Fired Magic Detroit's Pewabic Pottery Treasures:

Fired Magic Marcy Heller Fisher, 2003 Mary Chase Perry Stratton and Horace J Caulkins founded Detroit's Pewabic Pottery in 1903 during the height of the Arts and Crafts Movement. Now celebrating its centennial, Pewabic is one of the few historic art potteries still operating in the United States. The pottery remains an integral part of artistic life in the Detroit area; its presence in the city is underscored by such installations as the modern tile murals in Detroit's People Mover Stations, the fairy tale friezes around fireplaces in area schools, and mosaic tiled ceilings in museums and churches. Fired Magic is the story of a child discovering the beauty of Pewabic tile installations in the metropolitan Detroit area. Readers accompany the main character, Angie, on a tour of architecturally significant historic and contemporary tiled floors, ceilings, fountains, fireplaces, and other tile installations that grace the city and its environs, such as Belle Isle Park, the Detroit Institute of Arts, Cranbrook Educational Community, and the Detroit Zoo. Readers also join Angie in taking a class at Pewabic Pottery where she learns to make tiles and other clay objects. The book provides a glossary of ceramic terms and a comprehensive list of Pewabic installations around the United States so that readers may discover the beauty of Pewabic tile for themselves. This is the second in a series of books celebrating the cultural heritage of Detroit and the Great Lakes. Like the first in the series, The Outdoor Museum: The Magic of Michigan's Marshall M. Fredericks, Wayne State University Press, 2001, this book is written for students from age 8 and above; however, it is enjoyable for art lovers of all ages. Through its inviting tale and rich illustrations, Fired Magic relates the history of Pewabic Pottery from its beginnings in the Arts and Crafts Movement and furthers the pottery's present-day mission to support, educate, and foster appreciation for ceramic art.

Chardavoyne, 2003-07-16 The first historical study and a riveting account of the last execution in Michigan On September 24 1830 Stephen G Simmons a fifty year old tavern keeper and farmer was hanged in Detroit for murdering his wife Levana Simmons in a drunken jealous rage Michigan executed only two people during the fifty year period from 1796 to 1846 when the death penalty was legal within its boundaries Simmons was the second and last person to be executed under Michigan law In A Hanging in Detroit David G Chardavoyne vividly evokes not only the crime trial and execution of Simmons but also the setting and players of the drama social and legal customs of the times and the controversy that arose because of the affair Chardavoyne illuminates his account of this important moment in Michigan's history with many little known facts creating a study that is at once an engrossing story and the first historical examination of the event that helped bring about the abolition of the death penalty in Michigan Simmons execution came at a time when Michigan had begun to change from a sparsely populated wilderness to a thriving agricultural center and Detroit from a small military outpost to a metropolis founded on trade manufacturing and an influx of immigrants and other settlers The hanging was a defining moment during this period of dramatic social change Thousands of spectators crowded into Detroit expecting to see a thrilling public execution Many of those spectators however left deeply disturbed by the spectacle they had witnessed Chardavoyne a lawyer probes the unsettling incident which sparked a profound shift in attitudes toward capital punishment in Michigan examining along the way such mysteries as why Simmons was hanged for his crime when other contemporary killers were hardly punished at all A Hanging in Detroit will fascinate legal historians and lay readers alike with its incisive look into Great Lakes regional history and crime and punishment in Michigan The Last Good Water Michael Delp,2003 Table of contents
