Fixing Columbine The Challenge To American Liberalism:

Fixing Columbine Doriane Lambelet Coleman, 2002 Fixing Columbine uses the 1999 school shootings at Columbine High School in Littleton Colorado as a metaphor for the much larger and largely silent epidemic of childhood dysfunction that has swept the nation in the last thirty years claiming as its victims approximately 15 to 25 million American children annually Using both a child development lens and comparative analysis the book first describes the causes of the epidemic which include for the affected children absent adults toxic media exposures dysfunctional peers and an anti social educational environment It then tackles the question how to fix it The book argues that classical liberal principles as represented in the constitutional doctrines of parental autonomy and free speech simultaneously enabled the epidemic and impede the most obvious law based solutions It concludes with a partial answer in the public schools as they perform their original and still salient communitarian function acting masculine displaying aggression at one another's expense as both students and adults police one another to uphold gender stereotypes Klein shows that the aggressive ritual of gender policing in American culture creates emotional damage that perpetuates violence through revenge and that this cycle is the main cause of not only the many school shootings that have shocked America but also related problems in schools manifesting in high rates of suicide depression anxiety eating disorders self cutting truancy and substance abuse After two decades working in schools as a school social worker and professor Klein proposes ways to transcend these destructive trends transforming school bully societies into compassionate communities
