Identity Express:

Persons, Animals, Ourselves Paul F. Snowdon, 2014 What kind of thing are we Paul Snowdon's answer is that we are animals of a sort This view animalism may seem obvious but on the whole philosophers have rejected it Snowdon argues that animalism is a defensible way of thinking about ourselves Its rejection rests on the tendency when doing philosophy to mistake fantasy for reality Attention Christopher Mole, Declan Smithies, Wayne Wu, 2011-07-28 This volume presents the latest thinking on attention from the philosophers and psychologists who are working at the interface between these two disciplines Some of My Friends Are. Deborah Plummer, 2019-01-22 Examines why it's difficult to form friendships with people of different races how we can make those connections and how they will encourage more meaningful conversations about race Surveys have shown that the majority of people believe cross racial friendships are essential for improving race relations However further polling reveals that most Americans tend to gravitate toward friendships within their own race Psychologist Deborah L Plummer examines how factors such as leisure politics humor faith social media and education influence the nature and intensity of cross racial friendships Inspiring and engaging Plummer draws from focus groups statistics and surveys to provide insight into the fears and discomforts associated with cross racial friendships Through personal narratives and social analyses of friendship patterns this book gives an insightful look at how cross racial friendships work and fail within American society Plummer encourages all of us to examine our friendship patterns and to deepen and strengthen our current cross racial friendships Visual Identity Susan Westcott Alessandri, 2014-12-18 Brands companies and organizations much like people have personalities and most of what we know and think about their personalities comes through visual identity A visual identity is the strategically planned and purposeful presentation of the brand or organization in order to gain a positive image in the minds of the public including but not limited to its name logo tagline color palette and architecture and even sounds This practical guide explores visual identity from an organizational brand perspective corporate non profit etc rather than a product brand perspective It not only helps readers to understand the meaning and value of an organization's visual identity but also provides hands on advice on how to promote and protect the identity Each chapter draws from current research and also contains real world examples and case studies that illustrate the key concepts True Colors: Exploring and Celebrating Gender Identity Nora Salinas, 2025-04-03 Unveiling the True Colors of Gender Identity This groundbreaking guide delves into the complexities and nuances of gender identity offering an inclusive and comprehensive exploration for individuals seeking to understand and embrace their own identity or support those around them Within these pages you'll embark on an illuminating journey through the spectrum of gender experiences uncovering the social and cultural factors that shape our perceptions Through captivating stories and expert insights the book sheds light on the diverse experiences of transgender non binary and gender nonconforming individuals Target readers encompass anyone who seeks to broaden their understanding of gender identity including those who are questioning their own identity parents educators healthcare professionals and allies It serves as an essential resource for navigating the complexities of gender in today's society By delving into the rich tapestry of gender identities readers will gain a profound appreciation for the unique experiences of others and the importance of embracing diversity This book empowers individuals with the knowledge and tools they need to create inclusive and supportive environments where everyone can feel valued and celebrated for their true colors

The Psychology of Counter-Terrorism Andrew Silke, 2010-10-26 This work firstly aims to provide balanced and objective insight into the psychology of terrorists what their motivations are what keeps them involved in terrorist groups and what eventually forces most to end their active involvement in terrorism Secondly the contributors focus on the challenging issue of how to respond to terrorism These chapters provide information for those concerned with short term tactical problems e.g. interviewing as well as those looking towards the more long term strategic questions of bringing an entire terrorist campaign to an end Ultimately the individuals involved in terrorism require a more complex response from society than simply a quest for their apprehension Believing inaccurate and misleading characterizations leads inevitably to damaging policies and deficient outcomes with campaigns of violence being needlessly prolonged It is from this perspective that the concern arises with how researchers and the policy makers guided by them perceive the psychology of terrorists and of terrorism

A Dangerous Place to Be Matthew H. Bowker, David P. Levine, 2018-04-19 Over the past several decades colleges and universities in the United States and United Kingdom have made significant commitments to increasing diversity most notably regarding race and gender The result has not however been an amelioration of conflict over matters of difference Instead there has been continuing if not increasing conflict and strife in universities often reflecting conflict in the larger society A Dangerous Place to Be examines identity based conflict in colleges and universities analyzing the actions of students teachers administrators and educational organizations as efforts to manage dilemmas and disturbances arising in the process of identity formation

Our Bodies J. Hanci, 2002-09-30 Look at your body and consider its structure and coloring Why do you have two arms two legs two eyes two ears two lungs two kidneys but only one nose one stomach one brain and one heart Does your nose alone know the secret of life Why aren't your two kidneys a matched pair Why are there no orange or red eyed people Why no blue or green skinned people Isn't Modern Medicine the same old black magic we know so well Primitive man believed that demons caused disease Modern medicine agrees Isn't it time we outgrew the primitive notion that devils invade our bodies to do us in Throughout recorded history man has suffered recurrent plagues As our laws and behavior change so do our plagues What can we learn about ourselves from this record of ever changing plagues If you'd rather be well than ill if you'd enjoy knowing the way to energetic good health check out the clues our bodies offer This book can help you see the clues that are there to see

Multiculturalism and Moral Conflict Maria Dimova-Cookson, Peter Stirk, 2009-10-16 Multiculturalism is higher on the daily political agenda than it has ever been Leading politicians and public commentators speak with an unparalleled bluntness about the perceived limitations of multiculturalism while representatives of cultural minorities express concern about marginalisation This debate is taking place against a background of fear about terrorism the integrity of national identities and a loosely construed clash of civilizations Secularism is pitted against religious fundamentalism respect for difference against the right of freedom of speech integration against self determination and duties of citizenship against minority rights This book confronts the reality of moral conflict in the debate on multiculturalism while resisting the simplification which too frequently accompanies daily commentary on both sides of an increasingly polarised debate The volume as a whole marks an important step in the attempt to examine the underlying concepts of the nature and legitimate extent of disagreement of secularism the nature of power the state and citizenship which inevitably constitute key assumptions in the debate Bringing together leading scholars on multiculturalism Gerald Gaus Peter Jones John Horton Tariq Modood Chandran Kukathas Bhikhu Parekh Matthew Festenstein and Cecile Laborde this book discusses the latest developments in the field It will be of strong interest students and scholars of multiculturalism political science political theory international relations sociology philosophy and anthropology

The Outsider, Art and Humour Paul Clements, 2020-05-07 This cross disciplinary book situated on the periphery of culture employs humour to better comprehend the arts the outsider and exclusion illuminating the ever changing social landscape the vagaries of taste and limits of political correctness Each chapter deals with specific themes and approaches from the construct of outsider and complexity of humour to Outsider Art and spaces using various theoretical and analytical methods Paul Clements draws on humour especially from visual arts and culture and to a lesser extent literature film music and performance as a tool of ridicule amongst other discourses employed by the powerful but also as a weapon to satirize them These ambiguous representations vary depending on context often assimilated then reinterpreted in a game of authenticity that is poignant in a world of facsimile and fake news The humour styles of a range of artists are highlighted to reveal the fluidity and diversity of meaning which challenges expectations and at its best offers resistance and crucially a voice for the marginal This book will be of particular interest to scholars in art history cultural studies fine art humour studies and visual culture Negotiating Diversity Matthew Festenstein, 2005 Debates about cultural diversity have become an important controversial and inescapable features of the politics of modern democracies Negotiating Diversity offers a lucid and accessible analysis of the political theory of multiculturalism It is an ideal text for students looking for an overview of the state of play in this area The book explores the ways the concept of culture has been used in political theory and critically evaluates contemporary liberal responses to multiculturalism including the work of key political philosophers such as Will Kymlicka Brian Barry and Chandran Kukathas drawing on a range of real world examples to illustrate its arguments It provides critique of the tendency to reify cultural identity in political thinking particularly through an examination of contemporary liberalism In its place the author develops a deliberative alternative which views the politics of cultural diversity as a fallible process of negotiation argument and compromise He confronts objections that this alternative itself offers an unrealistic or oppressive vision of politics and explores the fragility of trust in the politics of multicultural societies

The Question of Being in Husserl's Logical Investigations J. Mensch, 2013-03-14 This study proposes a double thesis The first concerns the Logische Untersuchungen itself We will attempt to show that its statements about the nature of being are inconsistent and that this inconsistency is responsible for the failure of this work The second concerns the Logische Untersuchungen's relation to the Ideen The latter we propose is a response to the failure of the Logische Untersuchungen's ontology It can thus be understood in terms of a shift in the ontology of the Logische Untersuchungen a shift motivated by the attempt to overcome the contradictory assertions of the Logische Untersuchungen In this sense our thesis is that in the technical meaning that Husserl gives the term the Logische Untersuchungen and the Ideen can be linked via a motivated path We can by way of an introduction clarify our theses by regarding three elements The first is the relation of epistemology to ontology The second is the notion of motivation as Husserl conceives the term The third is the fundamental distinctions that are to be explained via the notion of motivation 1 We should begin by remarking that the goal of the Logische Untersuchungen is explicitly epistemological it is that of answering the cardinal question of epistemology the question concerning the objectivity of knowledge LU Tub ed I 8 F p 56V For Husserl his other questions i e Creative Writing for Critical Thinking Hélène Edberg, 2018-02-08 This book explores narrative imagination and emotion as resources for learning critical meta reflection The author examines the learning trajectories of several students as they engage in learning to think critically through a new approach to creative writing and details how learning through writing is linked to new discursive identities which are trialled in the writing process In doing so she analyses the processes of expansion and change that result from the negotiations involved in learning through writing This volume offers a completely new approach to creative writing including useful practical advice as well as a solid theoretical base It is sure to appeal to students of creative writing and discourse analysis as well as applied linguistics and language as identity

Naive Lie Theory John Stillwell, 2008-12-15 In this new textbook acclaimed author John Stillwell presents a lucid introduction to Lie theory suitable for junior and senior level undergraduates In order to achieve this he focuses on the so called classical groups that capture the symmetries of real complex and quaternion spaces These symmetry groups may be represented by matrices which allows them to be studied by elementary methods from calculus and linear algebra This naive approach to Lie theory is originally due to von Neumann and it is now possible to streamline it by using standard results of undergraduate mathematics To compensate for the limitations of the naive approach end of chapter discussions introduce important results beyond those proved in the book as part of an informal sketch of Lie theory and its history John Stillwell is Professor of Mathematics at the University of San Francisco He is the author of several highly regarded books published by Springer including The Four Pillars of Geometry 2005 Elements of Number Theory 2003 Mathematics and Its History Second Edition 2002 Numbers and Geometry 1998 and Elements of Algebra 1994
