Like Hot Knives To The Brain:

The Big Somewhere Steven Powell, 2018-07-12 James Ellroy's identity as a crime writer is rooted in his extraordinary life story and relationship with his home city of Los Angeles. Beginning with the unsolved murder of his mother Geneva Hilliker Ellroy in 1958, Ellroy's early life played a large role in shaping his obsessions with murder, the criminal underworld of L.A., and the redemptive power of the feminine. Ellroy's life could be seen as a brutal, visceral and emotionally exhausting realisation of the American Dream, a theme he has explored in his writing to the extent that he is credited with reinventing crime fiction. The Big Somewhere: Essays on James Ellroy's Noir World is an in-depth scholarly study of the work of James Ellroy featuring leading Ellroy scholars such as Anna F. G. Jim Mancall and Rodney Taveira. Moving from Ellroy's early detective novels to his later epic works of historical fiction, it explores how Ellroy found his place in the history of the genre by building on and then surpassing the works of authors who influenced him such as Dashiell Hammett, Raymond Chandler and Joseph Wambaugh. It also examines Ellroy's impact on contemporary writers and on the cultural perception of L.A., which has been his legacy through the L.A. Quartet novels. The Big Somewhere is not a geographical location but a conglomeration of the cinematic, historical and fictional worlds that influenced Ellroy from film noir to the Kennedy era in American politics and on which he in turn has left his mark. Justice and Revenge in Contemporary American Crime Fiction Stuart

Sim, 2015-04-08 The detective figure in contemporary American crime fiction increasingly relies on revenge to bring about justice in a society where there has been a sharp decline in moral values. This study demonstrates how the notion of the detective as a moral exemplar or heroic ideal breaks down in the works of writers such as James Ellroy and Sara Paretsky.

James Ellroy and Voyeur Fiction Nathan Ashman, 2018-10-15 James Ellroy is an acclaimed yet controversial popular novelist. Since the publication of his first novel Brown's Requiem in 1981, Ellroy's eccentric Demon Dog persona and his highly stylized, often pornographically violent crime novels have continued to polarize both public and academic opinion. This book addresses the voyeuristic dimensions of Ellroy's fiction, one of the most significant yet underexplored issues in his work. Focusing exclusively on Ellroy's two collections of epic noir fiction, The L.A. Quartet and The Underworld U.S.A. Trilogy, it critically reflects on a vivid preoccupation with eyes, visual culture and visual technologies that spans across both these bodies of work. Using a combination of psychoanalysis and postmodern and cultural theory, Nathan Ashman argues that Ellroy's fiction traces the development of the voyeur from a deviant and perverse peeping tom into a recognizable contemporary social type: a paranoid and obsessive viewer who is a product of the decentered and hallucinatory cinematic world that he inhabits. In particular, James Ellroy and Voyeur Fiction illuminates a convergence between voyeurism and recurring patterns of ocularcentric crisis in Ellroy's texts as characters become continually unable to understand or interpret through vision. Alongside a thematic analysis of obsessive watching, Ashman also argues that Ellroy's works, particularly his later novels, are themselves voyeuristic, implicating the reader in these broader narrative patterns of both visual and epistemophilic obsession.
