speaker Susannah Fullerton examines a diverse array of writers including Charles Darwin Rudyard Kipling Stevenson Anthony Trollope Mark Twain Arthur Conan Doyle DH Lawrence Joseph Conrad HG Wells Agatha Christie and Jack London to discover what they did when they got here what their opinion was of Australia and Australians how the public and media reacted to them and how their future works were shaped or influenced by this country Great War Modernisms and 'The New Age' Magazine Paul Jackson,2012-07-12 A study of the politics and philosophy of writers contributing to the Little Magazine The New Age during 1907 and 1922 The Vital Science (Routledge Revivals) Peter Morton,2014-08-01 In this title first published in 1984 Peter Morton argues that in late Victorian Britain a group of novelists and essayists quite consciously sought and found ideas in post Darwinian biology that were susceptible to imaginative transformation The period between 1860 and 1900 was a time of great confusion in biology the natural selection hypothesis was in retreat before its acute critics and no extension of evolutionary theory to human affairs was too bizarre to attract its quota of enthusiasts Writers capitalised on this prevailing uncertainty and used it to their own artistic or polemic ends A fascinating and interdisciplinary title this reissue will interest students of late Victorian literature as well as historians of biological theory between The Origin of Species and Mendel Strategy Without Slide-Rule Barry D. Powers,2021-03-30 The early history of British aerial defence development is one of misdirection and delusion The misdirection judging by the criteria of successful aerial defence in World War II was primarily in the downgrading of home defence measures including the fighter plane The delusion again judging by Britain s efforts in that second world war was primarily in the assumption of the effects to be obtained by strategic bombing In both cases the First World War was a major catalyst Although events and writings before that war indicate the coming patterns it was during that war that a great amount of the patterns are well established Originally published in 1976 this work explores these origins and stresses the interaction between various diverse segments of English society in the formation of the major patterns The working out of these patterns in the first half of the interwar years is also analysed again with respect to diverse groupings in Britain London Underground David Ashford,2013-05-10 Surveying an unusually wide variety of material ranging from the Victorian triple decker novel to Modernist art and architecture to Pop music and graffiti this book suggests that the tube network is a transitional form linking the alienated spaces of Victorian England to the virtual spaces of our contemporary consumer capitalism
