Hitchcocks Cryptonymies Volume 1 Secret Agents:

Hitchcock's Cryptonymies: Secret agents Tom Cohen, 2005-01-01 Tom Cohen's radical exploration of Hitchcock's cinema departs from conventional approaches psychoanalytic feminist political to emphasize the dense web of signatures and markings inscribed on and around his films Aligning Hitchcock's agenda with the philosophical and aesthetic writings of Nietzsche Derrida and Benjamin Cohen's project dramatically recasts the history and meaning of cinema itself This first volume of Hitchcock's Cryptonymies provides a singularly close reading of films such as The Lady Vanishes Spellbound and North by Northwest exposing the often imperceptible visual and aural puns graphic elements and cryptograms that traverse his entire body of work Within Hitchcock's cinema Cohen argues these secret agents have more than just decorative or symbolic significance they also reflect critique and disrupt traditional cinematic practice undermining ways of seeing inherited from the Enlightenment and prefiguring postmodern culture Cohen offers an unprecedented guide to the entirety of Hitchcock's labyrinthine signature system

Hitchcock's Magic Neil Badmington, 2011-04-15 Why are we still drawn to the work of Alfred Hitchcock so long after his final film appeared What remains to see What could there possibly be left to say about tales that are overwhelmingly familiar Why moreover have many of Hitchcock's films entered the popular imagination and enjoyed an eventful life far from the screen What is the source of Hitchcock's magic This book answers these questions about the influence and ongoing appeal of Hitchcock's work by focussing upon the fabric of the films themselves upon the way in which they enlist and sustain our desire holding our attention by constantly withholding something from us We keep watching keep revisiting the stories because there is always something left to see and know The book combines detailed textual analysis of a number of Hitchcock's most famous films Psycho Rear Window Rebecca North by Northwest The Man Who Knew Too Much and The Birds with more general discussion of the director's complete body of work Drawing upon the poststructuralist theories of Roland Barthes and Jacques Derrida it takes issue with the biographical and psychoanalytic approaches that have dominated studies of Hitchcock's films to argue instead for the significance of textuality Hitchcock's Magic is an innovative lively and readable book which challenges critical orthodoxy and breaks new ground in the field

The J. Hillis Miller Reader Joseph Hillis Miller, Julian Wolfreys, 2005 This anthology exhibits the diversity inventiveness and intellectual energy of the writings of J Hillis Miller the most significant North American literary critic of the twentieth century From the 1950s onward Miller has made invaluable contributions to our understanding of the practice and theory of literary criticism the ethics and responsibilities of teaching and reading and the role of literature in the modern world He has also shown successive generations of scholars and students the necessity of comprehending the relationship between philosophy and literature Divided into six sections the volume provides more than twenty significant extracts from Miller's works In addition there is a new interview with Miller as well as a series of specially commissioned critical responses to Miller's work by a number of the leading figures in literary and cultural studies today Following a comprehensive critical introduction by the editor each section has a brief introduction directing the reader toward pertinent themes There is also a comprehensive bibliography and a chronology of Miller's professional life and activities This reader the first of Miller's work in English provides an indispensable overview and introduction to one of the most original critical voices to have emerged since the inception of the teaching of English and American literature in universities in the English speaking world

A Hitchcock Reader Marshall Deutelbaum, Leland Poague, 2009-02-24 This new edition of A Hitchcock Reader aims to preserve what has been so satisfying and successful in the first edition a comprehensive anthology that may be used as a critical text in introductory or advanced film courses while also satisfying Hitchcock scholars by representing the rich variety of critical responses to the director's films over the years a total of 20 of Hitchcock's films are discussed in depth many others are considered in passing section introductions by the editors that contextualize the essays and the films they discuss well researched bibliographic references which will allow readers to broaden the scope of their study of Alfred Hitchcock

Fantasies of Self-Mourning Ruben Borg, 2019-01-07 In Fantasies of Self Mourning Ruben Borg describes the formal features of a posthuman cyborgian imaginary at work in modernism The book's central claim is that modernism invents the posthuman as a way to think through the contradictions of its historical moment Borg develops a posthumanist critique of the concept of organic life based on comparative readings of Pirandello Woolf Beckett and Flann O'Brien alongside discussions of Alfred Hitchcock Chris Marker B la Tarr Ridley Scott and Mamoru Oshii The argument draws together a cluster of modernist narratives that contemplate the separation of a cybernetic eye from a human body or call for a tearing up of the body understood as a discrete organic unit capable of synthesizing desire and sense perception

A Silence from Hitchcock Murray Pomerance, 2023-02-01 In A Silence from Hitchcock Murray Pomerance explores the resonating power of silence in the director's work its variation its haunting temptation and its technical power Working from a meditative devotion to and an illuminating familiarity with the director's work Pomerance shines light upon six films some of them Notorious The Lady Vanishes and The Trouble with Harry frequently even obsessively treated and others Frenzy The Wrong Man and Topaz less often discussed In its strange relation to speech memory urbanity guilt mortality and espionage silence becomes in these films a dramatic protagonist in its own right Written by a master interpreter of Hitchcock this book offers new ways of seeing experiencing and thinking about the films of one of cinema's greatest artists as well as new ways of reflecting on our experience of cinema itself

Eastern Approaches to Western Film Stephen Teo, 2019-07-11 Eastern Approaches to Western Film Asian Aesthetics and Reception in Cinema offers a renewed critical outlook on Western classic film directly from the pantheon of European and American masters including Alfred Hitchcock George Lucas Robert Bresson Carl Dreyer Jean Pierre Melville John Ford Leo McCarey Sam Peckinpah and Orson Welles The book contributes an Eastern Approach into the critical studies of Western films by reappraising selected films of these masters matching and comparing their visions themes and ideas with the philosophical and paradigmatic principles of the East It traces Eastern inscriptions and signs embedded within these films as well as their social lifestyle values and other concepts that are also inherently Eastern. As such, the book represents an effort to reformulate established discourses on Western cinema that are overwhelmingly Eurocentric. Although it seeks to inject an alternative perspective, the ultimate aim is to reach a balance of East and West. By focusing on Eastern aesthetic and philosophical influences in Western films, the book suggests that there is a much more thorough integration of East and West than previously thought or imagined.

Intimate Violence David Greven, 2017-02-13

Intimate Violence explores the consistent cold war in Hitchcock's films between his heterosexual heroines and his queer characters, usually though not always male. Decentering the authority of the male hero, Hitchcock's films allow his female and queer characters to vie for narrative power, often in conflict with one another. These conflicts eerily echo the tense standoff between feminism and queer theory. From a reparative psychoanalytic perspective, David Greven merges queer and feminist approaches to Hitchcock. Using the theories of Melanie Klein, Greven argues that Hitchcock's work thematizes a constant battle between desires to injure and to repair the loved object. Greven develops a theory of sexual hegemony: The feminine versus the queer conflict, as he calls it in Hitchcock films, illuminates the shared but rivalrous struggles for autonomy and visibility on the part of female and queer subjects. The heroine is vulnerable to misogyny but she often gains an access to agency that the queer subject longs for, mistaking her partial autonomy for social power. Hitchcock's queer personae, however, wield a seductive power over his heterosexual subjects, having access to illusion and masquerade that the knowledge-seeking heroine must destroy. Freud's theory of paranoia, understood as a tool for the dissection of cultural homophobia, illuminates the feminine versus the queer conflict, the female subject position, and the consistent forms of homoerotic antagonism in the Hitchcock film. Through close readings of such key Hitchcock works as North by Northwest, Psycho, Strangers on a Train, Spellbound, Rope, Marnie, and The Birds, Greven explores the ongoing conflicts between the heroine and queer subjects and the simultaneous allure and horror of same-sex relationships in the director's films.

Bio-Politicizing Cary Grant Joshua David Gonsalves, 2015-02-27

Who will Cary Grant have been when the future runs out? In the atrocity-rich wake of Hiroshima, Cold War America is enriched beyond belief. Hollywood radiates in turn images of a consumer utopia crisscrossed by segregation, social mobility, racial passing, anxieties about ethnicity, and white panic. Cary Grant's classless classiness seems to denote this suburban leisure class without an effort; yet he signifies more than this ambivalent bisexual intersected by the biopolitics of racialization, the policing of sexual agency, and stereotypical ethnic identifications, including the invisible Anglo, instanced by the high angle shot. If biopolitics signifies the individuated control of populations, Bio-Politicizing Cary Grant presses race, class, and ethnicity into service. In Amerika, located in this anxious racialization of service persons, interracial sexuality and social mobility passing in an Americanized simulacrum of the Mediterranean world in To Catch a Thief (1955) and in a New York Northeast-centered USA in North by Northwest (1959), Bio-Politicizing Cary Grant queries the criticism of Alfred Hitchcock's films so as to historically situate one of the first free agents in Hollywood. Yet this semblance of freedom pays a price in meat murder massification and the organized homicide of Cold War geopolitics The book explicates in sum the ethnic racial and sexual ambiguity of Cary Grant's star persona as both an inculcation of and resistance to biopolitical imperatives in fifties era America

Cultural Theory After the Contemporary S. Tumino, 2011-01-31 Contemporary cultural studies have marginalized agency namely the power of people to shape social life Here Stephen Tumino offers a new materialist challenge to these tendencies and articulates an internationalist cultural theory that puts global agency in the forefront of cultural analysis

Realism in Greek Cinema Vrasidas Karalis, 2016-12-18 The history of Greek cinema post 1945 is best understood through the stories of its most internationally celebrated and influential directors Focusing on the works of six major filmmakers active from just after WWII to the present day with added consideration of many others this book examines the development of cinema as an art form in the social and political contexts of Greece Insights on gender in film minority cinemas stylistic richness and the representation of historical trauma are afforded by close readings of the work and life of such luminaries as Michael Cacoyannis Nikos Koundouros Yannis Dalianidis Theo Angelopoulos Antouanetta Angelidi Yorgos Lanthimos Athena Rachel Tsangari and Costas Zapas Throughout the book examines how directors visually transmute reality to represent unstable societies disrupted collective memories and national identity

Medieval film Anke Bernau, Bettina Bildhauer, 2021-06-15 Medieval film explores theoretical questions about the ideological artistic emotional and financial investments inhering in cinematic renditions of the medieval period What does it mean to create and watch a medieval film What is a medieval film and why are they successful This is the first work that attempts to answer these questions drawing for instance on film theory postcolonial theory cultural studies and the growing body of work on medievalism Contributors investigate British German Italian Australian French Swedish and American film exploring topics such translation temporality film noir framing and period film and find the medieval lurking in unexpected corners In addition it provides in depth studies of individual films from different countries including The Birth of a Nation to Nosferatu and Robin Hood Prince of Thieves Medieval Film will be of interest to medievalists working in disciplines including literature history to scholars working on film and in cultural studies It will also be of interest to undergraduates postgraduates and to an informed enthusiast in film or and medieval culture

Film, Architecture and Spatial Imagination René Tobe, 2016-08-25 Films use architecture as visual shorthand to tell viewers everything they need to know about the characters in a short amount of time Illustrated by a diverse range of films from different eras and cultures this book investigates the reciprocity between film and architecture Using a phenomenological approach it describes how we the viewers can learn how to read architecture and design in film in order to see the many inherent messages Architecture's representational capacity contributes to the plausibility or reality possible in film The book provides an ontological understanding that clarifies and stabilizes the reciprocity of the actual world and a filmic world of illusion and human imagination thereby shedding light on both film and architecture

The Moving Image, 2005 Initiation Thomas

Kirsch, Virginia Beane Rutter, Thomas Singer, 2007 First Published in 2007 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Hitchcock's Cryptonymies Tom Cohen, 2005-01-01 This second volume presents the director's work as a radical collage of images and absences letters and numbers citations and sounds that together mark Hitchcock as a knowing figure who was entirely aware of this and cinema's place at the dawn of a global media culture as well as the cinema's revolutionary impact on perception and memory Inheritance in Psychoanalysis Joel Goldbach, James A. Godley, 2018-02-01 Anthology of recent cutting edge work in psychoanalysis and philosophy on the concept of inheritance In contrast to the way inheritance is understood in scientific discourse and culture more broadly inheritance in psychoanalysis is a paradox Although it's impossible strictly speaking for the unconscious to be inherited this volume demonstrates how the concept of inheritance can occasion a rich reassessment and reinvention of psychoanalytic theory and practice The collection enacts a critical traversal of inheritance for psychoanalysis from the most basic assumptions of natural or biological inheritance such as innateness heredity evolution and ontogenesis to analysis of the ways cultural traditions can be challenged and transformed and finally to the reinvention of psychoanalytic practice in which the ethics of inheritance is fully realized as the individual's responsibility to transform the social bond Featuring strong interdisciplinary analysis rooted in both psychoanalysis and philosophy this volume further engages science politics and cultural studies and addresses contemporary political challenges such as autism and transgenderism Perpetual Movement Neil Badmington, 2021-07-01 The first book length study in English of Alfred Hitchcock's Rope 1948 Perpetual Movement offers both a production history that draws extensively upon little known archival materials including set drawings and drafts of the screenplay and a close examination of the film in which Neil Badmington analyzes each of Rope's eleven shots Writing in an accessible and engaging style Badmington explores the film's treatment of space sound editing sexuality source material design intertextuality narrative and music He looks at Hitchcock's struggle with censorship while planning shooting and distributing the film Perpetual Movement also addresses Rope's reception and legacy explaining why the film's unusual qualities provide such lasting appeal for viewers Cultural Theory in the Films of Alfred Hitchcock Gary McCarron, 2023-07-11 This book is neither biography nor a conventional film critique Rather the text explores aspects of Hitchcock's work in relation to theories drawn from the social sciences and philosophy The various chapters focus not on specific films but on broader ideas central to Hitchcock's work There is for instance a chapter on his idea of the MacGuffin in which I use Ernesto Laclau's theories of equivalent substitution to explain how the MacGuffin functions in Hitchcock's works There is also a chapter on his notion of pure cinema which moves from the idea of purity as an anthropological concept to consider purity in relation to current debates regarding so called hybrid media and Hitchcock's relevance to these issues in respect of his dissatisfaction with the advent of sound to the cinema world Broadly speaking the book uses Hitchcock's films to illustrate ideas in the social sciences and philosophy and uses those same ideas to illustrate aspects of Hitchcock's films Material Spirit Manuel

Asensi, Carl Good, 2013-12-02 The essays in this collection examine philosophical religious and literary or artistic texts using methodologies and insights that have grown out of reflection on literature and art In them them phrase material spirit becomes a point of departure for considering the continuing spectral effects of religious texts and concerns in ways that do not simply call for or assume new or renewed forms of religiosity The writers in this collection seek to examine religion beyond traditional notions of transcendence Their topics range from early Christian religious practices to global climate change Some of the essays explore religious themes or tones in literary texts for example works by Wordsworth Hopkins Proust Woolf and Teresa of Avila Others approach in a literary critical mood philosophical or para philosophical writers such as Bataille Husserl Derrida and Benjamin Still others treat writers of a more explicitly religious orientation such as Augustine Rosenzweig or Bernard of Clairvaux
