Fire Down Below A Journey Of Exploration From Mexico To Chile:

Fire Down Below Robert Harvey, 1988 Harvey a British House of Commons member and former Economist correspondent for Latin America here provides a useful overview of the contrasting natures of the area's individual countries and people from the primitive to sophisticated including three distinct Indian nations many of whose members are victims of displacement and mistreatment More probing than most travel books the author's acute sense of observation analysis of complex economic and political matters and evocative prose convey not only the flavor and variety of often spectacular scenic beauty but the suffering horror and poverty inflicted on the people by civil wars dictators and natural disasters In each country Harvey interviewed representatives of opposing political factions and although he asserts that earlier U S involvement could have prevented or alleviated many Latin American problems he is guardedly optimistic about the future of democracy south of the border Publisher's Weekly Anderson's Travel Companion Compiled by Sarah Anderson, 2016-12-05 A selection of the best in travel writing with both fiction and non fiction presented together this companion is for all those who like travelling like to think about travelling and who take an interest in their destination It covers guidebooks as well as books about food history art and architecture religion outdoor activities illustrated books autobiographies biographies and fiction and lists books both in and out of print Anderson's Travel Companion is arranged first by continent then alphabetically by country and then by subject cross referenced where necessary There is a separate section for guidebooks and comprehensive indexes Sarah Anderson founded the Travel Bookshop in 1979 and is also a journalist and writer on travel subjects She is known by well known travel writers such as Michael Palin and Colin Thubron Michael Palin chose her bookshop as his favourite shop and Colin Thubron and Geoffrey Moorhouse among others made suggestions for titles to include in the Travel Companion Travelers' Tales Brazil Annette Haddad, Scott Doggett, 2004 With stories ranging from delightful to funny to cautionary and inspiring these tales about Brazil explore the many facets of the country from the biggest freshwater fish and the rivers they live in to the world's largest jungle Illustrations maps Fire Down Below Robert Harvey, 1988 C.J. the Americas, 1989 Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2002 Library Journal, 1988-07 The Encyclopedia Americana, 1999 A thirty volume encyclopedia covering important world events while providing major new treatments of selected topics in various academic fields The Return of the Strong Robert Harvey, 1995 Encyclopedia Americana: Latin America to Lytton, 2006 Cassette Books Library of Congress. Drexler,1997 The cocaine trade between the United States and Colombia has perhaps caused more harm for two friendly countries than any other peacetime event in history As the trade developed in the 1970s most of the efforts went to interdicting the flow of the drug to the United States little attention was given to decreasing the evergrowing American appetite for cocaine This failed policy allowed the cocaine trafficking to flourish in the 1980s resulting in untold deaths in both countries and countless dollars being spent in a futile effort to win the drug war The author supervised the antinarcotics operations of the American Embassy in Bogot as the deputy chief of mission and charg daffaires during the late 1970s This work provides for the first time an insiders account of the formative years of the American drug policy and the failure of the U S and Colombian governments to form an alliance against the cocaine traffickers during this critical period The earlier history of the U S and Colombian relations is covered providing background to the failed drug policy Recommendations for fundamental changes in the U S drug policy conclud
