The Oxford Handbook of Recruitment Kang Yang Trevor Yu PhD,Daniel M. Cable PhD,2013-10-15 The past 40 years have established recruitment as a fundamental area of research to both researchers and practitioners No longer is recruitment viewed as simply another component of human resource management but rather a strategic tool with wide ranging implications for organizations To this extent investigations on the subject have drawn upon diverse perspectives from economics to marketing highlighting recruitment s links with multiple aspects of organizational functioning such as selection onboarding organizational culture job performance and turnover The goal of this handbook is to provide an integrative and comprehensive summary of the state of recruitment research. It is hoped that by providing insight to both theoretical and empirical underpinnings of the topic this volume will focus readers to the important issues affecting our understanding and application of recruitment concepts and provide structure toward current thinking and future exploration of the field. In the spirit of investigative inquiry the book's chapters are organized according to the questions they answer about the nature of recruitment: Who is involved in recruitment? What do these stakeholders do? When do recruitment phenomena occur? Where does recruitment take place? Why does recruitment influence various stakeholders in the process and finally how is recruitment investigated? Aimed at both potential and existing recruiters the expert contributions included in this handbook serve as a springboard to energize and focus future endeavor in recruitment an increasingly pertinent driver of individual and organizational success.

Australia Juliet Pietsch, Haydn Aarons, 2012-11-01 The latter years of the first decade of the twenty first century were characterised by an enormous amount of challenge and change to Australia and Australians. Australia's part in these challenges and changes is borne of our domestic and global ties, our orientation towards ourselves and others and an ever increasing awareness of the interdependency of our world. Challenges and changes such as terrorism, climate change, human rights, community breakdown, work and livelihood and crime are not new but they take on new variations and impact on us in different ways in times such as these.
