Ecclesiastical Landscapes in Medieval Europe: An Archaeological Perspective José Carlos Sánchez-Pardo,Emmet Marron,Maria Crîngaci Țiplic,2020-07-02 By presenting case studies from across Eastern and Western Medieval Europe this volume aims to open up a Europe wide debate on the variety of relations and contexts between ecclesiastical buildings and their surrounding landscapes between the 5th and 15th centuries AD Clinical Journal ,1899 Spink & Son's Monthly Numismatic Circular ,1894 The Art Journal ,1875 Vol for 1867 includes Illustrated catalogue of the Paris Universal Exhibition The art journal London ,1875 Metals and Monies in an Emerging Global Economy Arturo Giráldez,2022-03-01 The literature on early modern monetary history is vast and rich yet overly Eurocentric This book takes a global approach It calls attention to the fact that for example Japan and South America were dominant in silver production while China was the principal end market key areas for transshipment included Europe and Africa India and the Middle East Europeans were often just middlemen Other monetized substances gold copper and cowries must also be viewed globally The interrelated trades in metals and monies are what first linked worldwide markets and disequilibrium within the silver market in the 16th and 17th centuries was an active cause of this global trade Varian Studies Volume Two Raúl de la Fuente Marcos, Leonardo de Arrizabalaga y Prado, 2017-06-23 Elagabal is the name of the Syrian sun god whose high priest Varius was at the same time as Roman emperor AD 218-222 Because of this connexion Varius was misnamed Heliogabalus or Elagabalus long after his death Second in the series Varian Studies this book discusses Elagabal's architectural and sculptural artefacts in Rome These are represented by the Palatine site of the Varian Temple of Elagabal in Rome and by relief sculpture on column capitals found in the Roman Forum showing Elagabal with other deities in a scene of sacrifice here reconstructed as Elagabal's Idyll The Varian Temple of Elagabal in Rome confirms on topographical grounds an hypothesis regarding the site of that temple on the Palatine concurring with current archaeological opinion based on other grounds It also shows that the site in question has definite astronomical implications Elagabal's Idyll gives a full account of scholarship concerning the three column capitals and the debate about their origin and function It then goes on to analyse the iconography of one of them in order to explore the cosmology, theology and ritual of the cult of Elagabal

Carbone, Hannah Cornwell, Anton Powell, 2020-12-15 Coins of the best known Roman revolutionary era allow rival pretenders to speak to us directly After the deaths of Caesar and Cicero in 44 and 43 BC hardly one word has been reliably transmitted to us from even the two most powerful opponents of Octavian Mark Antony and Sextus Pompeius except through coinage and the occasional inscription The coins are an antidote to a widespread fault in modern approaches the idea from hindsight that the Roman Republic was doomed that the rise of Octavian Augustus to monarchy was inevitable and that contemporaries might have sensed as much Ancient works in other genres skilfully encouraged such hindsight Augustus in the Res Gestae and Virgil in Georgics and Aeneid sought to flatten the history of the period and largely to efface Octavian's defeated rivals But the latter's coins in precious metal were not easily recovered and suppressed by Authority They remain for scholars to revalue In our own age when public untruthfulness about history is increasingly accepted or challenged we may value anew the discipline of searching for other ancient voices which ruling discourse has not quite managed to silence In this book eleven new essays explore the coinage of Rome's competing dynasts Julius Caesar's coins and those of his son Octavian Augustus are studied But similar and respectful attention is given to the issues of their opponents Cato the Younger and Q Metellus Scipio Mark Antony and Sextus Pompeius Q Cornificius and others A shared aim is to understand mentalities the forecasts current in an age of rare insecurity as the superpower of the Mediterranean faced and slowly recovered from division and ruin Scientific American, 1898 The Numismatic Circular and Catalogue of Coins, Tokens, Commemorative & War Medals, Books & Cabinets Spink & Son, 1906
