Linguistic Theory 2012 Karen Lahousse, Stefania Marzo, 2014-12-15 This volume contains a selective collection of peer reviewed papers that were presented at the 26th Going Romance conference organized at the KU Leuven Belgium from 6-8 December 2012. The annual Going Romance conference has developed into the major European discussion forum for theoretically relevant research on Romance languages. The present volume testifies to the significance of the analysis of Romance languages for the field of linguistics in general and theoretical linguistics in particular. It contains eleven articles dealing with issues related to all core linguistic domains and interfaces and representing different empirical phenomena. The articles provide data from a significant range of Romance languages and language varieties: French standard Italian and Italian dialects, Spanish Catalan, Catalan Contact Spanish standard and non standard European Portuguese Galician as well as from Latin English and German.

Research Handbook on International Solidarity and the Law Cecilia M. Bailliet, 2024-04-12 This comprehensive and insightful Research Handbook addresses the interpretation of international solidarity within topical legal regimes and regional systems as well as in relation to decolonization and the concepts of Ummah and Ubuntu. It examines the way in which international solidarity enables the global community to respond to intercontinental challenges including climate change, forced migration, health emergencies and inequality.

Postmodern Spain Antonio Sánchez, 2007 Postmodern Spain examines the cultural transformation experienced by Spanish society during the late 1980s and 1990s. By looking at specific aspects of culture, the representation of the human subject, the past and the transformation of the city, this book critically reassesses the validity of postmodernism in Spain. Focusing on the novels written by Juan Goytisolo during this period, this book examines the representation and development of the human subject and its identification with the marginalized others. It further analyses various representations of the Spanish Civil War, challenging the prevalent view of post-Franco Spain as suffering from amnesia and thereby vindicates postmodern historical representations as a valid dialogue with the past. The third chapter examines Barcelona's urban redevelopment, analysing the transformation effected in some of its popular sites as a postmodern reformulation of the city as a fluid, flexible public space. Finally, it brings its previous findings to bear on an analysis of the Barcelona 1992 Olympic Games. It argues that these celebrations constituted a performance of Spain's new cultural identity designed for global national and local consumption. Thus, these cultural celebrations corroborated the emergence of postmodernism as a cultural dominant which has exceeded modern and pre-modern cultural practices while paradoxically containing and enhancing both.

Sustainability Assessment of Urban Systems Claudia R. Binder, Romano Wyss, Emanuele Massaro, 2020-03-26 Our world is becoming more urban. More than fifty percent of the global population now lives in cities, which poses new challenges for sustainable development. This book integrates theory and methods of sustainability assessment with concepts from systems science to provide guidelines for assessing the sustainability of urban systems It discusses different aspects of urban sustainability from energy and housing to mobility and health covering social economic and environmental factors as well as the various stakeholders and actors involved The book argues for the need to find models and solutions in order to design sustainable cities of the future in light of the complexity of urban social life Including diverse case studies from the developed and developing world this book provides a useful reference for researchers and students from a broad range of disciplines working in the field of sustainability as well as for environmental consultants and policy makers
