Idealism, Relativism, and Realism Dominik Finkelde, Paul M. Livingston, 2020-05-05 Several debates of the last years within the research field of contemporary realism known under titles such as New Realism Continental Realism or Speculative Materialism have shown that science is not systematically the ultimate measure of truth and reality This does not mean that we should abandon the notions of truth or objectivity all together as has been posited repeatedly within certain currents of twentieth century philosophy However within the research field of contemporary realism the concept of objectivity itself has not been adequately refined What is objective is supposed to be true outside a subject's biases interpretations and opinions having truth conditions that are met by the way the world is The volume combines articles of internationally outstanding authors who have published on either Idealism Epistemic Relativism or Realism and often locate themselves within one of these divergent schools of thought As such the volume focuses on these traditions with the aim of clarifying what the concept objectivity nowadays stands for within contemporary ontology and epistemology beyond the analytic continental divide With articles from Jocelyn Benoist Ray Brassier G Anthony Bruno Dominik Finkelde Markus Gabriel Deborah Goldhaber Iain Hamilton Grant Graham Harman Johannes Heidegger Andrea Kern Anton F Koch Martin Kusch Paul M Livingston Paul Redding Sebastian Riedl Dieter Sturma
