History, what and Why? Beverley C. Southgate, 2001 This is a highly accessible introductory survey of historians views about the nature and purpose of their subject and discusses the traditional model of history as an account of the past as it was

History: what and Why? Beverley C. Southgate, 2001 History What and Why is a highly accessible introductory survey of historians views about the nature and purpose of their subject It offers a historical perspective and clear guide to contemporary debates about the nature and purpose of history and a discussion of the traditional model of history as an account of the past as it was It assesses the challenges to orthodox views and examines the impact of Marxism feminism and post colonialism on the study of history This second edition has been updated to reflect the continuing and still increasing debate surrounding these issues In particular it discusses historians fear of postmodernism holocaust denial and the Irving Lipstadt libel trial the future of the past in the light of the postmodern challenge For anyone teaching learning or studying history this is a must

Textual Practice Various, 1997-03-13 In this issue some of the most influential critics in the field encounter their colleagues in debate A sad tale s best for South Africa Martin Orkin Shakespeare and Hanekom King Lear and land Nicholas Visser Questioning Robert Young s post colonial criticism Laura Chrisman Response to Laura Chrisman Robert Young Making love to our employment or the immateriality of arguments about the materiality of the Shakespearean text Edward Pechter Lover among the ruins response to Pechter Margreta de Grazia and Peter Stallybrass Busy doing nothing a response to Edward Pechter Graham Holderness Bryan Loughrey and Andrew Murphey Is she fact or is she fiction Angela Carter and the enigma of woman Anne Fernihough The new romanticism philosophical stand ins in English Romantic discourse Paul Hamilton

The Field Douglas Booth, 2007-05-07 2006 North American Society for Sports History Book of the Year The literature on sport history is now well established taking in a wide range of themes and covering every activity from aerobics to zorbing However in comparison to most mainstream histories sport history has rarely been called upon to question its foundations and account for the basis of its historical knowledge In this book Booth offers a rigorous assessment of sport history as an academic discipline exploring the ways in which professional historians can gather materials construct and examine evidence and present their arguments about the sporting past Part 1 examines theories of knowledge while Part 2 goes on to scrutinize the uses of historical knowledge in popular and academic studies of sport history With clear structure examples summary tables and a detailed glossary The Field provides students teachers and researchers with an unparalleled resource to tackle issues fundamental to the future of their subject and sets the agenda for the debate to come

Sport and Society Barrie Houlihan, 2007-12-20 Praise for the First Edition Barrie Houlihan s astonishingly ambitious and skilfully assembled collection examines the relations between sport social policy and the social context that underlies the two Organized around such themes as exclusion commercialism and international comparisons the book allows the reader to understand not only the centrality of sport to contemporary society but the often perplexing policies that contrive to encourage or deny participation promote or deter public sector involvement and support or undermine physical education Importantly Houlihan never prioritises the general over the particular always striving to find detail amid the bigger picture Ellis Cashmore Professor of Culture Media and Sport Staffordshire University The most comprehensive study of contemporary issues in sport by leading international scholars Houlihan's book is the answer to sports students prayers full of information statistics tables and figures extensive guides to further reading and most important of all challenging ideas A weighty vademecum for the early 21st century Jim Riordan Honorary Professor of Sports Studies University of Stirling Professor Emeritus at University of Surrey and President of the European Sports History Association Fully updated and revised the Second Edition of Barrie Houlihan's ground breaking book provides students and lecturers with a one stop text that is comprehensive multi disciplinary accessible international and engaging Sport and Society allows students to Approach the study of sport from a multi disciplinary perspective Understand the importance of social structure power and inequality in analyzing the nature and significance of sport in society Address the rapid commercialization and regulation of sport Engage in comparative analysis to understand problems clearly and produce sound solutions Expand their knowledge through chapter summaries guides to further reading and extensive bibliographies This Second Edition contains five brand new chapters which reflect recent concerns with young athletes and human rights sport and the city sport and violence sport and health and sport and Islam A superb teaching text it will be relished by lecturers seeking an authoritative introduction to sport and society and students who want a relevant enriching text for their learning and research needs Beginning

Postmodernism Tim Woods, 1999-08-20 Postmodernism has become the buzzword of contemporary society Yet it remains baffling in its variety of definitions contexts and associations Beginning Postmodernism aims to offer clear accessible and step by step introductions to postmodernism across a wide range of subjects It encourages readers to explore how the debates about postmodernism have emerged from basic philosophical and cultural ideas With its emphasis firmly on postmodernism in practice the book contains exercises and questions designed to help readers understand and reflect upon a variety of positions in the following areas of contemporary culture philosophy and cultural theory architecture and concepts of space visual art sculpture and the design arts popular culture and music film video and television culture and the social sciences Harold Wilson and European Integration Oliver J. Daddow, 2016-01-20 Harold Wilson's direction of the second British application to join the EEC is ripe for reinterpretation With new and exciting material now available in the Public Record Office and abroad this is an extremely propitious moment to reconsider Wilson's motivations and to contextualise them in light of evidence on foreign policy making contained in the official record Israel in Transition 2 Lester L. Grabbe, 2010-11-04 Israel in Transition 2 is the second in a two volume work addressing some of the historical problems relating to the early history of Israel from its first mention around 1200 BCE to the beginnings of the kingdoms of Israel and Judah During this four century transition period Israel moved from a group of small settlements in the Judean and Samarian hill country to the two kingdoms of Israel and Judah occupying much of the land on the west side of the Jordan The present volume engages with the relevant texts These include various inscriptions such as the Tel Dan inscription and the Assyrian inscriptions but also an examination of the biblical text The articles discuss various individual problems relating to Israelite history but ultimately the aim is to comment on historical methodology The debate among Seminar members illustrates not only the problems but also suggests solutions and usable methods The editor provides a perspective on the debate in a Conclusion that summarizes the contributions of the two volumes together

The Discourse of History Jing Hao,J. R. Martin,2024-05-31 Taking a Systemic Functional Linguistic perspective this book explores how language builds our knowledge about the past and gives value to historical events thereby shaping contemporary culture It brings together cutting edge research from an international team of scholars to provide a detailed study of texts from three different world languages English Spanish and Mandarin Chinese revealing how the discourse of history is constructed in these languages Each chapter provides examples and step by step analyses of how knowledge and value are constructed in history texts drawing on Systemic Functional Linguistics to develop theory and description in relation to text analysis It also makes connections with disciplinary literacy and history education showing how linguistic findings can benefit the teaching and learning of historical literacy Providing theoretical and analytical foundations for studies of the discourse of history it is essential reading for anyone interested in literacy discourse analysis and language description

Historical Judgement Jonathan Gorman,2014-11-27 The historical profession is not noted for examining its own methodologies Indeed most historians are averse to historical theory In Historical Judgement Jonathan Gorman s response to this state of affairs is to argue that if we want to characterize a discipline we need to look to persons who successfully occupy the role of being practitioners of that discipline So to model historiography we must do so from the views of historians Gorman begins by showing what it is to model a discipline by using recent philosophy of law and philosophy of science There are different models at work whose rivalry and resolution are to be historically understood With this approach in place he is able to develop the history of historiography and explore the character of historiography as presented by historians He reveals that historians conform to various norms that historians now and in the past have agreed and disagreed about the same set of interrelated matters truth telling moral judgement and the synthesis of facts and it is this internal understanding that we need to recover if we are to arrive at a correct characterization of the discipline of historiography Demonstrating how the practice of historiography requires choices and therefore the exercise of judgement Gorman is able to show that in their making of judgements historians enjoy the immense benefit of hindsight He shows how in reflecting on their own discipline historians have typically failed to attend adequately to the history of historiography neglecting to situate previous historians within their historical contexts or to pay adequate attention to the fact that present historians too are within a context that will change In addition Gorman s approach which emphasizes the power and necessity of choice and which rests on the pragmatic holistic empiricism of Quine shows postmodernism not to be the threat that some historians feel it to be indeed it is shown to be a radical form of empiricism Gorman shows how the historical enterprise may be established in our factual and moral understanding in the light of our choices and commitments to a shared world Historical Judgement is an original and important contribution to the philosophy of history By bringing together the ideas of historians and philosophers Gorman presents a much more practitioner focused examination of the discipline of history one that will hopefully encourage historians to think more about the nature of what they do Sports History Martin Polley,2006-11-21 Why should we study the history of sport What primary sources do sports historians use How can you make your own sports history work more sophisticated and professional If you are studying sport or history and are looking for a deeper appreciation of the ideas and methods involved in the historical study of sport then this book is essential reading Through themed chapters Martin Polley explores The nature of sports history The importance of the past in contemporary sport The types of primary evidence that sports historians use With numerous practical exercises designed to bring sports history to life a glossary and extensive guidance to further resources this indispensable book will enhance your understanding and enjoyment of sports history

Writing History, Constructing Religion James G. Crossley,Christian Karner,2018-01-18 Writing History Constructing Religion presents a much needed interdisciplinary exploration of the significance of debates among historians scholars of religion and cultural theorists over the nature of history to the study of religion The distinguished authors discuss issues related to definitions of history postmodernism critical theory and the impact on the study and analysis of religious traditions exploring the application of writing history from below discussions of truth and objectivity as opposed to power and ideology crises of representation and the place of theory in the historicized study of religion s Addressing conceptual debates in a wide range of historical and empirical contexts the authors critically engage with issues including religious nationalism Nazism Islam and the West secularism religion in post Communist Russia ethnicity and post modernity This book constitutes a significant step towards the self reflexive and interdisciplinary study of religions in history History and Heritage Simon Ditchfield,John Arnold,Kate Davies,2015-12-22 Just what is it that we want from the past History offers us true stories about the past heritage sells or provides us with the past we appear to desire The dividing line between history and heritage is however far from clear This collection of papers addresses the division between history and heritage by looking at the ways in which we make use of the past the way we consume our yesterdays Looking at a wide variety of fields including architectural history museums films novels and politics the authors examine the ways in which the past is invoked in contemporary culture and question the politics of drawing upon history in present day practices In topics ranging from Braveheart to Princess Diana the Piltdown Man to the National History Curriculum war memorials to stately homes History and Heritage explores the presence of the past in our lives and asks how and to what end are we using the idea of the past Who is consuming the past and why Discourses of Globalisation, and the Politics of History School Textbooks Joseph

Zajda,2022-08-19 This book focuses on discourses of the politics of history education and history textbooks It offers a new insight into understanding of the nexus between ideology the state and nation building as depicted in history education and school textbooks It especially focuses on the interpretation of social and political change significant events looking for possible biases and omissions leadership and the contribution of key individuals and continuities The book discusses various aspects of historical narratives and some selected key events in defining identity and nation building It considers the role of historiography in dominant historical narratives It analyses history education in both local and global settings and its significance in promoting values education and intercultural and global understanding It is argued that historical narratives add pedagogies grounded in constructivist metacognitive and transformational paradigms have the power to engage the learner in significant and meaningful learning experiences informed by multiple discourses of our historical narratives and those of other nations
