Flatness And Other Landscapes:

The Flatness and Other Landscapes Michael Martone, 2003-09 In these essays the flatness of the Midwest becomes the author's canvas for a richly textured multidimensional exploration of its culture and history. From depicting the details of mechanized cow milking to relating the similarities between the Greek city of Sparta and Indianapolis, Martone subtly connects different cultures, times, and stories. The American Midwest Andrew R. L. Cayton, Richard Sisson, Chris Zacher, 2006-11-08 This first ever encyclopedia of the Midwest seeks to embrace this large and diverse area to give it voice and help define its distinctive character. Organized by topic, it encourages readers to reflect upon the region as a whole. Each section moves from the general to the specific, covering broad themes in longer introductory essays, filling in the details in the shorter entries that follow. There are portraits of each of the region's twelve states, followed by entries on society and culture, community and social life, economy and technology, and public life. The book offers a wealth of information about the region's surprising ethnic diversity, a vast array of foods, languages, styles, religions, and customs, plus well-informed essays on the region's history, culture, and values, and conflicts. A site of ideas and innovations, reforms and revivals, and social and physical extremes, the Midwest emerges as a place of great complexity, signal importance, and continual fascination. Jerusalem Creek Ted Leeson, 2004-06-01 Every existence has its pulse points, writes Ted Leeson in this latest book: those places where life rises somehow closer to the surface and makes itself more keenly felt. Spring creeks have been mine. Jerusalem Creek is an exploration into the unique landscape of the driftless area in southwest Wisconsin: a geography of small concealments of coves and hollows, oak groves and shady bends, winding brooks and trout. It is not a landscape that you hike up or climb down into or stand out looking upon; it is one that you slip inside of, and this book presents the view from within. Leeson reflects on waters and people and the experiences and ideas that shaped his understanding of spring creek country. By turns thoughtful and hilarious, passionate and wry, he journeys into the special charms of small-scale waters and pastoral spaces: the nature of meandering trout streams and fishermen, ruminations on dairy cows, honeybees, and the midwestern character, family, and angling companions, Amish farmsteads, the memory of a missing photograph, the equivocal dream of owning a trout stream, the ways in which the past endures in the present. Layered and overlapping like the limestone geology of driftless country, the meditations in this book cumulatively tell the story of how we create the places we love and how they in turn create us. Jerusalem Creek is a wise, poignant, and haunting book about those places that remain with us long after we've left them.

The Preface Ross K. Tangedal, 2021-11-06 Building on insights from the fields of textual criticism, bibliography, narratology, authorship studies, and book history, The Preface: American Authorship in the Twentieth Century examines the role that prefaces played in the development of professional authorship in America. Many of the prefaces written by American writers in the twentieth century catalogue the shifting landscape of a more self-consciously professionalized trade, one fraught with tension and compromise and influenced by evolving reading publics. With analyses of Willa Cather, Ring Lardner

F Scott Fitzgerald Ernest Hemingway Robert Penn Warren and Toni Morrison Ross K Tangedal argues that writers used prefaces as a means of expanding and complicating authority over their work and ultimately as a way to write about their careers Tangedal s approach offers a new way of examining American writers in the evolving literary marketplace of the twentieth century So the Story Goes John T. Irwin, Jean McGarry, 2005-05-13 Writing about a wide variety of subjects and in a multitude of styles the twenty writers collected here share a mastery of language and an extraordinary ability to entertain Ellen Akins from World Like a Knife Her Book Steve Barthelme from And He Tells the Little Horse the Whole Story Zorro Glenn Blake from Drowned Moon Marsh Jennifer Finney Boylan from Remind Me to Murder You Later Thirty six Miracles of Lyndon Johnson Richard Burgin from Fear of Blue Skies Bodysurfing Avery Chenoweth from Wingtips Powerman Guy Davenport from Da Vinci s Bicycle A Field of Snow on a Slope of the Rosenberg Tristan Davies from Cake Counterfactuals Stephen Dixon from Time to Go Time to Go Judith Grossman from How Aliens Think Rovera Josephine Jacobsen from What Goes without Saying On the Island Greg Johnson from I Am Dangerous Hemingway s Cats Jerry Klinkowitz from Basepaths Basepaths Michael Martone from Safety Patrol Safety Patrol Jack Matthews from Crazy Women Haunted by Name Our Ignorant Lips Jean McGarry from Dream Date The Last Time Robert Nichols from In the Air Six Ways of Looking at Farming Joe Ashby Porter from Lithuania West Baltimore Frances Sherwood from Everything You ve Heard Is True History Robley Wilson from The Book of Lost Fathers Hard Times Indigenous Cris Mazza, 2003-05 Engaging memoir about growing up in rural Southern California and identifying as a Californian for life The Blue Guide to Indiana Michael Martone, 2001-08 Let Martone guide you through every inch of the amazing state that is home to the Hoosier Infidelity Resort Area the site of Wendell Willkie s Ascension into Heaven and the Annual Eyeless Fish Fry All your questions will be answered including many you never thought to ask like What s a good recipe for Pork Cake BOOK JACKET The Politics of Making Mark Swenarton, Igea Troiani, Helena Webster, 2013-04-15 A unique collection of contemporary writings this book explores the politics involved in the making and experiencing of architecture and cities from a cross cultural and global perspective Taking a broad view of the word politics the essays address a range of questions including What is the relationship between politics and the making of space What role has theory played in reinforcing or resisting political power What are the political difficulties associated with working relationships Do the products of our making construct our identity or liberate us A timely volume focusing on an interdisciplinary debate on the politics of making this is valuable reading for all students professionals and academics interested or working in architectural theory Touchstone Anthology of Contemporary Creative Nonfiction Lex Williford, Michael Martone, 2007-12-11 From memoir to journalism personal essays to cultural criticism this indispensable anthology brings together works from all genres of creative nonfiction with pieces by fifty contemporary writers including Cheryl Strayed David Sedaris Barbara Kingsolver and more Selected by five hundred writers English professors and creative writing teachers from across the country this collection includes only the most highly regarded nonfiction work published
