Longacre, 2009-05-01 Winner of the Douglas Southall Freeman History Award Gentleman and Soldier is the first biography in more than fifty years of Wade Hampton III 1818 1902 a Confederate general whose life provides a unique sweeping insight into the entire history of the Civil War in the South Hampton was a leading citizen of South Carolina before the war and the highest ranking cavalry leader on either side during the war He fought in a remarkable number of battles from Antietam to Gettysburg to Bentonville and after the war served as governor of South Carolina and in the U S Senate Hampton's life however was one of dramatic contradictions He was the quintessential slave owner who nonetheless questioned the ethical underpinnings of the peculiar institution He was a prewar spokesperson for national unity but became an avid secessionist He condemned violence and abhorred dueling but he probably killed more opponents in battle than any other general with the possible exception of Nathan Bedford Forrest He redeemed South Carolina from Reconstruction but then extended more political benefits to African Americans than any other Democratic governor in the postwar South For more than forty years he gave selflessly of himself to his state and his community not only when wealthy but also when teetering on the abyss of poverty Edward G Longacre has written twenty three books on the Civil War His book The Cavalry at Gettysburg available in a Bison Books edition won the Fletcher Pratt Award as the best book of Civil War nonfiction He is also the author of Pickett's Charge and Lee's Cavalrymen a main selection of the History Book Club The Cavalry at Appomattox

Citizen Engagement in Cuba Neighbors and the State in Pogolotti examines citizen engagement at the local level in Cuba through projects initiated by the community since the 1990s The nature of citizen participation in Cuba is not clearly understood by many in the United States where the communist government is conflated with the Soviet states of Eastern Europe as a totalitarian regime in which the people of Cuba are helpless to confront and punished when they do The reality in Cuba is much more nuanced This book discusses this reality through a focus on Pogolotti reflecting on its history as the first low cost housing community in Cuba in 1910 This community is but one example of a neighborhood where projects represent active participation by citizens The willingness of communist authorities to work with officially sanctioned workshops and partner with civic groups indicates a level of citizen participation that has not been studied fully and provides an understanding of the relationship between citizens and the state in Cuba Model-dependent Sampling Versus Point-poisson Sampling on a Colorado Timber Sale Hans T.
