Fokker Dxxi:

Fokker D.XXI Aces of World War 2 Kari Stenman,Peter de Jong,2013-04-20 The Dutch D XXIs saw less than a week of action following the German invasion of the west on 10 May 1940 with many of the country s 28 fighters being destroyed on the ground However those that survived the initial onslaught inflicted losses on the Luftwaffe By then however the D XXI had found everlasting fame in Finland during the Winter War of 1939 40 Proving itself a real thorn in the side of the Soviets the fighter operating in primitive conditions and against vastly superior numbers Finnish D XXIs racked up an incredible score against the Red Air Force The D XXI also has the distinction of producing the first ace in a single mission in World War 2 when then 1Lt Jorma Sarvanto shot down six Ilyushin DB 3 bombers on 6 January 1940 After spending a year providing home defence and flying coastal patrols during the early stages of the Continuation War in 1941 all surviving Finnish Fokker D XXIs were relegated to the reconnaissance role which they performed through to the end of hostilities in September 1944

The Battle Of France Peter Cornwell,2008-02-28 Peter Cornwell tells the story of the greatest air battle of the Second World War when six nations were locked in combat over north western Europe for a traumatic six weeks in 1940 He describes the day to day events as the battle unfolds and details the losses suffered by all six nations involved Britain France Holland Belgium Germany and rather belatedly Italy As far as RAF fighter squadrons in France were concerned it was an all Hurricane show yet it was the Blenheim and Battle crews who suffered the brunt of the casualties Every aircraft lost or damaged through enemy action while operating in France is listed together with the fate of the crews The RAF lost more than a thousand aircraft of all types over the Western Front during the six week battle the French Air Force 1 400 but Luftwaffe losses were even higher at over 1 800 aircraft Holland 1940 Ryan K. Noppen,2021-09-16 The German invasion of the Netherlands was meant to be a lightning fast surgical strike aimed at shoring up the right flank of the assault on France and Belgium With a bold plan based largely on Luftwaffe air power air landing troops and the biggest airborne assault yet seen a Dutch surrender was expected within 24 hours But the Netherlands possessed Europe s first fully integrated anti aircraft network as well as modern and competitive aircraft On 10 May the German attack was only partly successful and the Dutch fought on for another four days On the fifth day with its original strategy having largely failed the Luftwaffe resorted to terror bombing Rotterdam to force a surrender Explaining the technical capabilities and campaign plans of the two sides and charting how the battles were fought this fascinating book reassesses this little known part of World War II Author Ryan K Noppen argues that while the Holland campaign was a tactical victory for Germany the ability of the well prepared but outnumbered Dutch to inflict heavy losses was a warning of what would come in the Battle of Britain
