Fifty Years After The Big Sky William E. Farr, William W. Bevis, 2001. Writers, historians, and public intellectuals from James Welch and Mary Clearman Blew to Dan Flores, William W. Bevis, and Daniel Kemmis explore A. B. Guthrie's life and legacy in Fifty Years after The Big Sky: New Perspectives on the Fiction and Films of A. B. Guthrie Jr. Best known for his novels The Big Sky and The Way West and as the author of the screenplay for the movie classic Shane, A. B. Guthrie is a much-loved but under-studied Montana author. There has been almost no serious study of Guthrie's work until now. This wide-ranging anthology examines this beloved western author in multiple contexts. Essays examine Guthrie's relationship with the movie industry, how the Cold War influenced Guthrie's work, how people in his hometown of Choteau, Montana, and others close to him remember the man, and how the myths that lie at the core of Guthrie's fiction haunt today's Montanans.

A Literary History of the American West Western Literature Association (U.S.), 1987. Literary histories of course do not have a reason for being unless there exists the literature itself. This volume, perhaps more than others of its kind, is an expression of appreciation for the talented and dedicated literary artists who ignored the odds, avoided temptations to write for popularity or prestige, and chose to write honestly about the American West, believing that experiences long known to be of historical importance are also experiences that need and deserve a literature of importance.
