The ABC's of Widowhood Pat Nowak, 2003-08 Sudden paralysis is a circumstance no one wishes to get intimately familiar with but such tragedies do unfortunately occur In my own experience I've learned that a mother will search desperately for the tools of education whenever they're required but when my son was involved in a life changing accident I could find no shared experiences written of by another parent After living through the experience of the accident's aftermath and the many months of rehabilitation I was eventually able to sit down and put words onto paper in the hope that another mother would one day find my experience helpful during their own times of learning and searching That immediate past so suddenly lost without preparation of any kind brought my old son into focus at the same time as my mind was trying to meet the new one who was in many ways a stranger based on the physical limitations and changes now present in his life During this time is when I met the ghost and the handsome man in the wheelchair I was determined to do so positively but had no instruction book on the new parenting needs We learned together all of us who loved my son and I can now see that part of the lesson is that the ghost leaves us in his own time as we learn to let him go There is no one means or one method lesson book I have tried as honestly as I can to share my experience as a mother My attempt is supported by my courageously inspiring son who was the motivator and teacher in many ways and by his younger brother who shared commitment and devotion with me At the end of our story which is truly a beginning of another our lives are full and blessings continue to enrich our times together The goal of this book is that the reader will find something that will take them through Hell Week to the start of their loved one's new life with more hope and confidence Many have contributed to our progress I hope I may contribute to the hopefulness of others in similar circumstances

Walking with Ghosts Gabriel Byrne, 2021-01-12 A masterpiece poetic moving and very funny find it on the shelf alongside other great Irish memoirs including those by Frank McCourt Nuala O Faolain and Edna O'Brien Colum McCann As a young boy growing up in the outskirts of Dublin Gabriel Byrne sought refuge in a world of imagination among the fields and hills near his home at the edge of a rapidly encroaching city Born to working class parents and the eldest of six children he harbored a childhood desire to become a priest When he was eleven years old Byrne found himself crossing the Irish Sea to join a seminary in England Four years later Byrne had been expelled and he quickly returned to his native city There he took odd jobs as a messenger boy and factory laborer to get by In his spare time he visited the cinema where he could be alone and yet part of a crowd It was here that he could begin to imagine a life beyond the grey world of 1960s Ireland In this memoir he revels in the theater and poetry of Dublin's streets populated by characters as eccentric and remarkable as any in fiction and recounts his decision to join an amateur theater group a decision that would change his life forever Moving between sensual recollection of childhood in a now almost vanished Ireland and reflections on stardom in Hollywood and on Broadway Byrne also courageously recounts his battle with addiction and the ambivalence of fame Byrne writes with much more depth than the typical celebrity memoirist accessing some of Heaney's earthiness and Joyce's grasp of how Catholic guilt can shape an artist a winning dry humor that reads as authentically humble Kirkus Reviews starred review A gripping memoir that is anything but typical Hollywood evokes a beautiful sense of nostalgia melancholy and vulnerability Winnipeg Free Press A real writer a born storyteller The Washington Post A dreamy book He writes passionately about his first love and hilariously about his early fame as an actor Irish Times
