Like People:

Like People Karel Rudolf Ehrnreich, 2004 Annotation From an early age an intuitive and strong conviction grew that in many organizations the explicit and implicit qualities capabilities and skills of people are seriously under utilized The cause and consequences are rooted in the absence of an explicit compassionate vision of man and his wide spectrum of variable and invariable existential needs his large variety of related behavioral stimuli and the multi cultural keys that need to be addressed and activated Apparent miracles but actually very human things can be achieved by eliminating some of the causes of this very real under utilization phenomenon Using case studies the author describes the power of behavioral stimuli to create and or destroy success generating synergies in business organizations People Who Like Dogs Like People Who Like Dogs Nick Duerden, 2024-08-22 Anyone who has ever walked a dog and found themselves falling into conversation with others doing the same will love this funny charming and touching book RORY CELLAN JONES Ostensibly Nick Duerden is a cat person and so the acquisition of a family dog in his late 40s takes him by surprise The border terrier Missy is in part a therapeutic aid the idea being that she ll get Nick out of the house after a long period of ill health and back into the wider sociable world Unexpectedly it works There can t be many opportunities in midlife to suddenly find yourself connecting with both hopeful young actor types and widowed octogenarians a verbose existentialist Russian dissident and a stoned martial arts enthusiast a bulldog with a basketball and a self proclaimed animal mystic but this is precisely what Missy and the daily walk round the park provides Incidentally she saves marriages too People Who Like Dogs Like People Who Like Dogs is a book about connection and friendship love and loss the vagaries of midlife and the deep solace that comes from an enduring relationship It s about finding yourself when for too long you ve been lost and how even when for whatever reason horizons draw in there s still plenty of adventure left You just have to look harder for it And it s about how the introduction of a small dog into your life can make the world big again Like People You See in a Dream Edward L. Schieffelin, Robert Crittenden, 1991 This book is at once a detailed ethnographic and historical analysis of one of the final modern day experiences of first culture contact a classic example of historical geography and an extraordinary tale of exploration imperialist arrogance blood shed suffering courage and near disaster By the 1930 s the interior of the island of New Guinea protected from outside penetration over the centuries by its rugged mountains and unruly rivers remained one of the few places outsiders had never seen In early January of 1935 the Papuan colonial administration dispatched patrol officers including 40 Papuan carriers and police to explore the vast unknown country between the Strickland and Purari rivers The expedition moved inland along the river systems by steam launch and canoe until in mid February they abandoned their boats and proceeded on foot through the tropical forest and into the mountains Along the way the party encountered hitherto unsuspected populations peoples of six tribes numbering in the tens of thousands who had never before seen white men and who were still using Stone Age tools Status Update Alice E. Marwick, 2013-11-26 Presents an analysis of social media discussing how a technology which was once heralded as democratic has evolved into one which promotes elitism and inequality and provides companies with the means of invading privacy in search of profits

Mind Control Dr. Haha Lung,2020-10-27 Presenting readers with the most effective techniques for mind control bestselling martial arts expert and scholar Dr Haha Lung s Mind Control is the cult classic guide to breaching an opponent s mental defenses by using his fears insecurities hopes and beliefs against him Buddha said Your greatest weapon is your enemy s mind Crucial to victory in any battle is psychological warfare a technique employed and perfected by history s greatest military thinkers such as Sun Tzu Yoritomo and Musashi of Japan and several lesser known but incredibly influential masterminds Dr Haha Lung author of more than a dozen books on martial arts presents an all in one primer to breaching your enemy s mental defenses Building

Some of the most effective mind control techniques are from forgotten masters of the trade and are featured here for the very first time: Dark Arts, the art of intimidation; The Secret of Seven, the Seven Wheels of Power; Masters of the East; Including the Craft of the Hircarrah; Vietnamese voodoo; Chinese Face, the art of Kung Ming; and Chinese face reading; Samurai Sly Yoritomo's Art of Influence; the Way of No Sword; Shadow Warriors; Blood of Abraham; Biblical black science. Merchants Trade Journal, 1914. The holy Bible, with a comm. and critical notes by A. Clarke. Adam Clarke, 1836. Those Kids, Our Schools Shayla Reese Griffin, 2017-11-14. In Those Kids, Our Schools Shayla Reese Griffin examines patterns of racial interaction in a large integrated high school and makes a powerful case for the frank conversations that educators could and should be having about race in schools. Over three years Griffin observed students, teachers and administrators in a post-racial exurban high school in the Midwest. In its hallways, classrooms, lunchrooms and staff meetings she uncovered the disturbing ways in which racial tensions and prejudices persist and are reinforced. Students engaged in patterns of behavior that underscored racial hierarchies. Teachers, no matter how intellectually committed to equity and diversity, often lacked the skills, resources or authority to address racial issues while administrators failed to acknowledge racial tensions or recognize how school practices and policies perpetuated racial inequality. This astute and thoughtful book offers a revealing glimpse into the world of young people struggling with the legacy of racism. More important, it highlights the disservice being done to all students in our schools when educators fail to critically interrogate issues of race. Griffin's perceptive analysis illuminates the persistent influence of race in our education system and shows how, with appropriate support, teachers and students can develop the capacity to address racial issues and dynamics in schools in a frank and constructive way. Pursuit of Liberation Emily A. Nemeth, Ashley N. Patterson, 2022-04-01. The authors of this volume collectively demonstrate the importance of critical service learning in this historic moment as we participate in and witness ongoing struggles for justice around the world. The contributors of this volume offer guidance to educators and scholars alike who are interested in designing, participating in and studying the potential of alliances formed through critical service learning. The volume emphasizes theoretical and historical foundations of critical service learning, pressing questions facing the field, exploration of outcomes of and ongoing challenges for the pedagogy and design features and larger scale models of critical service learning that can be implemented across the educational landscape of elementary, secondary and higher education. ENDORSEMENTS This volume in the Advances in Service Learning Research series does not disappoint. Emily Nemeth and Ashley Patterson have amassed an amazing team of authors who take readers on a rewarding journey across diverse cultural communities and educational contexts, revealing the limitations of traditional service learning approaches in addressing issues of racial injustice. Readers of this volume will gain a greater understanding of the rapidly evolving and maturing nature of higher education service learning pedagogy and the need to adopt more critical perspectives.

in the study and practice of service learning Andrew Furco University of Minnesota Pursuit of Liberation conceived and written during tumultuous times in the United States offers hope for the possibility of social justice and liberation in educational spaces The modern day brutal lynching of George Floyd an African American man by a white police officer and the COVID 19 pandemic revealed the horridness and inhumanity of a country that advertises itself as a beacon of equity and inclusion This volume is a reminder that social justice and liberation require vigilance The editors Professors Nemeth and Patterson persuade us to understand that the work of inclusion and liberation in education is complex multidisciplinary continuous and iterative Most importantly they convincingly assert that communities and educational institutions need to take bold steps toward a more just hopeful and loving world through critical service learning Shirley Mthethwa Sommers University of Mpumalanga
