Language Experience in Second Language Speech Learning Ocke-Schwen Bohn, Murray J.

Munro, 2007-01-01 Deals with the language experience in second language speech learning Language beyond Words:

The Neuroscience of Accent Ignacio Moreno-Torres, Peter Mariën, Guadalupe Dávila, Marcelo L. Berthier, 2017-03-23

Language learning also implies the acquisition of a set of phonetic rules and prosodic contours which define the accent in that language. While often considered as merely accessory, accent is an essential component of psychological identity as it embodies information on origin, culture, and social class. Speaking with a non-standard foreign accent is not inconsequential because it may negatively impact communication and social adjustment. Nevertheless, the lack of a formal definition of accent may explain that, as compared with other aspects of language, it has received relatively little attention until recently. During the past decade, there has been increasing interest in the analysis of accent from a neuroscientific perspective. This e-book integrates data from different scientific frameworks. The reader will find fruitful research on new models of accent processing, how learning a new accent proceeds, and the role of feedback on accent learning in healthy subjects. In addition, information on accent changes in pathological conditions, including developmental and psychogenic foreign accent syndromes, as well as the description of a new variant of foreign accent syndrome, is also included. It is anticipated that the articles in this e-book will enhance the understanding of accent as a linguistic phenomenon, the neural networks supporting it, and potential interventions to accelerate acquisition or relearning of native accents. The Super Superintendent Harold J.

Westing, 1980 Adult Basic Education Educational Materials Laboratory (U.S.), 1968 Early Language Learning and Teacher Education Subhan Zein, Sue Garton, 2019-02-26 Language teacher education is widely identified as one of the most important areas that needs addressing in order to improve early language instruction, yet research into teacher education for early language teachers remains relatively sparse. This volume responds to this gap by compiling studies with diverse methodological tenets from a wide range of geographical and educational contexts around the world. The volume aims to enhance understanding of early language teacher education as well as to address the need to prepare early language teachers and assist them in their professional development The chapters focus on the complexity of teacher learning innovations in mentoring and teacher supervision strategies in programme development and perceptions and knowledge and assessment in early language learning teacher education The volume offers comprehensive coverage of the field by addressing various aspects of teacher education in different languages The contributions highlight examples of research into current practice in the professional enhancement of early language learning teachers but with an emphasis on the implications for practitioners Subject Catalog Library of Congress,1980-04 National Union Catalog ,1981
