

A scenic view of a mountain peak, likely El Capitan, with a quote overlaid. The mountain is dark and jagged, contrasting with the soft, hazy background of other peaks and a warm, orange-tinted sky. The quote is presented in white text within a dark, semi-transparent rectangular box.

If you know your history, then you would know where you coming from, then you wouldn't have to ask me, who the heck do I think I am.

If You Know Your History:

Antiracist Education Julie Kailin, 2002 This book combines theory practice and ethnography in an exploration of how teachers can fully implement diversity and antiracism as a foundation of their teaching approach The author a white mother of children of color whose work is influenced by her own experience being raised in an antiracist activist family developed her curriculum over many years of active involvement with parents and teachers in schools She presents her curriculum along with ethnographic reports of the processes of change that teachers experience as they fully explore the realities of race relations its history and the lived experiences of others Kailin shows how immersion in this exploration enables teachers to develop curricula and teaching practices that are effectively antiracist and fully connected to students lives

Cultures in Refuge Anna Hayes, 2016-05-13 New formulations of globalisation have radically altered how people conceptualize the movement of people ideas and capital throughout the globe with questions of securitisation and transnational sentiment re shaping long standing Western concepts of asylum and human rights Questioning the manner in which the reception of sanctuary in modern Australia changes migrants sense of belonging this interdisciplinary volume focuses on the disjuncture between receiving sanctuary and feeling secure in one s self and community With emphasis on the formation and expression of migrant and refugee cultures the book deliberately blurs the distinction between migrants and refugees in order to engage more directly with the subjectivities of lived experience and social networks Presenting research from the fields of sociology media studies politics international relations and history Cultures in Refuge places explores the manner in which notions of asylum and refuge affect the processes of articulating and negotiating identities

Perfecting Training Witness Lee,1990-06-01 According to Ephesians 4 11 16 we are first told that the gifts were given And He gave some apostles and some prophets and some evangelists and some shepherds and teachers This is the initial step then the result is unto the work of the ministry that is unto the building up of the Body of Christ How could the Body be built up By the growth in life Then out of the growth in life the function will come the operation in measure of each one part to cause the growth of the Body unto the building up of itself in love Thus there is the initial stage and then there is the result Between these two ends is the perfecting of the saints If there is no perfecting of the saints all the gifts given by the Head become vain Also there will be nothing to cause the growth of the Body in life that functions may come out to build up the Body in love The crucial and central point in this portion of the Word is the perfecting of the saints Throughout the past years the Lord has been leading us in the ministry to perfect the saints for the growth in life so that the functions may come out to build up the Body in love Shadow Strategies of an American Ninja Master Glenn J.
