Manley,Elizabeth Manley,2025-05-13 Imagining the Tropics is a history of the development of tourism in the Caribbean from the 1910s through the 1970s that focuses on the ways women s labors of hospitality writing and advocacy built the industry and its ubiquitous imagery of tropical island relaxation escape and romance By examining a range of sources engaging an array of women protagonists and looking broadly across multiple Caribbean island states including Jamaica Cuba the Bahamas Barbados the Dominican Republic Haiti Puerto Rico Trinidad and Tobago and the U S and British Virgin Islands it seeks to understand how the region came to be sold as a romantic escape from the troubles of the modern world By putting women at the center of Caribbean tourism history as both its ambassadors and objects of desire it seeks to explain some of the complicated contradictions that plague the business of pleasure but also to point toward ways of building alternative models to its present and past extractive realities Fodor's Yugoslavia Eugene Fodor,1951 The Illusion of a Conservative Reagan Revolution Larry M. Schwab,1991-01-01 Many political commentators both liberal and conservative have argued that the 1980s were a period of fundamental conservative change Some of them believe that the changes have been so important that the 1980s should be seen as a watershed period in American political history as significant as the 1930s Schwab argues here that politics and policy have not fundamentally changed in a conservative direction but have actually moved in the opposite direction This book is a timely and comprehensive analysis of the Reagan years of interest to all readers interested in politics and national policy Serials Catalog: Titles A-Z Iowa State University. Library,1979 Ideology and Interest Myron J. Aronoff,2024-12-06 The Political Anthropology series offers a forum for the publication of original essays in the pioneering new multidisciplinary field of political anthropology One of its major goals is to foster scholarly communication across conventional disciplinary boundaries Volume one explores various aspects of the relationship between culture and politics The introductory essay sets forth a conceptual framework for the study of political ideology from an anthropological perspective The other essays include analyses of revivalist politics in Bermuda caste ideology and power in Nepal the discrepancy between the ideals and the political practice of the Sikhs in India s Punjab the relationship between religious models of solidarity and structures of political power in rural Bangladesh the relations between political action and meaning in West Bengal and the attempt by the Soviets to fabricate a new Kazakh social past Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series Library of Congress.
