Focus On Living World Trees:

Bridges: The Life Cycle of Trees , Byzantine Tree Life Thomas Arentzen, Virginia Burrus, Glenn Peers, 2021-07-11

This book examines the many ways Byzantines lived with their trees It takes seriously theological and hagiographic tree engagement as expressions of that culture s deep involvement and even fascination with the arboreal These pages tap into the current attention paid to plants in a wide range of scholarship an attention that involves the philosophy of plant life as well as scientific discoveries of how communicative trees may be and how they defend themselves Considering writings on and images of trees from Late Antiquity and medieval Byzantium sympathetically the book argues for an arboreal imagination at the root of human aspirations to know and draw close to the divine Strong Spirits, Kind Hearts Sandra Finney, 2013-05-23 Strong Spirits Kind Hearts is the first practical teacher resource to provide comprehensive coverage of all aspects of developing strong spirits and caring young people It is focused on middle years students but most lessons can be adapted for older and younger students as well This resource describes ways to incorporate emotional and spiritual supports into daily routines and interactions with students and provides ready to use activities lessons and units that can be integrated into subject area teaching This book helps teachers to understand the importance of strengthening students spirits and how this support improves students learning and classroom morale build resilience and hope through their interactions with students distinguish between the development of strong spirits and religious education use approaches that are respectful of religious and spiritual diversity as well as more secular views implement a wealth of strategies lessons and units that develop students compassion and sense of connection to others and the natural world integrate a focus on meaning and purpose within subject area lessons Smallholder Tree Growing for Rural Development and Environmental Services Denyse J.

Snelder, Rodel D. Lasco, 2008-07-19 Recent history reveals that both the large scale reforestation projects of the 20th century have often been less successful than anticipated and that tree growing by smallholders as an alternative means to combat deforestation and promote sustainable land use has received relatively little attention from the scientific and development communities Taking a first step to addressing that balance this collection of peer reviewed papers adopts a comparative approach to explore the potential role that tree growing by farmers can play in sustainable forest management The goal of this approach is to identify common threads and to start to develop a framework for future research and practice Presenting case studies from the Philippines and comparative data from a number of Asian countries the book reveals that farmer tree growing has the potential to play a significant role in sustainable forest management and discusses the surrounding issues which must be addressed in order to realise this potential The book is primarily aimed at research scientists and graduate students interested in relevant aspects of forestry agroforestry agricultural diversity natural resource management and conservation in agricultural landscapes as well as those involved in sustainable development and international development studies It will also provide a valuable reference for professionals managers consultants policy makers and planners dealing with issues in sustainable development natural resource management land use change issues and participatory approaches to resource management promised today have been successfully completed kicked down the road or abandoned altogether From harrowing to hopeful these stories highlight the choices we must make to stabilize the planet Our Shared Storm is an experiment in deploying practice based research methods to explore the opportunities and challenges of using climate fiction to engage scientific and academic frameworks
