Fishing Through the Apocalypse Matthew L. Miller, 2019-03-01 What does the future hold for fish and the people who pursue them Fishing Through the Apocalypse explores that question through a series of fishing stories about the reality of the sport in the 21st century Matthew Miller director of science communications for The Nature Conservancy explores fishing that might be considered dystopian joining anglers as they stick their lines into trash filled urban canals or visiting farm ponds where you can catch giant endangered fish for a fee But it isn't all bleak When it comes to fishing the other part of the story is this a cadre of anglers is looking to right past wrongs to return native species to remove dams to appreciate the unappreciated fish to clean our waters and protect public lands As an angler and conservationist Matt removes any and all preconceived notions about what it means to fish in the 21st century in order to see the different visions of the future that exist right here right now Fishing Through the Apocalypse offers one of the widest ranging looks at fish conservation in the United States and also includes some of the more unusual adventures ever featured in a fishing book Features fishing adventures in Idaho Colorado Wyoming New Mexico Utah Texas Florida Iowa Minnesota Illinois Washington DC Virginia Pennsylvania Fishing at the End of the World William Greenway, 2005 The World's Best Fishing Stories The Editors of Field & Stream, 2015-03-26 A collection of true life fishing tales about big catches bright seas and the one that got away from John Updike Phil Caputo Jim Harrison and others Anyone who appreciates a good story can appreciate the infinite resource that is the sport of fishing This collection represents the very best stories about fishing to appear in Field Stream throughout its 120 year history It includes writers old and new with tales infamous and unknown A fishing story is in the end not about catching fish What matters is the quest the company and the challenge Here you'll find stories of deep insight incredible drama and delightful humor from the likes of Bill Heavey Zane Gray Eddie Nickens Ian Frazier Kim Barnes Thomas McGuane and many others Ghost Fishing Melissa Tuckey, 2018-04-01 Ghost Fishing is the first anthology to focus solely on poetry with an eco justice bent A culturally diverse collection entering a field where nature poetry anthologies have historically lacked diversity this book presents a rich terrain of contemporary environmental poetry with roots in many cultural traditions Eco justice poetry is poetry born of deep cultural attachment to the land and poetry born of crisis Aligned with environmental justice activism and thought eco justice poetry defines environment as the place we work live play and worship This is a shift from romantic notions of nature as a pristine wilderness outside ourselves toward recognition of the environment as home a source of life health and livelihood Ghost Fishing is arranged by topic at key intersections between social justice and the environment such as exile migration and dispossession war food production human relations to the animal world natural resources and extraction environmental disaster and cultural resilience and resistance This anthology seeks to expand our consciousness about the interrelated nature of our experiences and act as a starting point for conversation about the current state of our environment Contributors include Homero Aridjis Brenda Cordero Natalie Diaz Camille T Dungy Martin Espada

A number of policy issues are discussed including a no discards approach to fisheries management, the need for balance between bycatch reduction and bycatch utilisation initiatives and concerns arising from incidental catches of marine mammals, birds and reptiles. The report also highlights the need for more robust methods of estimating discards and the development of bycatch management plans      Institutional and economic perspectives on distant-water fisheries access arrangements Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2024-06-21 This summary outlines the information contained in the Institutional and Economic Perspectives on Distant Water Fisheries Access Arrangements report 2024, which is an expansion of the first report, the Mapping Distant Water Fisheries Access Arrangements published in 2022. This report conducts a more targeted examination of the economic dynamics, policy drivers and institutional framework of fishing access arrangements. It includes six comprehensive case studies of three resource holding countries or regions: Ghana, Namibia and the Pacific Island Countries and Territories (PICT) and three resource seeking countries or regions: Japan, the European Union and China. These are examined. This summary report is part of an ad hoc study on fisheries access arrangements and does not include details already referred to in the summary of the 2022 report      West Virginia Wild Life; Official Monthly Publication of the Wild Life League of West Virginia ,1929      Fishing and Camping Guide to Northern Territory Dick Eussen, 2008 Find out where and when to fish in the Northern Territory. Both freshwater and saltwater locations are covered, including Arnhem Land, Kakadu, The Gulf, Darwin Harbour, Bynoe Harbour, coastal and offshore spots such as the Daly Roper and Victoria river systems. Many essential details for anglers include fish species, camping areas, boat ramps, tackle shops, bait and emergency services. The expert tips in the text, combined with the detailed maps of specific fishing areas, will enable all to enjoy the experience of dropping a line, whether it be from the beach, from the rocks, from the banks of estuaries, from a canoe, from a tinny or from the best equipped fishing boat available. Using Fishing and Camping Guide to Northern Territory, anglers will be able to achieve results, time and time again      Hunting and Fishing for Sport Richard L. Hummel, 1994 Sociologist Hummel chides the social sciences for shying away from a study of sport hunting and fishing, describes the views of hunters and fishers and animal rights activists, compares how fishing for different species has been changed differently by technological innovations, recounts his own experiences at seven commercial gamefields and analyzes the portrayal of hunting and fishing in popular films and boys' adventure books.
