Getting Parents Involved:

Getting Parents Involved in Their Children's Education Larry E. Decker, Gloria A. Gregg, Virginia A. Decker, 1994
This book describes how school systems across the nation are seeking new ways to involve parents while strengthening efforts already in place. The introduction describes the need for strengthening the school's ties to the community in light of increasing numbers of children living in conditions that predispose them to being at risk such as poverty, drug addiction, divorce, and exposure to violence. Chapter 1 establishes that parent involvement improves student achievement. It discusses the benefits for parents, students, teachers, and administrators; the barriers to parent involvement; and school practices to encourage participation. The second chapter describes and presents examples of survey instruments that can be used to assess school-family relations. Chapter 3 presents four basic models of parent involvement and highlights three successful models implemented across the country. Types of parent involvement programs and corresponding program designs are described in chapter 4. Guidelines for institutionalizing plans and practices through the formation of policy statements are offered in the fifth chapter. The final chapter provides strategies for involving hard-to-reach and at-risk parents. A list of professional organizations is included. Contains 78 references. LMI

Getting parents involved Jonathan William Mroz, 2011

Parents Are Lifesavers Carol S. Batey, 1996-01-18
Offers a practical path to new partnerships between schools and parents. Such life-saving partnerships are essential if we are to serve our children and our future. From the Foreword by Richard C. Benjamin, Director, Metropolitan Nashville Public Schools. Mrs. Batey's enthusiasm for involving parents is infectious. Everett A. Hanner, Principal, Brick Church Metro Middle School of Nashville and Davidson County. Batey delivers a concise, fresh look at successful, broad-based community school collaborations. Every school should have a copy of this important work. Claudia Smith, Project Director, Wayne County Partners in Education Foundation and Mentoring Program, Jesup, Georgia. The literature on reform and restructuring often calls for increasing parents' participation as a way to maximize schools' effectiveness. But as you well know, that is a challenging task. This book contains the real-down-to-earth skills and tips you need to turn parents into active sharing participants in their children's education. Batey provides you with step-by-step guidelines for getting parents involved in your school and your classrooms. You'll learn proven techniques that encourage participation by all, including the hard-to-reach parents. Written by a parent who's been there, this new workbook gives you: Outlines for use by school professionals or parents; Sample volunteer forms; Sample donation letters; Parent and staff surveys; Teacher improvement plans for parental involvement; A wish list request form; and more. If you want to motivate parents to become working partners at your school, this book is for you.

Getting Parents on Board Alisa Hindin, Mary Mueller, 2016-02-05
Learn how to work more effectively with K-5 parents to increase student achievement in math and literacy. Research shows that parent involvement in schools leads to higher test scores and more engaged and enthusiastic students, but it isn't always easy for teachers to bridge the gap between the home and the school. This insightful book provides helpful research based strategies to foster meaningful home school partnerships and overcome the challenges teachers often face when trying to build relationships with parents You ll learn new ways to Promote parent involvement at home and school Share specific math and literacy strategies with parents to reinforce children s learning Plan and organize effective parent conferences that foster true dialogue about a child s education Communicate with parents about what you re teaching and how you re teaching it so they can actively contribute to their child s learning at home Develop family nights and workshops to get parents involved in learning at school Recommend games activities and projects that parents can use at home to help their children practice math and literacy skills And much more Each chapter is full of practical tools such as Common Core aligned strategies useful resources for parents and sample parent letters that you can use to increase and improve your home school communications Bonus Additional parent letters on a variety of topics are available on our website www.routledge.com/9781138998698 to help you keep parents connected throughout the year Let's Get Social Heather D.M. Robinson,2013-09-06 Parent involvement matters but parents are often unsure how they can get involved Author Heather D M Robinson shares how social media can be used to increase parent involvement not just in schools but also with sports teams and clubs Parent Involvement Project Head Start,1969 Raising Test Scores Using Parent Involvement William L. Callison,2004 A critical dimension of effective schooling is parent involvement Research has shown conclusively that parent involvement at home improves student achievement Furthermore when parents are involved at school children accomplish more and attend better schools In this book William Callison focuses on the role of parents in helping their children succeed in school There is increasing evidence that parent involvement increases test scores New research by Hoxby indicates that family factors are more than 11 times as influential as school factors in predicting student performance Callison contends that there s an excellent opportunity to make changes based on experience in many schools that are dealing with the need to set high standards and institute programs that will be successful Special Features Identifies programs and strategies that are working Uses the PTA s National Standards for Parent Family Involvement Program as a guide Callison also favors raising standards where high levels of assistance are provided to staff not the testing approach where students may be retained in grade because of a single test score In the programs that are seeking to help students improve their performance in a variety of assessments how did they get parents involved in a meaningful way The author answers this and many more pertinent questions For PTA members teachers and administrators Techniques & Strategies: to Increase Parent Involvement Ann A. Brown,2012-05-22 One of the main interests in this book focuses on how to persuade parents to get engaged in their child s education Many authors have studied this evidence that shows this to be an excellent opportunity for a parent to visit the classroom teacher The more involved parents are the more they help the academic achievements of their child This book gives the most suggestions of how to get parents interested in spending time in their child s school and classroom Also it shows results of how to work with parents and to keep their interest in the
