Focus On Chaplin Film Focus:

Focus on Chaplin Donald W. McCaffrey, 1971 Examines Chaplin's development as actor and director from his one reel beginnings Shows that his range and the universality of his humor raised screen comedy Guidebook to Film Ronald Gottesman, Harry M. Geduld, 1972 King Vidor in Focus Kevin L. Stoeck, Cullen Gallagher, 2024-07-30 King Vidor 1894 1982 had the longest career of any Hollywood director and his works include some of the most dramatic sublime moments in the history of American cinema Regarded by many film historians as one of the greatest of silent era filmmakers especially for masterworks The Big Parade The Crowd and Show People Vidor is nonetheless one of the most underrated of Hollywood's old masters in terms of his overall career His sound era films include Hallelujah Street Scene of the Crime The Champ The Stranger's Return Our Daily Bread Stella Dallas The Citadel Northwest Passage Duel in the Sun Beyond the Forest The Fountainhead Ruby Gentry and War and Peace He also helped to establish the Screen Directors Guild and served as its first president This book charts the ways in which Vidor's vast complex body of work ranges over diverse genres and styles while also expressing his recurring personal interests in spirituality especially Christian Science aesthetics metaphysics social realism and the myth of America The first book since 1988 to give a comprehensive view of Vidor's career it discusses his artistic evolution in a way that appeals to the general reader as well as to the film scholar Roland Barthes and Film Patrick Ffrench, 2019-10-31 Suspicious of what he called the spectator's sticky adherence to the screen Roland Barthes had a cautious attitude towards cinema Falling into a hypnotic trance the philosopher warned an audience can become susceptible to ideology and myth In this book Patrick Ffrench explains that although Barthes was wary of film he engaged deeply with it Barthes thought was Ffrench argues punctuated by the experience of watching films and likewise his philosophy of photography culture semiotics ethics and theatricality have been immensely important in film theory Focusing particularly on the essays The Third Meaning and On Leaving the Cinema and the acclaimed book Camera Lucida Ffrench examines Barthes writing and traces a persistent interest in films and directors from Fellini and Antonioni to Eisenstein the Marx Brothers and Hitchcock Ffrench explains that although Barthes found pleasure in leaving the cinema disconnecting from its dangerous allure by a literal exit or by forcefully breaking the trance he found value in returning to the screen anew Barthes delved beneath the pull of progressing narrative and the moving image by becoming attentive to space and material aesthetics This book presents an invaluable reassessment of one of the most original and subtle thinkers of the twentieth century a figure indebted to the movies Richard Attenborough Sally Dux, 2016-05-16 Richard Attenborough's film career has stretched across seven decades surprisingly Sally Dux's book is the first detailed scholarly analysis of his work as a filmmaker Concentrating on his work behind the camera she explores his initial role as a producer including his partnerships with Bryan Forbes in Beaver Films 1959-64 and with Allied Film Makers 1960-64 As we know Attenborough went on to direct twelve films many of which achieved great acclaim most notably Gandhi which won eight Academy Awards in 1982

Attenborough is most renowned for his biographical films including Young Winston and Cry Freedom. Chaplin and Shadowlands which helped to establish the genre within British cinema. Although his work has often attracted controversy particularly regarding the representation of individuals and historical events his films are noted for extracting acclaimed performances from unknown actors such as Ben Kingsley in Gandhi while maintaining his moral and thematic concerns.

Focus on Film
 ,1979 The Film Journal ,1973 Film and the Critical Eye Dennis DeNitto, William Herman, 1975

Chaplin's War Trilogy Wes D. Gehring, 2014-09-17 The book examines Charlie Chaplin's evolving perspective on dark comedy in his three war films Shoulder Arms 1918 The Great Dictator 1940 and Monsieur Verdoux 1947. In the first he uses the genre in a groundbreaking manner but yet for a pro war cause. In Dictator dark comedy is applied in an antiwar way. In Monsieur Verdoux Chaplin embraces the genre as an individual in defense against a society out to destroy him. All three are pivotal films in the development of the genre in film with the latter two movies being very controversial for their time.

South African National Cinema Jacqueline Maingard, 2013-05-13 South African National Cinema examines how cinema in South Africa represents national identities particularly with regard to race. This significant and unique contribution establishes interrelationships between South African cinema and key points in South Africa's history showing how cinema figures in the making, entrenching and undoing of apartheid. This study spans the twentieth century and beyond through detailed analyses of selected films beginning with De Voortrekkers 1916 through to Mapantsula 1988 and films produced post apartheid including Drum 2004 Tsotsi 2005 and Zulu Love Letter 2004. Jacqueline Maingard discusses how cinema reproduced and constructed a white national identity taking readers through cinema's role in building white Afrikaner nationalism in the 1930s and 1940s. She then moves to examine film culture and modernity in the development of black audiences from the 1920s to the 1950s especially in a group of films that includes Jim Comes to Joburg 1949 and Come Back Africa 1959. Jacqueline Maingard also considers the effects of the apartheid state's film subsidy system in the 1960s and 1970s and focuses on cinema against apartheid in the 1980s. She reflects upon shifting national cinema policies following the first democratic election in 1994 and how it became possible for the first time to imagine an inclusive national film culture. Illustrated throughout with excellent visual examples this cinema history will be of value to film scholars and historians as well as to practitioners in South Africa today.

The DVD Revolution Aaron Barlow, 2004-12-30 The introduction of the DVD marked the beginning of one of history's most successful technological innovations and capped a 75 year development of home viewing possibilities. Never before have film fans had access in their living rooms to something so remarkably close to the theatrical experience. In addition because a DVD can hold much more than a single movie it has allowed films to be marketed with a variety of extras sparking both a new packaging industry and greater interest on the part of home viewers. This book provides an examination of the DVD's impact both on home viewing and on film study. From film fan culture through filmmaker commentaries from special editions to a look at where the format will go from here author Aaron Barlow offers the first ever exploration of this explosive new entertainment phenomenon As the DVD becomes the popular vehicle of record for films it is also becoming a unique and unprecedented way for the interested viewer to learn more about filmmaking than has ever been possible before Because of its ability to reproduce the dimensions and quality of the celluloid image film fans and scholars can have practically perfect reproductions of classic and contemporary films at their disposal Not only will this book be of interest to the burgeoning population of DVD fans and collectors but it will provide insights that should be of interest to both students of popular culture and of film

The L2 Acquisition of Spanish Subjects Margaret Quesada, 2015-07-01 There is a long overdue need to address the sharp philosophical and methodological divide between formal generative and functional discourse perspectives in contemporary theoretical linguistics and L2 acquisition Language structure in general and the use of subjects in particular is dependent upon multiple syntactic lexico semantic and discourse pragmatic factors Therefore the study of L2 acquisition must be equally multi faceted This volume examines data from over twenty years of research in the L2 acquisition of Spanish subjects from several theoretical perspectives including generative approaches processing theory discourse pragmatics and sociolinguistic variationist models By so doing the author seeks to fulfill two principal objectives the first is to determine the many linguistic and extra linguistic properties of Spanish subjects that constrain their acquisition and use and the second is to establish common ground among researchers from varied theoretical persuasions in acquisition studies The author argues throughout the volume that central to native speaker use and L2 acquisition are universal properties ranging from highly specific syntactic principles to more general characteristics of human cognition and a range of these properties is responsible for language acquisition An examination of the diverse body of research that considers a wider scope of universal properties of language can thus bring us closer to a unified account of the L2 acquisition of Spanish subject expression

Photography and Focus, 1917 The Comic Mind Gerald Mast, 1979-09-15 Although books on the comedies of the silent era abound few have attempted to survey film comedy as a whole its history and evolution how the philosophical visions of its greatest artists and directors have shaped its traditions and how these visions have informed both the meaning and manner of their work Blending information with interpretation description with analysis Mast traces the development of screen comedy from the first crude efforts of Edison and Lumi re to the subtlety and psychological complexity of Annie Hall As he guides the reader through detailed discussions of specific films Mast reveals the structures the values and the cinematic techniques which have appeared and reappeared in comic cinema The second edition of The Comic Mind treats the comic developments of the 1970s in terms of the traditions of film comedy set forth in the first edition including a discussion of the evolution of Jacques Tati and the emergence of Mel Brooks and Woody Allen as the two greatest American comic stylists of the seventies The most comprehensive study of film comedy yet written in English The book s extensive index with references to companies from which 16mm prints of many of the cited films may be rented will be of great value to the film teacher and audiovisual librarian Choice

,1929 How to Read a Film James Monaco,1977 Mapping Movie Magazines Daniel Biltereyst,Lies Van de Vijver,2020-03-30 Movie magazines are crucial but widely underused sources for writing the history of films and cinema This volume brings together for the first time a wide variety of historic research of movie magazines and film trade journals reflecting on the issue of using these sources for film cinema historiography and on the impact of digitization processes Mapping Movie Magazines explores this debate from different disciplinary perspectives enlightened by case studies from the use of early film trade press to pedagogical uses of digitized periodicals The volume explores Hollywood s grip on movie magazines gender in film journalism typologies of unknown trade press and movie magazine markets and subversive Tijuana bibles

Dancefilm Erin Brannigan,2011-02-09 Dancefilm Choreography and the Moving Image examines the choreographic in cinema the way choreographic elements inform cinematic operations in dancefilm It traces the history of the form from some of its earliest manifestations in the silent film era through the historic avant garde musicals and music videos to contemporary experimental short dancefilms In so doing it also examines some of the most significant collaborations between dancers choreographers and filmmakers The book also sets out to examine and rethink the parameters of dancefilm and thereby re conceive the relations between dance and cinema Dancefilm is understood as a modality that challenges familiar models of cinematic motion through its relation to the body movement and time instigating new categories of filmic performance and creating spectatorial experiences that are grounded in the somatic Drawing on debates in both film theory in particular ideas of gesture the close up and affect and dance theory concepts such as radical phrasing the gestural anacrusis and somatic intelligence and bringing these two fields into dialogue the book argues that the combination of dance and film produces cine choreographic practices that are specific to the dancefilm form The book thus presents new models of cinematic movement that are both historically informed and thoroughly interdisciplinary Film
