D. Bernal, 2012-10-04 J D Bernal s monumental work Science in History was the first full attempt to analyse the reciprocal relations of science and society throughout history from the perfection of the flint hand axe to the hydrogen bomb In this remarkable study he illustrates the impetus given to and the limitations placed upon discovery and invention by pastoral agricultural feudal capitalist and socialist systems and conversely the ways in which science has altered economic social and political beliefs and practices In this first volume Bernal discusses the nature and method of science before describing its emergence in the Stone Age its full formation by the Greeks and its continuing growth probably influenced from China under Christendom and Islam in the Middle Ages Andrew Brown Bernal's biographer with a nice sense of paradox has said of him he was steeped in history in part because he was always thinking about the future He goes on to say Science in History is an encyclopaedic yet individual and colourful account of the emergence of science from pre historic times There is detailed coverage of the scientific revolution of the Enlightenment the Industrial Age and the first two thirds of the twentieth century The writing flows and is devoid of the tortured idioms that mar so many academic histories of science After reading it it is easy to agree with C P Snow's orotund observation that Bernal was the last man to know science Faber Finds are reissuing the illustrated four volume edition first published by Penguin in 1969 The four volumes are Volume 1 The Emergence of Science Volume 2 The Scientific and Industrial Revolutions Volume 3 The Natural Sciences in Our Time Volume 4 The Social Sciences Conclusion This stupendous work is a magnificent synoptic view of the rise of science and its impact on society which leaves the reader awe struck by Professor Bernal's encyclopaedic knowledge and historical sweep Times Literary Supplement

Systems of Classification in Premodern Medical Cultures Ulrike Steinert, 2020-07-21 Systems of Classification in Premodern Medical Cultures puts historical disease concepts in cross cultural perspective investigating perceptions constructions and experiences of health and illness from antiquity to the seventeenth century Focusing on the systematisation and classification of illness in its multiple forms manifestations and causes this volume examines case studies ranging from popular concepts of illness through to specialist discourses on it Using philological historical and anthropological approaches the contributions cover perspectives across time from East Asian Middle Eastern and Mediterranean cultures spanning ancient Egypt Mesopotamia Greece and Rome to Tibet and China They aim to capture the multiplicity of disease concepts and medical traditions within specific societies and to investigate the historical dynamics of stability and change linked to such concepts Providing useful material for comparative research the volume is a key resource for researchers studying the cultural conceptualisation of illness including anthropologists historians and classicists among others

White Athena Walter Slack, 2015-06-26 Return to the fray of the Afrocentrist movement in the second volume of White Athena Walter Slack follows up his first volume which took to task those who claim that the Greeks and others stole their philosophy science and culture from black Africans arguing that the world needs to give credit to the right people This volume is much less a comparison of diverse philosophies and cosmologies and much more an evaluation of claims regarding imagined imports of technical cultural religious and practical artifacts Slack examines numerous Afrocentrist claims including that cultural tutors from black Africa roamed early Europe Muslim Spain and pre Columbian Mesoamerica and even traveled to ancient China with all sorts of cultural intellectual and scientific contributions The author concludes that most damaging to the credibility of Afrocentrists is their willingness to adopt any and every theory that supports their ideological thesis of African cultural supremacy overtly or covertly based upon race Open your mind to an honest and impartial view of world history with White Athena Volume 2

Introduction to the History of Science George Sarton, 1927 Kingdoms, Empires, and Domains Mark A. Ragan, 2023 Kingdoms Empires and Domains explores the history of the idea that there is more to the living world than plants and animals Progressing chronologically through philosophical religious literary and other pre scientific traditions leading molecular systematist Mark A Ragan traces how transgressive creatures such as sponges corals algae fungi and diverse microscopic beings have been described categorized and understood throughout history The book also explores how the concept of a third kingdom of life evolved within the fields of scientific botany and zoology and continues to evolve up to the present day

Body and Machine in Classical Antiquity Maria Gerolemou, George Kazantzidis, 2023-07-27 This innovative and wide ranging volume is the first systematic exploration of the multifaceted relationship between human bodies and machines in classical antiquity It examines the conception of the body and bodily processes in mechanical terms in ancient medical writings and looks into how artificial bodies and automata were equally configured in human terms it also investigates how this knowledge applied to the treatment of the disabled and the diseased in the ancient world The volume examines the pre history of what develops at a later stage and more specifically during the early modern period into the full science of iatromechanics in the context of which the human body was treated as a machine and medical treatments were devised accordingly The volume facilitates future dialogue between scholars working on different areas from classics history and archaeology to history of science philosophy and technology
