Part II explores happiness and joy, fear, terror and awe, sadness, grief and depression, contempt, disgust and shame, anger and hate, envy and jealousy, love, affection and admiration, and pity, empathy and compassion. Numerous sub-themes threading through the volume explore such topics as emotional expression and suppression in relation to social status, gender, the body and particular social and spatial conditions or material contexts. Greek and Latin from an Indo-European Perspective Coulter George, Matthew McCullagh, Benedicte Nielsen, Antonia Ruppel, 2020-08-30. This volume presents new work exploring how the study of historical linguistics can advance our understanding of Greek and Latin and conversely how the classical languages can help us to reconstruct Proto Indo-European and the culture of its speakers. Classical and Indo-European linguistics have been particularly exciting areas of research in recent years and this book is intended to provide insight into some of the main areas of current debate. It stems from an international conference held in Cambridge in 2005 and includes contributions from keynote speakers Andreas Willi and Joshua Katz. The book covers a wide range of topics: phonology, the accentuation of Greek monosyllables, the development of laryngeals in Greek and typological discussion of the glottalic theory, morphology, the prehistory of the past tense, augment, the iteratives and causatives of the Latin second conjugation, the origin of the Latin prefix co-, Indo-European root nouns and s- stem neuters, Greek and Latin reflexive pronouns, the Greek comparative suffix, the etymologies of etymos, Achilles, adulare and a Macedonian gloss, the significance of the Greek particle tar and comparisons of Sanskrit matrimonial names and poetic terminology with their Greek counterparts. Greek and Latin from an Indo-European Perspective demonstrates the continuing relevance of linguistics for the study of ancient languages and literature and will be of interest to classicists, Indo-European linguists and historical linguists generally.
