Myths and Symbols in Pagan Europe Hilda Roderick Ellis Davidson, 1988 In Good Faith Scott A. Shay, 2018-09-04 Prominent atheists claim the Bible is a racist text Yet Dr Martin Luther King Jr read it daily Then again so did many ardent segregationists Some atheists claim religion serves to oppress the masses Yet the classic text of the French Revolution What is the Third Estate was written by a priest On the other hand the revolutionaries ended up banning religion What do we make of religion s confusing role in history And what of religion s relationship to science Some scientists claim that we have no free will Others argue that advances in neurobiology and physics disprove determinism As for whispering to the universe an absurd habit say the skeptics Yet prayer is a transformative practice for millions This book explores the most common atheist critiques of the Bible and religion incorporating Jewish Christian and Muslim voices The result is a fresh modern re evaluation of religion and of atheism Scott A Shay is a Co Founder and Chairman of Signature Bank and a longstanding Jewish community activist Shay started a Hebrew school an adult educational program and chaired several Jewish educational programs He is the author of Getting our Groove Back How to Energize American Jewry and has been thinking about religion reason and modernity since wondering why his parents sent him to Hebrew school

A History of European Literature Walter Cohen, 2017 Walter Cohen argues that the history of European literature and each of its standard periods can be illuminated by comparative consideration of the different literary languages within Europe and by the ties of European literature to world literature World literature is marked by recurrent systematic features outcomes of the way that language and literature are at once the products of major change and its agents Cohen tracks these features from ancient times to the present distinguishing five main overlapping stages Within that framework he shows that European literature s ongoing internal and external relationships are most visible at the level of form rather than of thematic statement or mimetic representation European literature emerges from world literature before the birth of Europe during antiquity whose Classical languages are the heirs to the complex heritage of Afro Eurasia This legacy is later transmitted by Latin to the various vernaculars The uniqueness of the process lies in the gradual displacement of the learned language by the vernacular long dominated by Romance literatures That development subsequently informs the second crucial differentiating dimension of European literature the multicontinental expansion of its languages and characteristic genres especially the novel beginning in the Renaissance This expansion ultimately results in the reintegration of European literature into world literature and thus in the creation of today

s global literary system The distinctiveness of European literature is to be found in these interrelated trajectories
