of War in Kentucky Antonio S. Thompson, 2024-01-01 During World War II Kentuckians rushed from farms to factories and battlefields leaving agriculture throughout the state particularly the lucrative tobacco industry without sufficient labor An influx of Axis prisoners of war made up the shortfall Nearly 10 000 German and Italian POWs were housed in camps at Campbell Breckinridge Knox and other locations across the state Under the Geneva Convention they worked for their captors and helped save Kentucky s crops while enjoying relative comfort as prisoners playing sports performing musicals and taking college classes Yet friction between Nazi and anti Nazi inmates threatened the success of the program This book chronicles the POW program in Kentucky and the vital contributions the Bluegrass State made to Allied victory     Military Publications ,1957     Italian Prisoners of War in Pennsylvania Flavio G. Conti, Alan R. Perry, 2016-10-19 During World War II 51 000 Italian prisoners of war were detained in the United States When Italy signed an armistice with the Allies in September 1943 most of these soldiers agreed to swear allegiance to the United States and to collaborate in the fight against Germany At the Letterkenny Army Depot located near Chambersburg Pennsylvania more than 1 200 Italian soldiers were detained as co operators They arrived in May 1944 to form the 321st Italian Quartermaster Battalion and remained until October 1945 As detainees the soldiers helped to order stock repair and ship military goods munitions and equipment to the Pacific and European Theaters of war Through such labor they lent their collective energy to the massive home front endeavor to defeat the Axis Powers The prisoners also helped to construct the depot itself building roads sidewalks and fences along with individual buildings such as an assembly hall amphitheater swimming pool and a chapel and bell tower The latter of these two constructions still exist and together with the assembly hall bear eloquent testimony to the Italian POW experience For their work the Italian co operators received a very modest regular salary and they experienced more freedom than regular POWs In their spare time they often had liberty to leave the post in groups that American soldiers chaperoned Additionally they frequently received or visited large entourages of Italian Americans from the Mid Atlantic region who were eager to comfort their erstwhile countrymen The story of these Italian soldiers detained at Letterkenny has never before been told Now however oral histories from surviving POWs memoirs generously donated by family members of ex prisoners and the rich information newly available from archival material in Italy aided by material found in the U S have made it possible to reconstruct this experience in full All of this historical documentation has also allowed the authors to tell fascinating individual stories from the moment when many POWs were captured to their return to Italy and beyond More than seventy years since the end of World War II family members of ex POWs in both the United States and Italy still enjoy the positive legacy of this encounter
