

A photograph of a dirt path leading through a forest. The trees on either side have autumn-colored foliage in shades of orange, yellow, and brown. The path is light-colored and leads towards a brighter area in the distance. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.

I enjoy growing older and wiser and learning from my mistakes every single day.

I Love Growing Older, But I'll Never Grow Old J. Ellsworth Kalas, 2013 Growing older is a process Growing old is a conclusion If you're growing older you see some hope because you have perspective and you keep learning If you've grown old you may cynically think that times have never been as bad as they are now and that they can only get worse This book is about learning how to make peace with where you are right now It's about learning from the past and then moving past it It's about growing personally spiritually and in our relationships with God and with others If we think properly about growing older we'll never have to grow old

Smiles & Sorrows Tori N. Woody, 2013-03-21 Fourteen Growing up is the thing I'm thinking about right now Not how fast I can grow up because the truth is I'm not going to grow up as fast as I can at this age I'm 14 and it's pretty fun just the way it is so I'd like to keep it this pace for a little longer because I know the older I get the more responsibilities I'll have and I'll have less people to rely on to do them for me At my age I most other kids when they think about growing up we think wonderful jobs and big houses and the best things possible but at some point an epiphany will hit us all that growing up is going to be tough Things will be so different and I imagine that as I go throughout my high school career I'll realize that more and more I'm growing up Whether I realize it when I'm getting taller or when family members pass and I realize that the years for all of us are getting closer and closer each day or that simple question we've been asked since kindergarten What do you want to be when you grow up I have wanted to be a million things since kindergarten and they change every time my passion change Or my mind gets more mature and I think about being more realistic with my career choice Growing up is different for everyone and all of the parts in growing up has its pros and cons Sometimes I catch myself growing up too fast and I think back on my younger childhood It seems like so long ago but I'm only 14 I have a whole lifetime ahead and for now I'm going to enjoy every moment of being exactly what I am right now 14 Here's a quote I read that really got me thinking about growing up it's simple but to me it says don't grow up too fast you'll one day come back to remember your childhood and easier times Some day you will be old enough to start reading fairy tales again C S Lewis The World's Last Night And Other Essays By Tori N Woody

From Darkness to Light Kevin Brown, 2021-08-05 An inmate is classified as someone who has been found guilty of a crime and incarcerated My journey has placed me on one side of the plexiglass with my son being on the other side We collaborated together to maybe understand what the Lord was trying to show each of us The journey included many courtrooms jail cells and a lot of sleepless nights for both of us When I decided to try to reach out to my son the Bible was the only thing that would bring us back to the relationship we had before The topics in this book will give you a limited picture of what goes on with an inmate but the devotions will give you a survey of the Bible and how we are all inmates because of our sins We all must make the journey from darkness to light The Works of Beaumont&Fletcher ... from a New Collation of the Early Editions.
