Light Years New And Selected Poems:

Light Years Dabney Stuart, 1994 Stuart rings evocative changes on recurrent image patterns too Birds are central to his work for instance and sing often water flows frequently music sounds in places as apparently incongruous as a row of cornstalks Dreams and dreaming inform many poems their precision of detail becoming part of the sharply observed physical world Stuart renders

A History of Virginia Literature Kevin J. Hayes, 2015-05-19 A History of Virginia Literature chronicles a story that has been more than four hundred years in the making It looks at the development of literary culture in Virginia from the founding of Jamestown in 1607 to the twenty first century Divided into four main parts this History examines the literature of colonial Virginia Jeffersonian Virginia Civil War Virginia and modern Virginia Individual chapters survey such literary genres as diaries histories letters novels poetry political writings promotion literature science fiction and slave narratives Leading scholars also devote special attention to several major authors including William Byrd of Westover Thomas Jefferson Ellen Glasgow Edgar Allan Poe and William Styron This book is of pivotal importance to the development of American literature and of American studies more generally

Long Gone Dabney Stuart, 1996 From its haunted opening to the complex affirmation of its final lines this profound collection by Dabney Stuart presents a palimpsest of the spirit in the modern age With jagged syncopations lyrical stop time and a kind of elegiac swing these poems spiral through multiple dimensions of time memory and emotion from post World War II America to the South Pacific evoking perspectives of the psyche as brooding and cryptic as the Antarctic Long Gone nimbly weaves carnal and familial love the search for lost innocence and the epistemology of memory into moments of hallucinatory focus where insight comes and goes like light on water

Yellow Shoe Poets George Garrett, 1999-10-01 Since 1964 when Louisiana State University Press published its inaugural book of verse Miller Williams's A Circle of Stone its poetry list has grown exponentially 191 books by 93 poets into a program that inspires understandable pride in those associated with it Two collections have won the Pulitzer Prize The Flying Change 1986 by Henry Taylor and Alive Together 1996 by Lisel Mueller Another book by Mueller The Need to Hold Still 1980 won the National Book Award while several other LSU titles have been finalists for that distinction most recently The Fields of Praise 1997 by Marilyn Nelson and The Vigil 1993 by Margaret Gibson Dozens more have been recognized for their excellence through a host of various honors The Press publishes the winner of the annual Walt Whitman Award given by The Academy of American Poets for a first collection and in 1996 it launched the Southern Messenger series in collaboration with Dave Smith bringing two shining works into the fold each year The appearance of The Collected Poems of Robert Penn Warren in 1998 meant for the Press the realization of a long dearly held dream To mark this thirty five year old tradition as the century and millennium turn and to offer a sampling of its richness The Yellow Shoe Poets a retrospective anthology was compiled under the editorship of George Garrett a longtime colleague of the Press and the author of eight poetry volumes Say the LSU poets real fast with a southern drawl and you get the ridiculously wonderful moniker that poet Elizabeth Seydel

Morgan's young friend innocently mistook for this noble band. It's an image Brendan Galvin has appropriated to a perfect fit in his poem Yellow Shoe Poet written on behalf of his fellow yellow shoes across the years. All 173 poems are taken from LSU Press books and were selected by the poets themselves if living. Arranged alphabetically by author, they consist of at least one poem from every poet published by the Press. Goethe's admonition that one ought every day at least to read a good poem can find no better starting point than in The Yellow Shoe Poets. Southern Writers Joseph M. Flora, Amber Vogel, 2006-06-21

This new edition of Southern Writers assumes its distinguished predecessor's place as the essential reference on literary artists of the American South. Broadly expanded and thoroughly revised, it boasts 604 entries, nearly double the earlier edition's written by 264 scholars. For every figure, major and minor, from the venerable and canonical to the fresh and innovative, a biographical sketch and chronological list of published works provide comprehensive, concise, up-to-date information. Here, in one convenient source, are the South's novelists and short story writers, poets and dramatists, memoirists and essayists, journalists, scholars, and biographers from the colonial period to the twenty-first century. What constitutes a southern writer is always a matter for debate. Editors Joseph M. Flora and Amber Vogel have used a generous definition that turns on having a significant connection to the region in either a personal or literary sense. New to this volume are younger writers who have emerged in the quarter century since the dictionary's original publication, as well as older talents previously unknown or unacknowledged. For almost every writer found in the previous edition, a new biography has been commissioned. Drawn from the very best minds on southern literature and covering the full spectrum of its practitioners, Southern Writers is an indispensable reference book for anyone intrigued by the subject. Settlers Dabney Stuart, 1999-09-01

Settlers Dabney Stuart's thirteenth collection of poems is a passionate and innovative commentary on exploration and discovery. As the title suggests, the major themes of this work include beginnings in disparate but related areas: the historical, physical, geologic, familial, and psychological. Stuart embeds these rather large considerations in details ranging from tectonic plates and glaciers to the pterodactyl and the observations of a grasshopper. Family ancestors appear as well as writers from earlier centuries. In the effective The Tapawera Raspberry Festival, Stuart deftly combines predation, ritual, celebration, competition, and joy in a festival set on the South Island of New Zealand. Settlers' theological implications become explicit in the final section through the title poem and more extensively in the long section entitled God. In this thoughtful sequence, Stuart struggles to understand God's mystifying absence and presence. Simultaneously bewildered, curious, distressed, and delighted, these profoundly reflective poems achieve an understanding of God as a name for everything time-thriving. Stuart's love of language and playfulness, as well as his affection for his subjects and their mysteries, are part of the fabric of these poems. The affirmation of life in all its rich and various inception shines through every line of this exceptional work. Second Sight Dabney Stuart, 1996

In Second Sight, Dabney Stuart accompanies reproductions of the unique paintings of Carroll Cloar with poems that seek to see his work verbally. The poems are strikingly visual, fostering an interdependence between the two art forms and giving a voice to Cloat's distinctive images Together the paintings and poems explore the unpredictable quirky beauty one can find in ordinary life They also suggest the complex affectionate ways the imagination can mediate the distance between the human and the natural worlds Publishers website The Oxford Companion to Modern Poetry in English Jeremy Noel-Tod, Ian Hamilton, 2013-05-23 This impressive volume provides over 1 700 biographical entries on poets writing in English from 1910 to the present day including T S Eliot Dylan Thomas and Carol Ann Duffy Authoritative and accessible it is a must have for students of English and creative writing as well as for anyone with an interest in poetry

Selected Poems of Calvin C. Hernton Calvin C. Hernton, 2023-08-01 This volume promises to be the definitive guide to Calvin C Hernton's unparalleled poetic career re-introducing readers to a major voice in American poetry Hernton was a cofounder of the Umbra Poets Workshop a participant in the Black Arts Movement R D Laing's Kingsley Hall and the Antiuniversity of London and a teacher at Oberlin College who counted amongst his friends bell hooks Toni Morrison and Odetta As a pioneer in the field of Black Studies Hernton developed a theoretical and practical pedagogy with lasting impact on generations of students He may be best known as an anti-sexist sociologist following in the footsteps of W E B Du Bois but Hernton viewed himself above all as a poet This volume includes a generous selection of Hernton's previously published poems from classics like the often anthologized The Distant Drum to the visionary epic The Coming of Chronos to the House of Night song reprinted in full for the first time since 1964 alongside uncollected and unpublished material from the Calvin C Hernton papers at Ohio University a new critical introduction and detailed notes chronology and bibliography sample poem The Distant Drum I am not a metaphor or symbol This you hear is not the wind in the trees Nor a cat being maimed in the street I am being maimed in the street It is I who weep laugh feel pain or joy Speak this because I exist This is my voice These words are my words my mouth Speaks them my hand writes I am a poet It is my fist you hear beating Against your ear and commercial malpractices To combat this issue this book shares perspectives from scholars of various philosophical traditions Each chapter takes new steps in asking what the meaning of self realization is both in terms of what it means to understand who or what one is and also in terms of how one can or should fulfill oneself The conceptual elucidations achieved from both theoretical and practical perspectives allow for a more mature awareness of how to deal with discourses on self realization and in any case can help to demystify the subject

The Collected Poems of John Ciardi John Ciardi, 1997-01-01 Presents a collection of 450 poems that originally appeared in twenty individual volumes published between 1940 and 1993

No Visible Means of Support Dabney Stuart, 2001 She was not there anymore She was dead He had made the mistake of reaching out for her the third time he had seen the coordinates of her presence but all he had touched was air He had fallen to his knees in the upstairs hall thinking absurdly that this giving and taking away must have been what made men believe in angels once The gust of a sob had racked him Its force had thrown him forward onto his hands and he remained like that breathless a mongrel brought to heel For the first and only time in his life he had wished to die In No Visible Means of Support Dabney Stuart s stories turn within themselves like trapeze artists passing each other in midair Stuart works without a net using anagrams iconographic details and dreams to imply connections and resolutions only to shift focus and veer off into new configurations This collection is complex yet direct funny yet profound emotional yet clever Despite all their narrative sophistication these stories always concern themselves with basic human predicaments the sorrow of loss the mysteries of creation the persistence and resilience of the spirit The first two stories evoke mystery resembling spy and detective fiction In Loose Ends the focus figure is a middle aged courier whose simple curiosity gets the better of him and turns his life upside down One Good Turn depicts an old man whose past almost overwhelms him The Egg Lady presents a successful writer who gets a sort of comeuppance in a small town when he underestimates those around him All of the stories are concerned with fate and destiny each indirectly comments upon the others While each story connects on different levels with the others none of them presents an easy way out of the difficulties that compose these fictional worlds A storytelling master Dabney Stuart threads the implicit sources of help for his characters into their intriguing earthbound lives
