Urban Surfaces, Graffiti, and the Right to the City Sabina Andron, 2023-11-22 This landmark book focuses on urban surfaces on exploring their authorship and management and on their role in struggles for the right to the city Graffiti pristine walls advertising posters and municipal signage all compete on city surfaces to establish and imprint their values on our environments It is the first time that the surfacescapes of our cities are granted the entire attention of a book as material visual and legal territories The book includes a critical history of graffiti and street art as contested surface discourses and argues for surfaces as sites of resistance against private property neoliberal creativity and the imposition of urban order It also proposes a seven point manual for a semiotics of urban surfaces laying the ground for a new discipline surface studies Page after page and layer after layer surfaces become porous and political and emerge as key spatial conditions for rethinking and re practicing urban dwelling and spatial justice They become what the author terms the surface commons The book will appeal to a wide readership across the disciplines of urban studies architectural theory and design graffiti street art and public art criminology semiotics visual culture and urban and legal geography It will also serve as a tool for city scholars policy makers artists and vandals to disrupt existing imaginaries of order justice and visibility in cities

Protective Material Coatings For Preserving Cultural Heritage Monuments and Artwork Amir Ershad-Langroudi, 2022-04-12 Long standing artworks and monuments show the wisdom and cultural identity of an ancient society along with the educational material and spiritual merits of the people of that time However many historical artifacts and cultural monuments have been eroded over time and are in danger of deterioration beyond repair There is a need to protect and conserve these artifacts Restoration and preservation requires a multidisciplinary understanding of the inherent properties of these works based on the type of material and sufficient information in the properties of protective and conservation materials and research methods Protective Material Coatings For Preserving Cultural Heritage Monuments and Artwork aims to familiarize students with the recent practices in conservation and restoration science in recent years by presenting a modern orientation on the subject focused on material coatings Readers will be able to understand the properties of different materials in antique objects and how to adopt appropriate treatment methods based on these properties This book consists of 5 chapters In the first chapter materials analysis techniques are described for historical monuments along with coatings used to preserve them The second chapter introduces the properties of metals alloys and their common corrosion and explains protection strategies for metal monuments An emphasis is given to nanocomposite coatings to prevent decay especially through electrochemical corrosion Chapter 3 is devoted to studying natural leather and parchments and their conservation from damage by environmental factors such as UV radiation temperature and humidity The fourth chapter deals with stone works which are in many historical objects Chapter 5 introduces the reader to additional preservation materials and innovative methods employed to protect historical monuments and cultural heritage sites Information about the removal of materials cleaning of improper prior repairs is also given Protective Material Coatings For Preserving Cultural Heritage Monuments and Artwork is an ideal book for students of archeology architecture materials science and contemporary arts courses who are required to learn about the techniques of preserving antique buildings and works of art It also serves as a handy reference for professionals and general readers interested in the curation of museums and the conservation of buildings and cultural heritage sites Urban Subversion and the Creative City Oli

Mould, 2015-03-27 Check out the author's video to find out more about the book <https://vimeo.com/124247409> This book provides a comprehensive critique of the current Creative City paradigm with a capital C and argues for a creative city with a small c via a theoretical exploration of urban subversion The book argues that the Creative City with a capital C is a systemic requirement of neoliberal capitalist urban development and part of the wider policy framework of creativity that includes the creative industries and the creative class and also has inequalities and injustices in built The book argues that the Creative City does stimulate creativity but through a reaction to it not as part of it Creative City policies speak of having mechanisms to stimulate individual collective or civic creativity yet through a theoretical exploration of urban subversion the book argues that to be truly creative is to be radically different from those creative practices that the Creative City caters for Moreover the book analyses the role that urban subversion and subcultures have in the contemporary city in challenging the dominant political economic hegemony of urban creativity Creative activities of people from cities all over the world are discussed and critically analysed to highlight how urban creativity has become co-opted for political and economic goals but through a radical reconceptualisation of what creativity is that includes urban subversion we can begin to realise a creative city with a small c

Preventive Conservation for Historic House Museums Jane Merritt, Julie A. Reilly, 2010-01-16 Preventive Conservation for Historic House Museums is a primer on the preventive care practices that these unique sites need to slow the rate of deterioration and prevent damage and wear to the property and its collections It proposes a collaborative approach to preservation planning that is based on interdisciplinary research critical thinking and observation rather than rote maintenance schedules and everyday residential cleaning practices The authors recommend that sites have documents and plans in place that direct the intellectual and physical control of the collections and site The intellectual controls include administrative and management policies and procedures the physical controls include security and safety precautions routine maintenance and cleaning practices among others Historic house administrators staff board members and volunteers will find this volume indispensable Professionals who deal with historic sites from the museum administrator or curator to architect to engineer as well as students pursuing studies in the field of preservation and conservation will also find this a valuable reference This volume promotes a pro active approach to preservation planning for historic sites and their collections

ECMT Round Tables Vandalism, Terrorism and Security in Urban Public Passenger Transport European Conference of Ministers of Transport. Economic Research Centre, 2003-06-24 Beyond the immediate effect of reducing passengers insecurity safer public transport also means higher patronage during off peak hours less money spent on repairing damage lower staff absenteeism and less disruption to services Governments therefore cannot afford to disregard the problem of vandalism in public transport The reader will find in this publication the recommendations which the Round Table made on ways to combat vandalism namely the creation of local partnerships between all actors involved in crime prevention policing and law enforcement exchanges of experience the issuing of guidelines on crime prevention and infrastructure design and publication of case studies of successes and failures Classifying individual measures is therefore one of the tasks that national and international authorities faced with this growing problem urgently need to address Terrorism because of its distinctive nature and change in nature since the attacks of 11 September 2001 needs to be tackled on a much larger scale and therefore requires a different type of approach Here too there is clearly a need for international co operation and the Round Table identified a number of possible avenues to explore which the reader can learn more about from this publication
