Foetal Autonomy A Ciba Foundation Symposium:

Symposium on Foetal Autonomy Ciba Foundation, Gordon Ethelbert Ward Wolstenholme, 1969 Foetal Autonomy G. E. W. Wolstenholme, Maeve O'Connor, 2009-09-16 The Novartis Foundation Series is a popular collection of the proceedings from Novartis Foundation Symposia in which groups of leading scientists from a range of topics across biology chemistry and medicine assembled to present papers and discuss results The Novartis Foundation originally known as the Ciba Foundation is well known to scientists and clinicians around the world The Rise of Fetal and Neonatal Physiology Lawrence D. Longo, 2018-02-01 This second edition offers an expanded and updated history of the field of fetal and neonatal development allowing readers to gain a comprehensive understanding of the biological aspects that contribute to the wellbeing or pathophysiology of newborns In this concluding opus of a long and prominent career as a clinical scientist Dr Longo has invited new contributions from noted colleagues with expertise in various fields to provide a historical perspective on the impact of how modern concepts emerged in the field of fetal physiology and contributed to the current attention paid to the fetal origins of diseases in adults In addition to new chapters on maternal physiology and complications during pregnancy others trace the history of the Society for Reproductive Investigation governmental funding of perinatal research and major initiatives to support training in the new discipline of maternal fetal medicine including the Reproductive Scientist Development program The extensive survey provided by the author who personally knew most of the pioneers in the field offers a unique guide for all clinical and basic scientists interested in the history of and future approaches to diagnosing and treating pathologies that represent the leading causes of neonatal mortality and far too often life long morbidity

R. Lindner, 2012-12-06 The Organon Symposia have actually become a tradition keeping up with exciting developments in reproductive medicine The purpose of this symposium on Fertilization of the Human Egg in Vitro was to bring together the still limited number of clinical specialists in the field and to stimulate another group of basic research people to exchange their experiences and knowledge hopefully promoting close cooperation between the two groups It was a kind of scientific first that all research teams so far successful in achieving the birth of a healthy baby fertilized in vitro came together at a workshop conference without a large audience of spectators and reporters but with a small number of highly critical colleagues from the fields of basic reproductive physiology and comparative developmental biology This atmosphere allowed for the close exchange of results hypotheses diagnostic and therapeutic procedures criticism and respect and created very productive discussions all of which furthered the aim of the method To help more childless couples to have their own babies by the ultima ratio procedure of in vitro fertilization and embryo replacement The book that has emerged from this symposium will help to disseminate the great amount of information and experience gathered among the scientifically and clinically interested colleagues of many other hospitals and universities who could not be invited to the meeting At the same time it will prove that there is much more work to be done in the basic and clinical sciences of human embryology and reproductive biology
