The Extraordinary Life of E Nesbit Elisabeth Galvin, 2018-09-30 Imagine being one of the most well-loved children's authors of all time yet your readers don't know if you're a man or a woman Or even your real name E Nesbit is really Edith Nesbit who wrote an extraordinary 98 novels plays and poetry collections for children and adults between 1885 and 1923 She is credited as the first modern writer for children whose work has influenced authors from Oscar Wilde to C S Lewis No l Coward to J K Rowling Even though it was published more than 100 years ago The Railway Children remains one of the most popular children's books ever written and it has never been out of print But for Edith the truth of her life is stranger than her fiction and it's a truth she was keen to hide from the public Edith's father died when she was four resulting in a peripatetic childhood across Europe At 21 years old she was seven months pregnant when she married a penniless libertine who became a famous journalist Hubert Bland Together as early socialists they were founding members of the Fabian Society from which the Labour Party has its foundations A Bohemian and an eccentric Edith became a mother of five children two of whom she adopted in secret after her husband had an affair with a close friend who subsequently lived with them as their housekeeper It was shortly after the sudden death of her beloved son that Edith wrote her first bestseller in 1899 a groundbreaker that dramatically changed the course of children s literature On the eve of World War I Edith s husband died and she married a captain of the Woolwich Ferry A cheerful cockney sparrow Tommy Tucker proved to be Edith s unwitting romantic hero who loved and cherished her until she died in near poverty on the Romney Marshes of Kent

Schools and Food Education in the 21st Century Lexi Earl,2018-02-01 Schools and Food Education in the 21st Century examines how schools enact food policy and through doing so craft diverse foodscapes that create very different food experiences in schools The school food policy discourse is made up of an amalgamation of discourses on obesity prevention nutrition education welfarism and foodiness Whilst schools endeavor to enact policy in a variety of ways this book shows how foodiness is taken up and can only be taken up differently in different schools The book s unique contribution is to identify the discourse of foodiness and to show how this discourse whilst seemingly universal is actually situated in middle class ideas and is therefore more easily taken up by certain schools The book argues that the classed nature of foodiness leads to certain food knowledges becoming marginalized or lost and this then positions some schools in tension with their local communities resulting in widely variant food experiences for children Earl demonstrates how foodiness is taken up in schools by first exploring how the foodscape at school is shaped by policy and media sources The book then examines how foodiness is taken up by schools with different SES profiles by showing how food moves through the school day Asking critical questions on class and poverty that are often overlooked this book will be of interest to researchers academics and students working on food issues related to teaching food policy and schools in the fields of education sociology and food studies It should also be of interest to policymakers parents and teachers

Developing Children's Behaviour in the Classroom Sonia Burnard,2012-11-12 The authors of this text suggest that teachers need to be able to cope with pupil behaviour before they can even begin to deliver the National Curriculum Often classes contain both stated and unstated children those officially recognized as having behavioural problems and unstated but difficult children Teachers have few strategies to deal with the kind of behaviour that these children present as little if any of their training is allotted to classroom and child management The authors aim to raise awareness of behavioural needs in the classroom and avoid exclusions They do this by encouraging school staff to work together to develop policies which will encourage good behaviour
