Flame Of Sunset:

Flame of Sunset Llewellyn Perry Holmes, 1979      Brigid Brian Wright, 2011-10-21 Brigid is a mysterious figure both goddess and saint who is still revered worldwide today in her different aspects Combining early Celtic history archaeology and customs associated with both the goddess and the saint this book provides a fascinating insight into the development of this unique mythical and historical figure Using the available evidence the author suggests a date for the conception of the deity Brigid suggesting why and by whom she was created He also explains how the goddess became a saint and how this is historically linked with the unification of Ireland under a High King The book goes on to look at how the goddess and the saint are still venerated in today's world such as the burning of the perpetual flame in Ireland relit by President McAleese in 2006

On Fire Larry Schwarm, 2003 Inaugural Winner The Center for Documentary Studies Honickman First Book Prize in Photography A startling mesmerizing series of photographs of prairie fires On Fire transports us from moments of almost apocalyptic splendor to the stillness of near abstraction For over a decade Kansas based photographer Larry Schwarm has been making extraordinary color photographs of the dramatic prairie fires that sweep across the vast grasslands of his native state each spring Based on this stunning and extensive body of work Schwarm was chosen from over 500 submissions as the inaugural winner of the CDS Honickman Foundation First Book Prize in Photography With publication of On Fire Duke University Press in association with the Center for Documentary Studies and The Honickman Foundation launches this major biennial book prize for American photographers Fire is an essential element of the ecosystem Every spring the expanses of tallgrass prairie in the Flint Hills of east central Kansas undergo controlled burning For photographer Larry Schwarm documenting these fires has become a passion He captures the essence of the fires and their distinct personalities ranging from calm and lyrical to angry and raging His photos allow us to see the redemptive power of fire and to remove ourselves from its tragic elements Through Schwarm's lens the horizon takes on new meaning as we view the sublime mystical and sensual character of the burning landscape Schwarm connects the enormous power and devastation of fire to what can only be identified as another kind of creation the creation of beauty Published by Duke University Press in association with Lyndhurst Books of the Center for Documentary Studies To view images from the book please visit <http://cds.aas.duke.edu/books/fire.html> The Center for Documentary Studies Honickman First Book Prize in Photography is open to American photographers who use their cameras for creative exploration whether it be of places people or communities of the natural or social world of beauty at large or the lack of it of objective or subjective realities Information and guidelines about the prize are available at <http://cds.aas.duke.edu/grants>

The idea of this women s magazine originated with Samuel Williams a Cincinnati Methodist who thought that Christian women needed a magazine less worldly than Godey s Lady s Book and Snowden s Lady s Companion Written largely by ministers this exceptionally well printed little magazine contained well written essays of a moral character plenty of poetry articles on historical and scientific matters and book reviews Among western writers were Alice Cary who contributed over a hundred sketches and poems her sister Phoebe Cary Otway Curry Moncure D Conway and Joshua R Giddings and New England contributors included Mrs Lydia Sigourney Hannah F Gould and Julia C R Dorr By 1851 each issue published a peice of music and two steel plates usually landscapes or portraits When Davis E Clark took over the editorship in 1853 the magazine became brighter and attained a circulation of 40 000 Unlike his predecessors Clark included fictional pieces and made the Repository a magazine for the whole family After the war it began to decline and in 1876 was replaced by the National Repository The Ladies Repository was an excellent representative of the Methodist mind and heart Its essays sketches and poems its good steel engravings and its moral tone gave it a charm all its own Cf American periodicals 1741 1900      Overland Monthly ,1926      Industrial Standardization and Commercial

The Interior West Stephen J. Pyne, 2018-03-13 Its fires help to give the Interior West a peculiar character fundamental to its natural and human histories While a general aridity unites the region defined here as Nevada Utah and western Colorado its fires illuminate the ways that the region's various parts show profoundly different landscapes biotas and human settlement experiences In this collection of essays fire historian Stephen J. Pyne explains the relevance of the Interior West to the national fire scene This region offered the first scientific inquiry into landscape fire in the United States including a map of Utah burns published in 1878 as part of John Wesley Powell's Arid Lands report Then its significance faded and for most of the 20th century the Interior West was the hole in the national donut of fire management Recently the region has returned to prominence due to fires along its front ranges invasive species both exotics like cheatgrass and unleashed natives like mountain pine beetle and fatality fires notably at South Canyon in 1994 The Interior West has long been passed over in national fire narratives Here it reclaims its rightful place Included in this volume A summary of 19th and 20th century fire history in the Interior West How this important region inspired U.S. studies of landscape fire Why the region disappeared from national fire management discussions How the expansion of invasive species and loss of native species has affected the region's fire ecology The national significance of fire in the Interior West
