History Of Our World Beyond The Wave A Fantasy:

The History of Our World Beyond the Wave Robert E. Klein, 1998 After a giant tidal wave destroys our civilization survivors attempt to build a better one only to find old problems resurfacing Among them are greed and violence The events are seen through the eyes of Paul Sant of California who was surfing when the wave struck An Informal History of the Hugos Jo Walton, 2018-08-07 Engaged passionate and consistently entertaining An Informal History of the Hugos is a book about the renowned science fiction award for the many who enjoyed Jo Walton's previous collection of writing from Tor com the Locus Award winning What Makes This Book So Great The Hugo Awards named after pioneer science fiction publisher Hugo Gernsback and voted on by members of the World Science Fiction Society have been presented since 1953 They are widely considered the most prestigious awards in science fiction Between 2010 and 2013 Jo Walton wrote a series of posts for Tor com surveying the Hugo finalists and winners from the award's inception up to the year 2000 Her contention was that each year s full set of finalists generally tells a meaningful story about the state of science fiction at that time Walton s cheerfully opinionated and vastly well informed posts provoked valuable conversation among the field s historians Now these posts lightly revised have been gathered into this book along with a small selection of the comments posted by SF luminaries such as Rich Horton Gardner Dozois and David G Hartwell A remarkable guided tour through the field a kind of nonfiction companion to Among Others It's very good It's great New York Times bestselling author Cory Doctorow Boing Boing on What The Magazine of Fantasy & Science Fiction ,2003-07 Makes This Book So Great Talking Book Topics ,2001

Manlove, 2020-04-16 After a decade from 1965 which had seen the growth in Britain and America of an enormous interest in fantasy literature and a rise in its academic repute from cold to lukewarm a serious study of the subject seemed long overdue In this first critical book in its time on modern English fantasy Colin Manlove surveys a representative group of modern fantasies in the Victorian period in the children's scientific and Christian fantasy The Water Babies by Charles Kingsley and the mystical fantasy of the Scottish writer George MacDonald and from the twentieth century the interplanetary romances of C S Lewis the post war fantasy of rebellious youth in Mervyn Peake's Gormenghast books and the guest to avert apocalypse in J R R Tolkien's The Lord of the Rings The aim with all these works is to show the peculiar literary experiences they offer and to assess their strengths and limitations in relation to wider English literature In the introduction to his book Manlove gives a definition of fantasy marking off the genre from its near neighbors science fiction and Gothic or horror story and distinguishing between fantasies that are serious works of imagination and those that are fanciful or escapist Each chapter that follows is primarily a literary analysis set in a context of the writer's life thought and other works. As the book proceeds there begins to emerge a picture of the originality and merit of the writers but at the same time the sense of a division in the purpose of each writer whereby their works fail to abide by their own laws In the conclusion to this book Manlove draws the different types of division found into one and argues that the problem is one that is endemic to the writing of modern fantasy

P. Sims, 2023-02-23 Focusing on representations of Celtic motifs and traditions in post 1980s adult fantasy literature this book illuminates how the historical the mythological and the folkloric have served as inspiration for the fantastic in modern and popular culture of the western world Bringing together both highly acclaimed works with those that have received less critical attention including French and Gaelic fantasy literature Imagining the Celtic Past in Modern Fantasy explores such texts as Susanna Clarke s Jonathan Strange Mr Norrell Alan Garner s Weirdstone trilogy the Irish fantasies of Jodi McIsaac David Gemmell s Rigante novels Patricia Kennealy Morrison Keltiad books as well as An Sgoil Dhubh by Iain F MacLe id and the Vertigen and Frontier series by L a Silhol Lively and covering new ground the collection examines topics such as fairy magic Celtic inspired worldbuilding heroic patterns classical ethnography and genre tropes alongside analyses of the Celtic Tarot in speculative fiction and Celtic appropriation in fan culture Introducing a nuanced understanding of the Celtic past as it has been informed by recent debates in Celtic studies this wide ranging and provocative book shows how modern fantasy is indebted to medieval Celtic language texts folkloric traditions as well as classical sources

Rhetorics of Fantasy Farah Mendlesohn,2008-04-30 Examining fantasy literature Posthumanism and the Graphic Novel in Latin America Edward King, Joanna Page, 2017-07-03 Latin America is experiencing a boom in graphic novels that are highly innovative in their conceptual play and their reworking of the medium Inventive artwork and sophisticated scripts

have combined to satisfy the demand of a growing readership both at home and abroad Posthumanism and the Graphic Novel in Latin America which is the first book length study of the topic argues that the graphic novel is emerging in Latin America as a uniquely powerful force to explore the nature of twenty first century subjectivity. The authors place particular emphasis on the ways in which humans are bound to their non human environment and these ideas are productively drawn out in relation to posthuman thought and experience The book draws together a range of recent graphic novels from Argentina Brazil Chile Mexico and Uruguay many of which experiment with questions of transmediality the representation of urban space modes of perception and cognition and a new form of ethics for a posthuman world Praise for Posthumanism and the Graphic Novel in Latin America well referenced and well considered the analyses it brings are overall well executed and insightful Image and Narrative Jan 2018 vol 18 no 4 Repetition and Identity Catherine Pickstock, 2013-10-03 The Literary Agenda is a series of short polemical monographs about the importance of literature and of reading in the wider world and about the state of literary education inside schools and universities. The category of the literary has always been contentious What is clear however is how increasingly it is dismissed or is unrecognised as a way of thinking or an arena for thought It is sceptically challenged from within for example by the sometimes rival claims of cultural history contextualized explanation or media studies It is shaken from without by even greater pressures by economic exigency and the severe social attitudes that can follow from it by technological change that may leave the traditional forms of serious human communication looking merely antiquated For just these reasons this is the right time for renewal to start reinvigorated work into the meaning and value of literary reading Repetition and Identity offers a theory of the existing thing as such A thing only has identity and consistency when it has already been repeated but repetition summons difference and the shadow invocation of a connecting sign In contrast to the perspectives of Post structuralism Catherine Pickstock proposes that signs are part of reality and that they truthfully express the real She also proposes that non identical repetition involves analogy rather than the Post structuralist combination of univocity and equivocity or of rationalism with scepticism This proposal which is happy for reality to make sense involves however a subjective decision which is to be poetically performed A wager is laid upon the possibility of a consistency which sustains the subject in continuity with the elusive consistency of nature This wager is played out in terms of a performative argument concerning the existential stances open to human beings It is concluded that the individual sustains this quest within the context of an inter subjective search for an historical consistency of culture But can ethical consistency and the harmonisation of this with an aesthetic surplus of an elsewhere invoked by the sign be achieved without a religious gesture And can this gesture avoid a tragic tension between ethical commitment and religious renunciation Pickstock suggests a Kierkegaardian re reading of the Patristic categories of recapitulation and reconstitution can reconcile this tension. The guest for the identity and consistency of the thing leads us from the subject through fiction and history and to sacred history to shape an ontology which is also a literary theory and a literary artefaction The Big Book
