Vanderkam,2017-01-03 Everyone has an opinion anecdote or horror story about women and work Now the acclaimed author of What the Most Successful People Do Before Breakfast shows how real working women with families are actually making the most of their time Having it all has become the subject of countless books articles debates and social media commentary with passions running high in all directions Many now believe this to be gospel truth Any woman who wants to advance in a challenging career has to make huge sacrifices She s unlikely to have a happy marriage quality time with her kids assuming she can have kids at all a social life hobbies or even a decent night s sleep But what if balancing work and family is actually not as hard as it s made out to be What if all those tragic anecdotes ignore the women who quietly but consistently do just fine with the juggle Instead of relying on scattered stories time management expert Laura Vanderkam set out to add hard data to the debate She collected hour by hour time logs from 1 001 days in the lives of women who make at least 100 000 a year And she found some surprising patterns in how these women spend the 168 hours that every one of us has each week Overall these women worked less and slept more than they assumed they did before they started tracking their time They went jogging or to the gym played with their children scheduled date nights with their significant others and had lunches with friends They made time for the things that gave them pleasure and meaning fitting the pieces together like tiles in a mosaic without adhering to overly rigid schedules that would eliminate flexibility and spontaneity Vanderkam shares specific strategies that her subjects use to make time for the things that really matter to them For instance they Work split shifts such as seven hours at work four off then another two at night from home This allows them to see their kids without falling behind professionally Get creative about what counts as quality family time Breakfasts together and morning story time count as much as daily family dinners and they re often easier to manage Take it easy on the housework You can free up a lot of time by embracing the philosophy of good enough and getting help from other members of your household or a cleaning service Guard their leisure time Full weekend getaways may be rare but many satisfying hobbies can be done in small bursts of time An hour of crafting feels better than an hour of reality TV With examples from hundreds of real women Vanderkam proves that you don t have to give up on the things you really want I Know How She Does It will inspire you to build a life
