Identity Work Constructing Pacific Lives:

Identity Work Pamela J. Stewart, Andrew Strathern, 2000 An examination of the position held by life story narratives in anthropological writings By tracing themes in the life of a subject represented the authors show how a person can be both linked to and alienated from their social world through their own developing experiences Telling Pacific Lives Vicki Luker, Brij V. Lal, 2008-06-01 This volume of essays is an exploration of the way in which scholars from different disciplines standpoints and theoretical orientations attempt to write life stories in the Pacific It is the product of a conference organised by the Division of Pacific and Asian History at The Australian National University in December 2005 The aim of the conference was to explore ways in which Pacific lives are read and constructed through a variety of media films fiction faction history under four overarching themes The first Framing Lives sought to explore various ways of constructing a life from a classic western perspective of birth formation experiences and death of an individual to other ways for example life as secondary to a longer genealogical entity life as a symbol of collective experience individual lives captured and fragmented in a mosaic of others lives made meaningful by their implication in a particular historical or cultural web the underlying values and world views that inform one or another approach to framing a life The second theme the Stuff of Life looked at materials methods and collaborative arrangements with which the biographer autobiographer and recorder work their objectives constraints inspirations challenges and tricks The third section Story Lines focused on formats and genres such as edited diaries collections of writings voice recordings genres of biography autobiography truth and fiction verse dance novels and the varieties and different advantages of narrative shapes that crystallise the telling of a life The final section Telling Lives Changing Lives focused on biography autobiography and the consciousness of identity history purpose lives as witness and windows telling lives as change for those involved in the tale the telling the listening The overall aim was to bring out both the generic or universal challenges of telling lives as well as to highlight the particular tendencies and trends in the Pacific Yet these four themes which seemed analytically promising at the outset proved in practice difficult to disentangle from the presentations at the workshop Provided by publisher Political Life Writing in the Pacific Jack Corbett, Brij V. Lal, 2015-07-29 This book aims to reflect on the experiential side of writing political lives in the Pacific region The collection touches on aspects of the life writing art that are particularly pertinent to political figures public perception and ideology identifying important political successes and policy initiatives grappling with issues like corruption and age old political science questions about leadership and dirty hands These are general themes but they take on a particular significance in the Pacific context and so the contributions explore these themes in relation to patterns of colonisation and the memory of independence issues elliptically captured by terms like culture and tradition the nature of self presented in Pacific life writing and the tendency for many of these texts to be written by outsiders or at least the increasingly contested nature of what that term means Managing Modernity in the Western Pacific Martha Macintyre, 2014-06-01 Fast money schemes in

Papua New Guinea collectivities in rural Solomon Islands gambling in the Cook Islands and the Vanuatu tax haven all feature in the interface between Pacific and global economies Since the 1970s Melanesian countries and their peoples have been beguiled by the prospect of economic development that would enable them to participate in a world market economic system Access to global markets would provide the means to improve their standard of living allowing them to take their places as independent nations in a modern world Managing Modernity in the Western Pacific takes a broad sweep through contemporary topics in Melanesian anthropology and ethnography With nuanced and rigorous scholarship it views contemporary debate on modernity in Melanesia within the context of the global economy and cultural capitalism In particular contributors assess local ideas about wealth success speculation and development and their connections to participation in institutions and activities generated by them This innovative and accessible collection offers a new intersection between Western Pacific anthropology and global studies

Expressive Genres and Historical Change

Andrew Strathern, 2017-07-05 Drawing on research conducted in New Guinea Indonesia Melanesia and Taiwan the contributors to this volume focus on how expressive genres such as music and dance are of enduring significance to social organization

A History of the Pacific Islands Steven Roger Fischer, 2013-03-13 This wide ranging study of the Pacific Islands provides a dynamic and provocative account of the peopling of the Pacific and its broad impact on world history Spanning over 50 000 years of human presence in an area which comprises one third of our planet Melanesia Micronesia and Polynesia the narrative follows the development of the region from New Guinea's earliest settlement to the creation of the modern Pacific states Thoroughly revised and updated in light of the most recent scholarship the second edition includes an overview of the events and developments in the Pacific Islands over the last decade coverage of the latest archaeological discoveries several new maps an updated and expanded bibliography Steven Roger Fischer's unique text provides a highly accessible and invaluable introduction to the history of an area which is currently emerging as pivotal in international affairs A History of the Pacific Islands traces the human history of nearly one third of the globe over a fifty thousand year span This is history on a grand scale taking the islands of Melanesia Micronesia and Polynesia from prehistoric culture to the present day through a skilful interpretation of scholarship in the field Fischer's familiarity with work in archaeology and anthropology as well as in history enriches the text making this a book with wide appeal for students and general readers

Political Parties in the Pacific Islands

Roland Rich, Luke Hambly, Michael G. Morgan, 2008-04-01 ANU E Press edition of work originally published by Pandanus Books While political parties remain an indispensable institutional framework for representation and governance in a democracy the democracies of many Pacific Islands nations are undermined by the weakness and inefficacy of their local political parties Addressing the implications of the lack of established party systems across the Pacific this collection seeks to illuminate the underlying assumptions and suppositions behind the importance of coherent and effective parties to overall democratic functioning Focusing on the political systems of East Timor Papua New Guinea Solomon Islands Vanuatu New Caledonia Fiji and Samoa the coherent structure of the volume makes it consistently useful as both an articulate analytical text and as a reference tool concerning the political composition history and direction of Pacific states Featuring contributions from scholars who are familiar names to even the most casual of Pacificists Political Parties in the Pacific is the benchmark reference work on the political parties of the Pacific an invaluable resource for students scholars and researchers of the Pacific and international politics Provided by publisher

Experiencing New Worlds Jürg Wassmann, Katharina Stockhaus, 2007 The many different localities of the Pacific region have a long history of transformation under both pre and post colonial conditions More recently rates of local transformation have increased tremendously under post colonial regimes The forces of globalization which rapidly distribute commodities images and political and moral concepts across the region have presented Pacific populations with an unprecedented need and opportunity to fashion new and expanded understandings of their cultural and individual identities This volume the first in a new series examines the forces of globalization at different levels as they manifest themselves and operate across cultural cognitive and biographical dimensions of human life in the Pacific While posing familiar questions it offers new answers through the integration of cultural and psychological methods The contributors draw on practice theory cognitive science and the anthropology of space and place while exploring the key analytical rubrics of human agency memory and landscape

Breaking the Frames Pamela J. Stewart, Andrew J. Strathern, 2016-11-23 This book argues that the breaking and re making of frames of analysis underlie the history of theorizing in anthropology Pamela J Stewart and Andrew J Strathern note that this mode of analysis risks fabricating over essentialized dichotomies between viewpoints The authors advocate a mindful nuanced people centered approach to all theorizing one that avoids total system approaches isms and suggest that theory should relate cogently to ethnography Mindful anthropology as this book envisages it is not a specific theory but a philosophical aspiration for the discipline as a whole

My God, My Land Jacqueline Ryle, 2016-12-05 Examining the multifaceted nature of Christianity in Fiji My God My Land reveals the deeply complex and often paradoxical dynamics and tensions between processes of change and continuity as they unfold in representations and practices of Christianity and tradition in people s everyday lives The book draws on extensive multi sited fieldwork in different denominations to explore how shared values and cultural belonging are employed to strengthen relations As such My God My Land will be of interest to anthropologists of Oceania as well as scholars and students researching into social and cultural change ritual religion Christianity enculturation and contextual theology

Inequality in New Guinea Highlands Societies Andrew Strathern, 2009-07-16 Strathern s illuminating study of the inequalities amongst the Highland societies of Papua New Guinea is now reissued with a new preface The five papers in this volume seek to set these inequalities into a context of long term and recent social changes that aim to develop schemes of analysis which will permit discussion of the societies over extended periods of time

Wayward Women Holly Wardlow, 2006-05-08 Written with uncommon grace and clarity this extremely engaging ethnography analyzes female agency gendered violence and transactional sex in contemporary Papua New Guinea Focusing on Huli passenger women women who accept money for sex Wayward Women explores the socio economic factors that push women into the practice of transactional sex and asks how these transactions might be an expression of resistance or even revenge Challenging conventional understandings of prostitution and sex work Holly Wardlow contextualizes the actions and intentions of passenger women in a rich analysis of kinship bridewealth marriage and exchange revealing the ways in which these robust social institutions are transformed by an encompassing capitalist economy Many passenger women assert that they have been treated olsem maket like market goods by their husbands and natal kin and they respond by fleeing home and defiantly appropriating their sexuality for their own purposes Experiences of rape violence and the failure of kin to redress such wrongs figure prominently in their own stories about becoming wayward Drawing on village court cases hospital records and women s own raw caustic and darkly funny narratives Wayward Women provides a riveting portrait of the way modernity engages with gender to produce new and contested subjectivities

The Making of Global and Local Modernities in Melanesia Holly Wardlow, 2016-12-05 Authored by well established and respected scholars this work examines the kinds of efforts that have been made to adopt Western modernity in Melanesia and explores the reasons for their varied outcomes The contributors take the work of Professor Marshall Sahlins as a starting point assessing his theories of cultural change and of the relationship between cultural intensification and globalizing forces They acknowledge the importance of Sahlins ideas while refining extending modifying and critiquing them in light of their own first hand knowledge of Pacific island societies Also presenting one of Sahlins less widely available original essays for reference this book is an exciting contribution to serious anthropological engagement with Papua New Guinea

Migrating Genders Johanna Schmidt, 2016-04-22 Migrating Genders presents a sustained description of male to female transgendered identities explaining how the fa afafine fit within the wider gender system of Samoa and examining both the impact of Westernization on fa afafine identities and lives and the experiences of fa afafine who have migrated to New Zealand Informed by theories of sex gender and embodiment this book explores the manner in which the expression and understanding of non normative gendered identities in Samoa problematizes dominant western understandings of the relationship between sex and gender

Drawing on rich empirical material this book tells of both the diversity and the uniqueness of fa afafine identities aspects which fa afafine have maintained in the face of Westernization migration and cultural marginalization in both Samoa and New Zealand As such in addition to anthropologists it will be of interest to geographers sociologists and other readers with interests in gender and sexuality

Restoring the Balance Gail Guthrie Valaskakis, Eric Guimond, Madeleine Dion Stout, 2011-07-15 First Nations peoples believe the eagle flies with a female wing and a male wing showing the importance of balance between the feminine and the masculine in all aspects of individual and community experiences Centuries of colonization however have devalued the traditional roles of First Nations women causing a great gender imbalance that limits the abilities of men women and their communities in achieving self actualization Restoring the Balance brings to light the work First Nations women have performed and continue to perform in cultural continuity and community development It illustrates the challenges and successes they have had in the areas of law politics education community healing language and art while suggesting significant options for sustained improvement of individual family and community well being Written by fifteen Aboriginal scholars activists and community leaders Restoring the Balance combines life histories and biographical accounts with historical and critical analyses grounded in traditional thought and approaches It is a powerful and important book

Mortality, Mourning and Mortuary Practices in Indigenous Australia Myrna Tonkinson, Victoria Burbank, 2017-03-02 Drawing on ethnography of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities across Australia Mortality Mourning and Mortuary Practices in Indigenous Australia focuses on the current ways in which indigenous people confront and manage various aspects of death The contributors employ their contemporary and long term anthropological fieldwork with indigenous Australians to construct rich accounts of indigenous practices and beliefs and to engage with questions relating to the frequent experience of death within the context of unprecedented change and premature mortality The volume makes use of extensive empirical material to address questions of inequality with specific reference to mortality thus contributing to the anthropology of indigenous Australia whilst attending to its theoretical methodological and political concerns As such it will appeal not only to anthropologists but also to those interested in social inequality the social and psychosocial consequences of death and the conceptualization and manipulation of the relationships between the living and the dead

Biomedical Entanglements Franziska A. Herbst, 2016-10-01 Biomedical Entanglements is an ethnographic study of the Giri people of Papua New Guinea focusing on the indigenous population s interaction with modern medicine In her fieldwork Franziska A Herbst follows the Giri people as they circulate within and around ethnographic sites that include a rural health center and an urban hospital The study bridges medical anthropology and global health exploring how the biomedical is imbued with social meaning and how biomedicine affects Giri ways of life

The Anthropology of Morality in Melanesia and Beyond John Barker, 2016-04-01 The Anthropology of Morality in Melanesia and Beyond examines how Melanesians experience and deal with moral dilemmas and challenges Taking Kenelm Burridge s seminal work as their starting point the contributors focus upon public situations and types of people that exemplify key ethical contradictions for members of moral communities. While returning to some classical concerns such as the roles of big men and sorcerers, the book opens new territory with richly textured ethnographic studies and theoretical reviews that explore the interface between the values associated with indigenous village life and the ethical orientations associated with Christianity, the state, the marketplace, and other facets of modernity. A major contribution to the emerging field of the anthropology of morality, the volume includes some of the most prominent scholars working in the discipline today, including Bruce Knauft, Joel Robbins, F. G. Bailey, Deborah Gewertz, and Frederick Errington.
