Ocean Institute, 1991 A new approach to the development and management of environmentally sustainable and socially relevant technologies in the marine sector through new forms of private and public international cooperation Deals with the most fundamental aspect of the development gap between the North and the South the technology gap As technological innovation based on research and development is the engine which drives economic growth and most developing countries are left out of research and development in high technology it is difficult to narrow the economic development gap thus reducing poverty It is of paramount importance that this gap be narrowed if both environmental and international security is to be increased This book emphasises the development of human resources in technology co development moving from traditional to contemporary to futuristic concepts and makes a number of concrete recommendations which should be on the development environment agenda for the 1990 s FAO Fisheries Technical Paper ,1999 Modern Fishing Gear of the
