

- ▶ Limerick poems can be traced back to the 14th century English history. Limericks were used in nursery rhymes and other poems for children. Limericks were short, relatively easy to compose and they were often repeated by beggars or the working class in the British pubs and taverns of the 15th, 16th and 17th centuries. It is believed that the word originates from the Irish town of Limerick. There is also a suggestion that it comes from the Irish word "a menny lay" meaning "a happy song".

Limerick Constitutional Nationalism, 1898-1918 Tadhg Moloney,2010-02-19 This book analyses local politics in Limerick from 1898 to 1918 reaching back to the Parnellite split and forward to the post independence era It explores at local level the relevance of the commemoration of 1798 the reunification of the Irish Parliamentary Party and the emergence of multiple cultural political movements as well as the demise of Unionism The question posed is twofold whether nationalist constitutional politics changed over this time period on the one hand and whether they were driven by local or national concerns on the other The conclusion is that the spirit of politics was intensely local that political patronage was largely locally controlled and that there were greater continuities than ruptures in the composition and behaviour of political elites In fact long term continuities of personnel social class and political allegiance existed side by side with the ability of existing structures to absorb change and to adapt in the light of wider political developments and internal manoeuvres Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1970 The Statutes Passed in the General Convention of the Church of Ireland, 1870 Church of Ireland. General Convention, 1874
