Ghana A Country Study:

Ghana Country Study Adam Higazi, 2005      GHANA, 1971      Ghana LaVerle Bennette Berry, 1995      Ghana USA International Business Publications, 2001-05-01      A New Era of Transformation in Ghana Clemens Breisinger, Xinshen Diao, Shashidhara Kolavalli, Ramatu M. Al-Hassan, James Thurlow, 2011-01-01 Several Sub Saharan African nations have experienced increased economic growth and political stability in recent years compared with the stagnation and turmoil of previous decades Ghana is one of the biggest success stories of the region the nation has enjoyed an annual average of five percent economic growth for the past 20 years and will probably be the first Sub Saharan African country to achieve the Millennium Development Goal of cutting poverty in half by 2015 This study examines how Ghana can build on its achievements and possibly serve as a model for other African countries By drawing on existing literature and applying a highly disaggregated dynamic general equilibrium model to Ghana s experiences the authors identify certain necessary factors for further economic development in the country These requirements include continued political stability growth in manufacturing improved domestic services such as transportation and agricultural development that goes beyond past reliance on cash crops such as cocoa to include major staples and livestock This kind of broad based growth will benefit the entire economy thereby reducing poverty The authors analysis provides an economic development strategy for Ghana and possibly other countries in the region to policymakers development specialists and others concerned with Sub Saharan Africa

Ghana Country Study Guide IBP USA, 2002-02 Geography history people language culture traditions economy government politics constitution places to visit info for travelers      Ghana Country Study Guide International Business Publications, 2004-01-01 Geography history people language culture traditions economy government politics constitution places to visit info for travelers      The Economy of Ghana Sixty Years after Independence Ernest Aryeetey, Ravi Kanbur, 2017-02-09 As Ghana approaches its 60th birthday optimism and worries for the future continue to be present in equal measure Economic growth in the last decade has been high by historical standards Indeed recent rebasing of GDP figures has put Ghana over the per capita income threshold into Middle Income Country status However structural transformation has lagged behind Fiscal discipline has also eroded significantly and there is heavy borrowing especially on the commercial market while elements of the natural resource curse from oil have already occurred The question most observers ask is whether the gains from two decades of reforms are being reversed Given this background this volume brings together leading established and young economists from within and outside Ghana to analyze and assess the challenges facing Ghana s economy as it enters its seventh decade and the nation heads towards three quarters of a century of independence The chapters cover the major macroeconomic and sectoral issues including fiscal and monetary policy trade and industrialization agriculture and infrastructure The volume also covers a full range of social issues including poverty and inequality education health gender and social protection The book also examines the implications of the oil boom for

Ghanaian development and the role of institutions      Accelerating Growth and Structural Transformation: Ghana's Options for Reaching Middle-Income Country Status Clemens Breisinger, Xinshen Diao, James Thurlow, Bingxin Yu, and Shashidhara Kolavalli,      The Economy of Ghana Mozammel Huq, Michael Tribe, 2018-09-12 The book follows a first edition published in 1989 which focused on the severe economic crisis Ghana faced during the late 1970s and the early 1980s In this second edition the authors extend the review up to the mid 2010s covering the entire period since independence with a special focus on shifts in economic policy starting with the adoption of the Economic Recovery Programme in 1983 Huq and Tribe provide systematic coverage of Ghanaian economic development since its independence reviewing the two main modes of development that have been practiced and offer an updated rich data bank By analyzing the wider macroeconomy of Ghana its individual sectors money banking and trade infrastructure and environmental policies and Ghana's poverty welfare and income distribution the authors are able to draw vital lessons from the country's economic development      The Making of Anti-Poverty Policies in Ghana Rosina K. Foli, 2023-03-09 This book examines the roles played by transnational actors to influence poverty reduction policies in Ghana Whereas previous studies on anti poverty policies have primarily focused on the carrot and stick approach deployed by transnational actors whereby developmental assistance is granted in return of certain conditions being met this book demonstrates that there are several alternative strategies Indeed rather than adopting hard means of shaping policy many transnational actors in fact use a soft approach characterized by collaboration In order to demonstrate this the book examines two poverty reduction programmes Utilising research based on interviews with national policymakers civil society organizations and the media it compares different approaches used by transnational actors and the attendant outcomes for national and international parties Drawing on an interdisciplinary perspective the book will appeal to scholars and students of public policy and international relations      E-Learning Elvis Pontes, Adilson Guelfi, Sergio Kofuji, 2012-03-14 E learning enables students to pace their studies according to their needs making learning accessible to 1 people who do not have enough free time for studying they can program their lessons according to their available schedule 2 those far from a school geographical issues or the ones unable to attend classes due to some physical or medical restriction Therefore cultural geographical and physical obstructions can be removed making it possible for students to select their path and time for the learning course Students are then allowed to choose the main objectives they are suitable to fulfill This book regards E learning challenges opening a way to understand and discuss questions related to long distance and lifelong learning E learning for people with special needs and lastly presenting case study about the relationship between the quality of interaction and the quality of learning achieved in experiences of E learning formation      Brunei Country Guide Volume 1 Strategic Information and Developments IBP USA, 2013-08 Brunei Country Study Guide Strategic Information and Developments      Development of an Analytical Tool to Assess National Biosecurity Legislation Daniele Manzella, Jessica Vapnek, 2007-01-01 Biosecurity aims to facilitate the implementation of international obligations related to international trade and the protection of human animal and plant life and health as well as the environment It looks at the coordination of sectoral regulatory authorities in order to manage biological risks for food and agriculture in an efficient and holistic manner Upgraded legislation is needed to align national laws to international standards and to enhance institutional coordination Countries require comprehensive and consistent national legal frameworks for Biosecurity in order to implement effective controls increase cost effectiveness and improve consistency across sectors Reviewing and assessing what legislation is in place is the first step toward implementing a Biosecurity approach It is not an easy exercise as the normative and functional components of Biosecurity are often found in a plethora of laws and regulations Based on the six pilot country studies this text develops an analytical methodology to review and assess national legal frameworks for Biosecurity Migration Law in Ghana Samuel Obeng Manteaw,Ama Fowa Hammond,2018-06-27 Derived from the renowned multi volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws this monograph on the rules on immigration and right of residence of non nationals in Ghana examines the legal and administrative conditions for persons not having the citizenship of a State to enter the country and to stay and reside there It provides a survey of the subject that is both usefully brief and sufficiently detailed to answer most questions likely to arise in any pertinent legal setting It follows the common structure of all monographs appearing in the International Encyclopaedia for Migration Law thus allowing easy comparison between the country studies As migration and economic activities are often interlinked the analysis pays particular attention to labour market access and regulation of self employed activities for non nationals The book describes the status of such specific categories of persons as students researchers temporary workers and asylum seekers as well as the position of family members detailing applicable legislation and providing practical information on administrative procedures sanctions and legal remedies and guarantees The impact of international human rights law and various bilateral and multilateral agreements is considered along with the broader application of national and local law to non citizens in such areas as family relations labour social security and education Lawyers scholars practitioners policymakers government administrations and non governmental organizations involved in the development practice and study of migration law will find this book indispensable It will be welcomed by lawyers representing parties with interests in Ghana and immigration specialists in both public and private organizations Academics and researchers also will appreciate its value in the study of comparative trends and harmonization initiatives affecting migrants Ghana, a Country Study Irving Kaplan,American University (Washington, D.C.). Foreign Area Studies,1980 Handbook of Research on In-Country Determinants and Implications of Foreign Land Acquisitions Osabuohien, Evans,2014-12-31 Several studies have investigated the impetus and implications behind large scale land acquisitions deals at the global level however intranational factors within communities and societies have not received much attention from researchers The Handbook of Research on In Country Determinants and Implications of Foreign Land Acquisitions examines the economic sociological and environmental issues surrounding land transactions and the impact these deals may have on local households and communities Focusing on international issues as well as domestic concerns this publication is a useful reference for policymakers academics researchers and advanced level students in various disciplines IMF - World Bank and Labor's Burdens in Africa Kwamina Panford,2001-08-30 Globalization the return to a multi party system of government and the policies advocated by the IMF and the World Bank have led to near revolutionary labor relations in Ghana As Panford shows these new social and economic forces have unleashed new and even contradictory labor policies and practices which are having profound social political and economic consequences Panford examines how the Ghana Constitution of 1992 led for the first time to new workers rights including the right to affiliate with any local national or international union In response to globalization and policies advocated by the IMF and the World Bank the Ghana government sought to resist worker demands for improved working and living conditions The situation was worsened by the privatization of state owned businesses and severe cuts in public employment In this environment of tense labor relations government hostility and weak employment Panford traces the ways workers are revitalizing unions and developing new sources of jobs and finances These include relatively aggressive systematic organization of women senior staff and the informal agricultural sector One of the most important initiatives of the unions is the creation of a workers trust to establish and finance worker owned enterprises The evidence presented by Panford indicates the failure of IMF and World Bank policies and he calls for new and viable policy alternatives with emphasis on enhancing Ghana s global competitiveness and meeting genuine development needs A thoughtful analysis that will be of interest to scholars and researchers involved with development and international economics labor relations in the developing world and the increased involvement of international financial institutions

The New African Diaspora in the United States Toyin Falola,Adebayo Oyebadde,2016-07-01 Fast growing in population African immigrants in the United States have become a significant force to the point that the idea of a new African diaspora is now a reality This thriving community has opened new arenas of scholarly discourse on Black Atlantic history beyond the trans Atlantic slave trade and its legacies This book investigates the complex dynamic forces that have shaped and continue to shape this new diaspora In eleven original essays the volume examines pertinent themes such as immigration integration dilemmas identity construction brain drain remittances expanding African religious space and how these dynamics impact and intersect with the African homeland With contributors from both sides of the Atlantic that represent a diverse range of academic disciplines this book offers a broad perspective on emerging themes in contemporary African diasporan experiences The book will be of interest to scholars and students of African and African American Studies Sociology and History Report of the workshop on "How to leverage the Illuminating Hidden Harvests approach for better small-scale fisheries data", Rome, 14-15 March 2023 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2024-05-10 The workshop on How to leverage the Illuminating Hidden Harvests approach for better small scale fisheries data explored how the results and methodology of the study Illuminating Hidden Harvests The contributions of small scale fisheries to sustainable development study IHH can be leveraged to support the improvement of small scale fisheries data with a view to inform management and policy Author The IHH is a global initiative of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO Duke University and WorldFish carried out in support of the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the Context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication SSF Guidelines Author The IHH report published in March 2023 provides new evidence about the benefits interactions and impacts of small scale fisheries to inform policy and practice Author This workshop focused on sub Saharan Africa as a starting point however in the future collaboration and support could extend to other regions Author The workshop concluded that there is considerable value in both the IHH approach and the data already collected that can be capitalized on at both national and regional levels taking country priorities into account Author Small scale fisheries organizations should be further empowered for engagement in relevant policy processes by equipping them with IHH data and information and partnerships should be sought also outside the fisheries sector Author Tailored communication pathways and products for diverse audiences will be needed including multiple language translations and simplified versions of the IHH report Author Using the IHH results and approach wisely will help improve the knowledge on the subsector and contribute to sustainable development Author
